Julia Kristeva And Literary Theory:

Julia Kristeva and Literary Theory Megan Becker-Leckrone, 2017-09-16 Engaged debate among feminist political and psychoanalytic thinkers has secured Julia Kristeva's status as one of the most formidable figures in twentieth century critical theory. Nevertheless her precise relevance to the study of literature the extent to which her theory is specifically a literary theory can be hard for new readers to fathom. This approachable volume explores Kristeva's definition of literature her methods for analyzing it and the theoretical ground on which those endeavors are based. Megan Becker Leckrone argues that Kristeva's signature concepts such as abjection and intertextuality lose much of their force when readers extract them from the specific complex theoretical context in which Kristeva produces them. Early chapters situate her theory in a broader conversation with Roland Barthes Sigmund Freud Jacques Lacan and others around the issues of reading textuality and subjectivity. Subsequent chapters look at Kristeva's actual engagements with literary texts specifically her challenging highly performative reading of French novelist Louis Ferdinand Celine in Powers of Horror: An Essay on Abjection and her career long preoccupation with James Joyce. A final chapter of the book looks at the way contemporary literary critics have marshaled her ideas in re-reading the poetry of William Wordsworth while a helpful glossary identifies Kristeva's most pertinently literary theoretical concepts by way of synopses of the texts in which she presents them. Julia Kristeva Noelle McAfee, 2004-03 A clear introduction to Kristeva examining her work on language and textuality subjectivity feminism and sexuality politics identity and nationality. Kristeva's Fiction Benigno Trigo, 2013-11-01 Psychoanalytic perspectives on Kristeva's fiction. Revolution in Poetic Language Julia Kristeva, 2024-02-20 In Revolution in Poetic Language Julia Kristeva explicates her foundational distinction between the semiotic and the symbolic and explores their interrelationships. Linking the psychosomatic to the literary and the literary to a larger political horizon she questions the premises of linguistic psychoanalytic philosophical and literary theories. Abjection, Melancholia, and Love John Fletcher, Andrew Benjamin, 2012 Julia Kristeva's blend of the literary with the psychoanalytic places her work central to current thinking from semiotics and critical theory to feminism and psychoanalysis. Her profound understanding of the dynamics of intention and creativity mark her out as one of the leading theoreticians of desire. Each essay in this volume offers new insight into the many aspects that make up Kristeva's thought ranging from her analyses of sexual difference female temporality and the perceptions of the body to the mental states of abjection and melancholia and their representation in painting and literature. Julia Kristeva Joan Nordquist, 1989 A bibliography of books and articles by and about Julia Kristeva. The Subject in Process Christina Olthmann, 1998. The Kristeva Reader Julia Kristeva, 1986 An easily accessible introduction to Kristeva's work in English. The essays have been selected as representative of the three main areas of Kristeva's writing: semiotics psychoanalysis and political theory and are each prefaced by a clear instructive introduction. For beginners or those familiar with Kristeva's work this is a good complement to The Portable Kristeva with a convenient selection of articles from Kristeva's earlier work some
