BOOK JACKET The Personal Communication Process John R. Wenburg, William R. Wilmot, William W. Wilmot, 1982

Inner Speech - L2 Maria C.M. de Guerrero, 2006-03-30 According to Vygotsky 1986 The decreasing vocalization of egocentric speech denotes a developing abstraction from sound the child's new faculty to think words instead of pronouncing them This is the positive meaning of the sinking coefficient of egocentric speech The downward curve indicates development toward inner speech p 230 The purpose of this volume is to explore the faculty to think words not as the ability to mentally evoke words in the native or first language L1 but as the faculty 1 to conjure up in the mind words in a second language L2 To think words rather than to pronounce them is possible through inner speech a function that humans develop in the course of childhood as they internalize the speech of the social group among which they grow This means internalizing and being able to conduct inner speech in a particular linguistic code the L1 But humans at a very early or more mature age may also come into contact and interact verbally with speakers of other languages in classrooms or natural settings The possibility thus emerges of internalizing an L2 in such a way that inner speech in the L2 might evolve In this book it is argued that given certain conditions of L2 learning it is possible for learners to attain inner speech in the L2 This book examines the distinctive nature of L2 inner speech and the processes that engender it and characterize its development

Communication in Construction Andrew Dainty, David Moore, Michael Murray, 2007-01-24 Communication within project based environments presents special challenges This is especially true within the construction industry where interaction tends to be characterised by unfamiliar groups of people coming together for short periods before disbanding to work on other endeavours This book examines communication at a number of levels ranging from interpersonal interactions between project participants to corporate communication between organizations Several non typical perspectives on the process of communication are introduced to encourage the reader to think about communication in a more innovative manner The combination of differing perspectives illustrates the diversity of communication problems facing those working within project based environments Practical guidance is provided on possible solutions to communication problems and a number of examples and case studies are presented

Case Studies in

Interpersonal Communication Dawn O. Braithwaite, Julia T. Wood, 2000 The many narrative cases in this book offer dramatic real life snapshots of interpersonal theory in action Written by established communication scholars and reflecting carefully conducted research each case helps you apply abstract principles to specific situations people and relationships As you read these cases you ll also learn to appreciate how multiple communication dynamics work together to shape what happens in human interactions for example how a case focusing on self disclosure also gives you insights into such issues as timing context and style of communication And as you identify patterns revealed in the cases you ll develop the ability to detect these patterns in your own interactions and ultimately make more informed choices about which patterns to foster and avoid in your interpersonal relationships
