surprisingly rare. However the managers in different branches of industry feel that the holonic and agent based systems represent the only way of managing and controlling very complex highly distributed systems exploring vast volumes of accumulated knowledge. The relevant research and development activities gain more and more visible support from both industry as well as public sectors. Quite naturally the number of scientific events aimed at the subject field is also growing rapidly. We see new lines of conferences like INDIN, we observe a strong focus of the already well established conferences e.g. INCOM or ETFA being shifted toward holonic and agent based manufacturing systems. We see an increased interest of the IEEE System Man and Cybernetics Society especially its Technical Committee on Distributed Intelligent Systems which leverages the experience gathered by the members of the former Holonic Manufacturing Systems HMS consortium. We see a clear orientation of the IEEE SMC Transactions part C toward applications of agent oriented solutions. The same is true of the International Journal on Autonomous Agents and Multi Agent Systems JAAMAS. This is a really good sign of the increasing importance of the field.

Chadwick, Gansen Zhao, 2005-11-15. This book contains the proceedings of the 2nd EuroPKI Workshop EuroPKI 2005 held at the University of Kent in the city of Canterbury UK 30 June 1 July 2005. The workshop was informal and lively and the university setting encouraged active exchanges between the speakers and the audience.

The workshop program comprised a keynote speech from Dr Carlisle Adams followed by 18 refereed papers with a workshop dinner in and guided tour around the historic Dover Castle. Dr Adams is well known for his contributions to the CAST family of symmetric encryption algorithms to international standards from the IETF, ISO and OASIS, authorship of over 30 refereed journals and conference papers and co authorship of Understanding PKI: Concepts, Standards and Deployment Considerations Addison Wesley. Dr Adams keynote speech was entitled PKI Views from the Dispassionate in which he presented his thoughts on why PKI has been available as an authentication technology for many years now but has only enjoyed large scale success in fairly limited contexts to date. He also presented his thoughts on the possible future of this technology with emphasis on the major factors hindering adoption and some potential directions for future research in these areas. In response to the Call for Papers 43 workshop papers were submitted in total. All papers were blind reviewed by at least two members of the Program Committee, the majority having 3 reviewers with a few borderline papers having 4 or more reviewers. 18 papers were accepted for presentation in 8 sessions.

Agile and Lean Service-Oriented Development: Foundations, Theory, and Practice Wang, Xiaofeng, Ali, Nour, Ramos, Isidro, Vidgen, Richard, 2012-11-30. Challenges in unpredictable markets, changing customer requirements and advancing information technologies have led to progression towards service oriented engineering and agile and lean software development These prevailing approaches to software systems provide solutions to challenges in demanding business environments Agile and Lean Service Oriented Development Foundations Theory and Practice explores the groundwork of service oriented and agile and lean development and the conceptual basis and experimental evidences for the combination of the two approaches Highlighting the best tools and guidelines for these developments in practice this book is essential for researchers and practitioners in the software development and service computing fields Evolving Software Processes Arif Ali Khan,Dac-Nhuong Le,2022-02-23

EVOLVING SOFTWARE PROCESSES The book provides basic building blocks of evolution in software processes such as DevOps scaling agile process in GSD in order to lay a solid foundation for successful and sustainable future processes One might argue that there are already many books that include descriptions of software processes The answer is yes but Becoming acquainted with existing software processes is not enough It is tremendously important to understand the evolution and advancement in software processes so that developers appropriately address the problems applications and environments to which they are applied Providing basic knowledge for these important tasks is the main goal of this book Industry is in search of software process management capabilities The emergence of the COVID 19 pandemic emphasizes the industry s need for software specific process management capabilities Most of today s products and services are based to a significant degree on software and are the results of largescale development programs The success of such programs heavily depends on process management capabilities because they typically require the coordination of hundreds or thousands of developers across different disciplines Additionally software and system development are usually distributed across geographical cultural and temporal boundaries which make the process management activities more challenging in the current pandemic situation This book presents an extremely comprehensive overview of the evolution in software processes and provides a platform for practitioners researchers and students to discuss the studies used for managing aspects of the software process including managerial organizational economic and technical It provides an opportunity to present empirical evidence as well as proposes new techniques tools frameworks and approaches to maximize the significance of software process management Audience The book will be used by practitioners researchers software engineers and those in software process management DevOps agile and global software development
