Human Performance and Productivity Marvin D. Dunnette, Edwin A. Fleishman, 2014-01-14 These volumes represent a concerted attempt to link what is known from human performance research to recognized national needs for improving productivity The product of a National Science Foundation project directed by the series editor the set features authoritative reviews by leading psychologists in the field The volumes cover many areas of human performance not included in other books Teacher Thinking Twenty Years on Pam M. Denicolo, Michael Kompf, 2005-08-04 The papers from the first two International Study Association on Teachers and Teaching conferences are presented in this title as book chapters Each paper has historical value marking as they do both a change in topic focus and a revolution in research practice They also have a practical value in that they provide a large reference source for and a wide range of examples of both topics and methods of research Value for the future can be found in the texts that note lacunae in research and unresolved issues Further since the chapters derive from research conducted in a variety of national contexts revealing some evidence of common constraints and opportunities impinging on education at the time questions are stimulated about what has changed and what has stayed the same in the interim Routledge Library Editions: Education Mini-Set E: Educational Psychology 10 vol set Various, 2021-12-02 Mini set E Educational Psychology re issues 10 volumes originally published between 1937 and 1991 and examines the impact psychology and cognitive science has had on education and teaching practice during the twentieth century Classroom Environment (RLE Edu O) Barry Fraser, 2012-06-14 The increasing impact of performance based judgments on schools and teachers in the classroom has its critics and supporters Some oppose the trend and seek to deny the importance of quantitative measures Others have sought to find ways of implementing educational measurement constructively and with understanding of the concerns Classrooms are where the operational business of learning takes place and it is on the quality of life within the classroom that the broader process of learning concerns for the wider community and others is nurtured The climate of the classroom has a large impact on the final outcome measure to which so much interest is directed To help our understanding of the dynamics involved much work has been done in the development and refinement of quantitative studies to this area by studying essential information about how teachers and students perceive the environments in which the work Research on classroom climates has reached a practical and theoretical maturity and this volume offers an account of the developments that have taken place and the potential for understanding the classroom as a vital component of the curriculum This book will also be an essential resource tool for anyone engaged in classroom research An Introduction to Educational Psychology M. Asch, 2005 Towards a Rational Philosophical Anthropology J. Agassi, 2012-12-06 The thesis of the present volume is critical and dual 1 Present day philosophy of man and sciences of man suffer from the Greek mis taken polarization of everything human into nature and convention which is allegedly good and evil which is allegedly truth and falsity which is allegedly rationality and irrationality to wit the polarization of all fields of inquiry the natural and social sciences as well as ethics and all technology whether natural or social into the totally positive and the totally negative 2 Almost all philosophy and sciences of man share the erroneous work ethic which is the myth of man's evil nature the myth of the beast in man the doctrine of original sin To mediate or to compromise between the first view of human nature as good with the second view of it as evil sociologists have devised a modified utilitarianism with deferred gratification so called and the theory of the evil of artificial competition capitalist and socialist alike and of keeping up with the Joneses Now the mediation is not necessary For the polarization makes for abstract errors which are simplistic views of rationality such as reductionism and positivism of all sorts as well as for concrete errors such as the disposition to condemn repeatedly those human weaknesses which are inevitable namely man's inability to be perfectly rational avoid all error etc thus setting man against himself as all too wicked

Supervision in Clinical Practice Joyce Scaife, 2013-12-19 Since the publication of the first edition of this book supervision has become of even greater significance in health education and social care settings with continuing pace in the trend towards mandatory registration managed care and clinical governance This fully updated and expanded edition includes new chapters on issues of diversity and the managerial role of the supervisor in context Packed with practical examples in the key areas of personal and professional development Joyce Scaife and her contributors draw on three decades of clinical experience to explore frequently encountered dilemmas including how supervisors facilitate learning the ethical bases of supervision creating and maintaining a good working alliance how supervisors can balance management and supervision roles working equitably in an increasingly diverse and pluralistic world Supervision in Clinical Practice offers a range of suggestions for providing supervision that are stimulating creative and fun using methods that ensure safe and open practice It is an indispensable text for supervisors and supervisees who practice clinically in a range of professions including applied psychology counselling psychotherapy psychiatry nursing and social work

Learning in Adulthood Sharan B. Merriam, Rosemary S. Caffarella, Lisa M. Baumgartner, 2012-03-21 In this updated landmark book the authors have gathered the seminal work and most current thinking on adult learning into one volume Learning in Adulthood addresses a wide range of topics including Who are adult learners How do adults learn Why are adults involved in learning activities How does the social context shape the learning that adults are engaged in How does aging affect learning ability

Psychology for the Classroom Johanna Turner, 2017-09-14 Originally published in 1977 Psychology for the Classroom is offered as an aid to people who are learning themselves and helping other people to learn that is to parents students and particularly to teachers The activity of teaching to be successful requires the teacher to understand the behaviour of the learner as fully as possible Some of the insights into human behaviour gained by psychologists may prove helpful to the teacher in complementing his or her experience and intuitive understanding and it is with this in mind that the topics covered in this book have been selected. Section one deals with cognitive aspects, an understanding of which is essential since cognitive processes are the means by which individuals are able to make sense of their environment. Section two considers the social situation in which knowledge and understanding develop, i.e. the way in which social interaction affects learning. Section three focuses on the individual, stressing that academic achievement depends not only on hard work but is intimately related to an individual's personal development and personality. The book will be valuable to psychology students, student teachers and teachers on in-service courses for its coverage of relevant psychological research and the description of pertinent experiments and studies of the time. Its originality lies in the way in which it communicates the importance of teachers using psychology as a basis for forming hypotheses which they can test for themselves not necessarily as researchers but in a mood of personal exploration.

Supervision in the Mental Health Professions Joyce Scaife, 2003-08-29. Supervision is of increasing significance in the practice of mental health professionals especially since the advent of voluntary and mandatory registration, managed care and clinical governance. Little, however, has been written to address the practical and theoretical needs and questions of those involved. In Supervision in the Mental Health Professions Joyce Scaife, along with her guest contributors, draws on over two decades of experience to illustrate ways of thinking about and doing supervision. Using practical examples, she explores often encountered dilemmas including: How can supervisors facilitate learning? What are the ethical bases of supervision? What helps to create a good working alliance? This comprehensive practical and indispensable text is vital reading for supervisors and supervisees involved in mental health care including clinical psychology, counselling, psychotherapy, counselling psychology, psychiatry, nursing and social work.
