Fatima De Los Naufragios:

The Return of the Moor Daniela Flesler, 2008 With the intense economic development and accelerated modernization experienced by Spain since the 1970s and especially following its entrance to the European Economic Community in 1986 the country has undergone a rapid inversion in migratory patterns After being an exporter of economic migrants for almost a century in the last 20 years Spain has seen itself on the receiving end of immigration Coinciding with a time when Spain is highlighting its belonging to Europe the growing presence of Moroccan immigrants in particular confronts Spanish society with the repressed non European African and Oriental aspects of its national identity The Return of the Moor examines the anxiety over symbolic and literal boundaries permeating the Spanish reception of these immigrants through an interdisciplinary analysis of social fictional and performative texts It argues that Moroccans constitute a problem to Spaniards not because of their cultural differences as many claim but because they are not different enough Perceived as Moors they conjure up past ghosts that continue to haunt the Spanish imaginary revealing the acute tensions inherent to Spain's tenuous position between Europe and Africa

Fátima de los naufragios Lourdes Ortiz, 1998 Toward a Multicultural Configuration of Spain Ana Corbalán, Ellen Mayock, 2014-11-20 This volume foment exploration of how Spanish cities big and small are experiencing transformation in architecture popular customs and festivals economics family dynamics and social and political agency through the arrival of new residents from around the globe

Emigrant Dreams, Immigrant Borders Raquel Vega-Durán, 2016-09-30 Emigrant Dreams Immigrant Borders Migrants Transnational Encounters and Identity in Spain offers a new approach to the cultural history of contemporary Spain examining the ways in which Spain's own self conceptions are changing and multiplying in response to migrants from Latin America and Africa In the last twenty five years Spain has gone from being a country of net emigration to one in which immigrants make up nearly 12 percent of the population This rapid growth has made migrants increasingly visible in both mass media and in Spanish visual and literary culture This book examines the origins of media discourses on immigration and takes the analysis of contemporary Spanish culture as its primary framework while also drawing insights from sociology and history Emigrant Dreams Immigrant Borders introduces readers to a wide range of recent films journals novels photography paintings and music to reconsider contemporary Spain through its varied encounters with migrants It follows the stages of the migrant's own journey beginning outside Spanish territory continuing across the border either at the barbed wire fences of Ceuta and Melilla or the waters of the Atlantic or the Strait of Gibraltar and then considers what happens to migrants after they arrive and settle in Spain Each chapter analyzes one of these stages in order to illustrate the complexity of contemporary Spanish identity This examination of Spanish culture shows how Spain is evolving into a new space of imagination one that can no longer be defined without the migrant a space in which there is no unified identity but rather a new self understanding is being born Vega Durán both places Spain in a larger European context and draws attention to some of the features that from a comparative perspective make the Spanish case interesting and often unique She argues that Spain cannot be understood today outside the Transatlantic and Mediterranean spaces both real and imaginary where Spaniards and migrants meet Emigrant Dreams Immigrant Borders offers a timely study of present day Spain and makes an original contribution to the vibrant debates about multiculturalism and nation formation that are taking

Ex-Centric Migrations Hakim Abderrezak, 2016-06-20 Plunges the reader into a tour de force across radically divergent artistic responses to Mediterranean migration Bulletin of Francophone Postcolonial Studies Ex Centric Migrations examines cinematic literary and musical representations of migrants and migratory trends in the western Mediterranean Focusing primarily on clandestine sea crossings Hakim Abderrezak shows that despite labor and linguistic ties with the colonizer migrants from the Maghreb Morocco Algeria and Tunisia no longer systematically target France as a destination but instead aspire toward other European countries notably Spain and Italy In addition the author investigates other migratory patterns that entail the repatriation of migrants His analysis reveals that the films novels and songs of Mediterranean artists run contrary to mass media coverage and conservative political discourse bringing a nuanced vision and expert analysis to the sensationalism and biased reportage of such events as the Mediterranean maritime tragedies Ex Centric Migrations is crucial reading for scholars and students of contemporary Maghrebi French and Spanish literatures and cultures It breaks new ground by encompassing the literature film and music of return migration and examining the trajectories of Maghrebi migration outside France H France Hakim Abderrezak convincingly illustrates how politically committed artistic practices serve to humanize the challenges of human migration and in the process dramatically improves our understanding of the complex cultural economic political and social realities that shape 21st century existence Dominic Thomas author of Africa and France Postcolonial Cultures Migration and Racism

Liminal Fiction at the Edge of the Millennium Jessica A. Folkart, 2014-10-08 Liminal Fiction at the Edge of the Millennium The Ends of Spanish Identity investigates the predominant perception of liminality identity situated at a threshold neither one thing nor another but simultaneously both and neither caused by encounters with otherness while negotiating identity in contemporary Spain Examining how identity and alterity are parleyed through the cultural concerns of historical memory gender roles sex religion nationalism and immigration this study demonstrates how fictional representations of reality converge in a common structure wherein the end is not the end but rather an edge a liminal ground On the border between two identities the end materializes as an ephemeral limit that delineates and differentiates yet also adjoins and approximates In exploring the ends of Spanish fiction both their structure and their intentionality Liminal Fiction maps the edge as a constitutive component of narrative and identity in texts by Najat El Hachmi Cristina Fernández Cubas Javier Marías Rosa Montero and Manuel Rivas In their representation of identity on the edge these fictions enact and embody the liminal not as simply a transitional and transient mode but as the structuring principle of identification in contemporary Spain

Resisting Invisibility Diana Aramburu, 2019-05-17 Engaging with pre feminist and male authored crime literature Resisting Invisibility offers a comparative reading of women's bodies as represented in Spanish crime literature from the mid nineteenth century to the present Utilizing the twin concepts of visibility and invisibility the book establishes a genealogy of differing viewpoints regarding women's positions in these narratives before and after the birth of the modern Spanish female detective This examination of the politics of female visibility expands our understanding of the aesthetic regimes that have governed the female body from the early phases of the genre's evolution While most scholars understand the feminization of the crime genre as a response to second wave feminism Resisting Invisibility demonstrates that even in the earliest representations of delinquent women the politics surrounding the female body are problematized and are more complex than previously conceptualized Drawing on gender and queer studies Resisting Invisibility investigates the gendering of crime fiction forcing us to reconsider the literary history of female visibility and prompting us to establish an alternative genealogy for Spanish crime literature Eso no estaba en mi libro de historia de los faros Mario Sanz Cruz, 2020-04-13 Testigos de abordajes de batallas navales de barcos hundidos de pescadores perdidos en la bruma Los faros son los grandes desconocidos costeros Este es un viaje colosal por las grandes luminarias que conectan el mar con los puertos y costas Los faros forman parte de la historia de nuestro mundo Desde la antigüedad sus destellos han sido un recordatorio constante de la fuerza de la naturaleza y de la fragilidad del hombre que en su empeño por dominarla los fabrica para guiar a los marineros en su cruenta lucha contra el oleaje Estos centinelas solitarios llevan siglos proyectando consuelo a las tripulaciones y son salvavidas costeros que immortalizan nuestra historia de amor con el mar al tiempo que nos alertan de sus peligros Erigidos sobre una torre que en ocasiones adquiere carácter de atalaya son garantía de seguridad y compañía que luce para cualquier embarcación sin importarle su nacionalidad ni sus circunstancias económicas políticas religiosas o sociales Su luminaria ha sido vigía de los marineros en la oscuridad su esperanza en las tormentas y la caricia incandescente que les acercaba a las costas Han sido testigo de abordajes del retorno de los pescadores a casa del hundimiento de buques magníficos y de marineros engullidos por las fauces saladas También de emigrantes que huyen de la pobreza y de flotas de guerra que han arrasado países o se han destruido entre ellas Los fareros han salvado naufragos con sus propias manos y los han alojado en sus casas han sufrido todo tipo de desastres meteorológicos han pasado hambre frío y miedo Personas anónimas que a veces han sido héroes otras simples trabajadores y de vez en cuando personajes Trabajadores en situaciones extremas que ha dejado su huella entre los destellos y que no merecen quedar en el olvido Todos los faros son diferentes pero en el fondo todos son iguales Este libro es un homenaje a una profesión abocada a la extinción que nació con el primer fuego que se hizo en una costa tal y como Homero relata en su Odisea para guiar a los navegantes En sus páginas conoceremos la historia de las luminarias más representativas de la historia al tiempo que reivindica la conservación de los faros como edificios históricos singulares e inspiradores repasando los más emblemáticos de toda la historia No en vano uno de los últimos fareros españoles es el autor de estas páginas Africans in Europe Michael Ugarte, 2010 What differentiates emigration from exile This book delves theoretically and practically into this core question of population movements Tracing the shifts of Africans into and out of Equatorial Guinea it explores a small former Spanish colony in central Africa Throughout its history many inhabitants of Equatorial Guinea were forced to leave whether because of the slave trade of the early nineteenth century or the political upheavals of the twentieth century Michael Ugarte examines the writings of Equatorial Guinean exiles and migrants considering the underlying causes of such moves and arguing that the example of Equatorial Guinea is emblematic of broader dynamics of cultural exchange in a postcolonial world Based on personal stories of people forced to leave and those who left of their own accord Africans in Europe captures the nuanced realities and widespread impact of mobile populations Ugarte illustrates the global material inequalities that occur when groups and populations migrate from their native land of colonization to other countries and regions that are often the lands of the former colonizers By focusing on the geographical emotional and intellectual dynamics of Equatorial Guinea s human movements readers gain an inroad to the consciousness of an age and an understanding of the global realities that will define the cultural economic and political currents of the twenty first century Revista Canadiense de Estudios Hispánicos ,2006
