Yes he was drunk Charlie Harmon was hired to manage the day-to-day parts of Bernstein's life There was one additional responsibility: make sure Bernstein met the deadline for an opera commission But things kept getting in the way the centenary of Igor Stravinsky's intestinal parasites picked up in Mexico, teaching all summer in Los Angeles, a baker's dozen of young men, plus depression, exhaustion, insomnia and cut-throat games of anagrams Did the opera get written For four years Charlie saw Bernstein every day as his social director gatekeeper valet music copyist and itinerant orchestra librarian He packed and unpacked Bernstein's umpteen pieces of luggage got the Maestro to his concerts kept him occupied changing planes in Zurich Anchorage Tokyo or Madrid and learned how to make small talk with mayors ambassadors a chancellor a queen and a Hollywood legend or two How could anyone absorb all those people and places Because there was music late night piano duets or the Maestro's command to accompany an audition or by the way the greatest orchestras in the world Charlie did it and this is what it was like told for the first time Heaven's Hammers Steve Fillerup, 2014-05 This memoir begins on the reservation of the White Mountain Apaches in Arizona when a tribal police officer is laid to rest after being assaulted and murdered by two suspected burglars The book concludes with the author's interrogation of a routine suspect in the case of a five year old girl who has gone missing for a week In between these events the author describes his career journey as an FBI special agent a journey that sometimes produces success and vindication for crime victims and sadly investigations ending in failure The author a rather sheltered son of religious parents navigates a troubled world of darkness crime and sin Outing, 1898 The Academy and Literature, 1887 Industrial Evolution Mick Fish, 2002 Garbage collection drum machines big business male mascara militant unions and drugs The ultimate eighties cocktail Burroughs Unbound S. E. Gontarski, 2021-11-18 In addition to contributing significantly to the growing field of Burroughs scholarship Burroughs Unbound also directly engages with the growing fields of textual studies archival research and genetic criticism asking crucial questions thereby about the nature of archives and their relationship to a writer's work These questions about the archive concern not only the literary medium In the 1960s and 1970s Burroughs collaborated with filmmakers sound technicians and musicians who helped re-contextualized his writings in other media Burroughs Unbound examines these collaborations and explores how such multiple authorship complicates the authority of the archive as a final or complete repository of an author's work It takes Burroughs seriously as a radical theorist and practitioner who critiqued drug laws sexual practice censorship and what we today call a society of control More broadly his work continues to challenge our common assumptions about language authorship textual stability and the archive in its broadest definition British Music Videos 1966 - 2016 Emily Caston, 2020-07-31 Based on new archival evidence and interviews and setting out a new theoretical framework for music video analysis Emily Caston presents a major new analysis of music videos from 1966-2016 identifying not only their distinctive British traits but their parallels with British film genres and styles By analysing the genre craft and authorial voice of music video within the context of film and popular music the book sheds new light on existing theoretical and historical questions about audiences authorship art and the creative industries Far from being an American cultural form the book reveals music video's roots in British and European film traditions and suggests significant ways in which British video has impacted popular film and music culture
