justice His answer is that contemporary theories of justice cannot explain the relationship of justice and morality more broadly conceived As this is also the relationship that a theory of punishment needs to explain it is in examining the problem of punishment that the limitations of contemporary theories of justice are most starkly exposed Moreover the limitations are such as to undermine these accounts of justice The claim is that it is through the discussion of punishment that the inadequacies of contemporary theories of justice is demonstrated and it is therefore through the discussion of punishment that those inadequacies can be rectified Matravers argues for a genuinely constructivist account of morality constructivist in that it rejects any idea of objective mind independent moral values and seeks instead to construct morality from non moral human concerns and human wills and genuinely constructivist in that in contrast to the faux constructivism of Rawls and cognate approaches it does not take as a premise the equal moral worth of persons He argues that a genuine constructivism will show the need for and justification of punishment as intrinsic to morality itself Sport Education Peter

Hastie,2011-09-08 Sport Education International Perspectives presents a series of studies of the innovative pedagogical model that has taken the physical education world by storm Since the emergence of the Sport Education model in the mid 1990s it has been adopted and adapted in physical education programs around the world and a new research literature has followed in its wake With contributions from leading international scholars and practitioners from the US Europe and Asia this book offers a more thoughtful and critical set of perspectives on Sport Education than any other It is essential reading for any student pre service teacher classroom teacher or university instructor working in SE PE youth sport sports coaching or related disciplines Special List ,1968 The Politics of Dissensus Anna Björk ,Elena García Guitián ,Taru Haapala

Parliament in Debate is the outcome of an international team of contributors coordinated by two ongoing research projects relying on a long lasting international cooperation namely the Academy of Finland project The Politics of Dissensus and the Spanish National Research Fund projects The Rhetorics of Democracy and The Civic Constellation Becoming a Sport, Exercise, and Performance Psychology Professional J. Gualberto Cremades, Lauren S. When a government in a democracy acts in our name are we as citizens responsible for those acts What if the government commits a moral crime The protestor s slogan Not in our name testifies to the need to separate ourselves from the wrongs of our leaders Yet the idea that individual citizens might bear a special responsibility for political wrongdoing is deeply puzzling for ordinary morality and leading theories of democracy In Our Name explains how citizens may be morally exposed to the failures of their representatives and state institutions and how complicity is the professional hazard of democratic citizenship Confronting the ethical challenges that citizens are faced with in a self governing democracy Eric Beerbohm proposes institutional remedies for dealing with them Beerbohm questions prevailing theories of democracy for failing to account for our dual position as both citizens and subjects Showing that the obligation to participate in the democratic process is even greater when we risk serving as accomplices to wrongdoing Beerbohm argues for a distinctive division of labor between citizens and their representatives that charges lawmakers with the responsibility of incorporating their constituents moral principles into their reasoning about policy Grappling with the practical issues of democratic decision making In Our Name engages with political science law and psychology to envision mechanisms for citizens seeking to avoid democratic complicity

An Instrumentalist Theory of Political Legitimacy Matthias Brinkmann, 2024-08-08 What justifies political power Most philosophers argue that consent or democracy are important in other words it matters how power is exercised But this book argues that outcomes primarily matter to justifying power Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section
