Feiman-Nemser, Cheryl Rosaen, 1995 Best Practices in Mentoring for Teacher and Leader Development Linda J. Searby, Susan K. Brondyk, 2015-10-01 Mentoring in educational contexts has become a rapidly growing field of study both in the United States and internationally Fletcher Kappa Delta Pi Presidential Commissioner This volume Best Practices in Mentoring for Teacher and Leader Development forwards principles of effective mentoring including the role and importance of talk in mentoring using tools that make mentoring talk more purposeful analyzing practice involving mentors in opportunities to share their practice providing space for mentees to have a voice in mentoring conversations and promoting learning at all levels as part of instructional leadership in schools Much research is still needed to build a sense of urgency that mentoring can matter and ideas promoted within this book can contribute to this important conversation Randi Nevins Stanulis Professor Department of Teacher Education Michigan State University and Director of Launch into Teaching This book is a huge first step in a field where best practices have not yet been agreed upon and it is sure to be a leading voice in research on teacher and principal mentoring As such this book helps to bring together a variety of beliefs evidence and practices in teacher and principal mentoring and gives a clear pathway for others trying to establish best practices in their mentoring fields For those in the K 12 fields and in all mentoring practices this is a thought provoking must read Nora Domiguez International Mentoring Association President and CEO \(Re\)Designing Programs: Jennifer Jacobs, Rebecca West Burns, 2021-04-01 Given the increasing diversity of the United States and students entering schools the value of teacher learning in clinical contexts and the need to elevate the profession national organizations have been calling for a re envisioning of teacher preparation that turns teacher education upside down This change will require PK 12 schools and universities to partner in robust ways to create strong professional learning experiences for aspiring teachers University faculty in particular will not only need to work in schools but they will need to work with schools in the preparation of future teachers This collaboration should promote greater equity and justice for our nation s students The purpose of this book is to support individuals in designing clinically based teacher preparation programs that place equity at the core Drawing from the literature as well as our experiences in designing and coordinating award winning teacher education programs we offer a vision for equity centered clinically based preparation that promotes powerful teacher professional learning and develops high quality equity centered teachers for schools The chapter topics include policy guidelines partnerships intentional clinical experiences coherence curriculum and coursework university based teacher educators school based teacher educators teacher candidate supervision and evaluation the role of research and instructional leadership in teacher preparation While the concepts we share are research based and grounded in the empirical literature our primary intention is for this book to be of practical use We hope that by the time you finish reading you will feel inspired and equipped to make change within your own program your institution and your local context We begin each chapter with a Before You Read section that includes introductory activities or self assessment questions to prompt reflection about the current state of your teacher preparation program We also weave examples a Spotlight from Practice in the form of vignettes designed to spark your thinking for program improvement Finally we conclude each chapter with a section called Exercises for Action which are questions or activities to help you re imagine and move toward action in the re design of your teacher preparation program We hope that you will use the exercises by yourself but perhaps more importantly with others to stimulate conversations about how you can build upon what you are already doing well to make your program even better Praise for Re Designing Programs A Vision for Equity Centered Clinically Based Teacher Preparation Jennifer Jacobs and Rebecca West Burns book Re Designing Programs A Vision for Equity Centered Clinically Based Teacher Preparation is a must read for all teacher educators especially those involved in the creation and or direction of clinically based teacher education programs Their text provides a roadmap for higher education and school based teacher educators to collaboratively design a program that prepares teachers to meet the needs of future students They not only redefine the terms and language we use within clinical practice programs but also encourage us to reflect upon how teachers should be prepared in an equity centered clinically based teacher education program Their text deserves to be on the book shelves of all teacher educators D John McIntyre

Resources in Education ,2001 Better Supervision better Teaching Philip Stimpson,Francis Lopez-Real,David Bunton,Dennis Wai-Keung Chan,Atara Sivan,Michael Williams,2000-05-01 This handbook is designed for those involved in teacher education and the supervision of practical teaching It will be useful for university tutors on teacher education programmes and mentors in schools as well as senior staff in schools who are involved in appraisal and evaluation It is intended to meet the growing need for an accessible jargon free discussion of supervision conferencing that is based on practice and the viewpoints of both supervisors and those supervised rather than just theory This user friendly handbook

could be used as the basis of workshops for in service training of supervisors However it is also designed as a readable self help introduction to the subject for the many practising tutors for whom the supervision of teaching practice is a part of their everyday professional life The handbook sets out to answer two main questions What is the role and context of supervisory conferencing How to tackle topics that are often difficult to discuss

Designing Performance Assessment Systems for Urban Teacher Preparation Francine P. Peterman, 2005-05-06 Designing Performance Assessment Systems for Urban Teacher Preparation presents an argument for and invites critical examination of teacher preparation and assessment practices in light of both the complexity and demands of urban settings and the theories of learning and learning to teach that guide teacher education practices This dynamic approach distinguishes the authors stance on urban teacher assessment as one that can help address social justice issues related to gender race socioeconomic class and other differences and at the same time promote the professional development of all educators engaged in the process of learning to teach The contextually bound sociocultural stance that informs this book promises greater teacher and student achievement Culminating six years of vital dialogue and focused local activity among teachers and teacher educators from institutions in the Urban Network to Improve Teacher Education Designing Performance Assessment Systems for Urban Teacher Preparation presents the historical context that was examined for this work a theoretical framework to undergrad teacher preparation assessment and design principles to guide the development of assessment systems four case studies of participants struggles and successes in designing and implementing these systems and a discussion of the importance of context and current trends in assessment practices in urban teaching This volume is particularly relevant for university and school based teacher educators who help prepare teachers to work in urban schools and for personnel in state departments of education and other agencies who are responsible for certification and beginning teacher support While the focus is on preparing teachers for urban settings the theoretical and practical foundations and the case studies have broad implications and provide useful insights for anyone involved in developing and using performance assessment systems teacher educators university and school administrators classroom teachers and educational researchers

Never Give Up Sharon A. Schwille, 2016-04-01 Never Give Up is an amazing true story It is a case study of an experienced elementary school teacher who was motivated to change her teaching practices from teacher centered transmission approaches to student centered transformational approaches in the context of a Professional Development School You would think she would have accomplished her goal with support from the PDS participants in a year or two Instead she spent seven years encountering struggles set backs and occasionally small triumphs until she achieved bone deep change in her teaching practices What was she aiming for and why did it take so long How did she finally achieve her goals This book is about her journey of change On one level this is a story of a teacher as she struggles to change her teaching practice in ways that center on children s learning rather than on teacher centered rote learning On a deeper level it is a look at how innovative reform movements and wellmeaning professional development efforts fall short of bringing about deep seated change in teaching methods It raises weighty questions such as how teacher preparation programs should begin the process of instilling habits of exploration experimentation research and learning in their pre service teachers so that they continuously work at updating and upgrading their teaching practices It is a message to curriculum developers policy makers and the public at large that lasting teacher professional development takes more time and support than the more immediate workshop approaches It raises many questions about how teachers learn and how they can keep their practices fresh and innovative throughout their careers A study guide designed to elicit deep thought and discussion of the many issues raised by this story accompanies the book The book and study guide are a valuable supplemental text for courses addressing teacher learning professional development workplace learning teacher change constructivist teaching practices mentoring educational administration and educational policy The study guide is also a tool to stimulate discussion among groups of readers such as pre service and practicing teachers school and district administrators educational policy makers and the public at large who are interested in educational reform
