Albert Schweitzer said, "All the problems of religion ultimately go back to the one — the experience I have of God within myself differs from knowledge concerning Him which I derive from the world . . . In the world He is impersonal Force ; within me, He reveals Himself as Personality".

*In his earlier books, Dr. Crookall deals with the most important of psychical experiences, namely, out-of-the-body experiences, popularly called astral projections (see, for example, his Intimations of Immortality, James Clarke & Co. Ltd., 1965). They were shown to be natural and normal to mankind.*

This work is concerned with cosmic and mystical experiences, the "highest" and most significant of which we are capable. These also are natural and normal to mankind.

In the First Part, a large number of experiences of at-one-ment are assembled and classified, preparatory to a consideration of their incidence and nature. Some people have felt at-one with inanimate objects, others with animate objects (nature), still others with people, and many with God. These various groups are shown to overlap — there is, in fact, a complete and unbroken spectrum beginning with minerals and ending with God. It is clear that at-one-ment with God is not, as some writers have supposed, essentially distinct from at-one-ment with nature. On the basis of the facts (of experience) adduced, the author agrees with Dr. Rayner Johnson and the Revd. Sidney Spencer: the latter concluded, " 'Cosmic consciousness' is the natural complement of the experience of union with God".

The Second Part of the book deals with descriptions of at-one-ment that have hitherto been entirely neglected by writers on this important subject, namely, those of "communicators" — the supposed dead.

It is seldom possible to determine the status of a given "communicator" — whether he is a "split" from the mind of the medium concerned or, as he usually claims, a personality who has survived the

Interpretation Of Cosmic And Mystical Experiences:

The Interpretation of Cosmic and Mystical Experiences Robert Crookall, 1969 Albert Schweitzer said All the problems of religion ultimately go back to the one the experience I have of God within myself differs from knowledge concerning Him which I derive from the world In the world He is impersonal force within me He reveals Himself as Personality In his earlier books Dr Crookall dealt with the most important of psychical experiences namely out of the body experiences popularly called astral projections These are he says natural and normal to mankind This work is concerned with cosmic and mystical experiences the highest and most significant of which we are capable These are also natural and normal to mankind In the First Part a large number of experiences of at one ment are assembled and classified preparatory to a consideration of their incidence and nature Some people have at one with inanimate objects others with animate objects nature still others with people and many with God These various groups are shown to overlap there is says Crookall a complete and unbroken spectrum beginning with minerals and ending with God It is clear that at one ment with God is not as some writers have supposed essentially distinct from at one ment with nature On the basis of this the author agrees with Dr Raynor Johnson and the Revd Sidney Spencer the latter concluded Cosmic consciousness is the natural complement of the experience of union with God The Second Part of the book deals with descriptions of at one ment that have hitherto been entirely neglected by writers on this important subject namely those of communicators the supposed dead Some supposed dead communicators are shown to describe at one ment with inanimate objects others with nature with people and still others with God Again these groups overlap to form an unbroken spectrum of experience as in the experiences of the living a strong suggestion of surviving souls In point of fact Crookall notes that mystical experiences seem to be more frequent among the dead than the living This of course might have been expected Human mystical experiences are here considered for the first time in relation to the correlation suggested in the author s first book Purpose in the Universe Tim Mulgan, 2015-10-22 Two familiar worldviews dominate Western philosophy materialist atheism and the benevolent God of the Abrahamic faiths Tim Mulgan explores a third way Ananthropocentric Purposivism claims that there is a cosmic purpose but human beings are irrelevant to it Purpose in the Universe develops a philosophical case for Ananthropocentric Purposivism that it is at least as strong as the case for either theism or atheism The book borrows traditional theist arguments to defend a cosmic purpose These include cosmological teleological ontological meta ethical and mystical arguments It then borrows traditional atheist arguments to reject a human centred purpose These include arguments based on evil diversity and the scale of the universe Mulgan also highlights connections between morality and metaphysics arguing that evaluative premises play a crucial and underappreciated role in metaphysical debates about the existence of God and Ananthropocentric Purposivism mutually supports an austere consequentialist morality based on objective values He concludes that by drawing on a range of secular and religious ethical traditions a non human centred cosmic purpose can ground a distinctive human morality Our moral practices our view of the moral universe and our moral theory are all transformed if we shift from the familiar choice between a universe without meaning and a universe where humans matter to the less self aggrandising thought that while it is about something the universe is not about us

The Intersubjectivity of the Mystic Mary Frohlich, 1993 In the popular mind the mystic is seen as the supreme solitary This image if accurate would make the mystical quest marginal in an era when much theology has emphasized socially responsible praxis Against the popular image Mary Frohlich develops a theological model based on the writings of Bernard Lonergan and the self psychology of Heinz Kohut that both respects mysticism's irreducible character and shows how it concretely transforms people and systems She then applies this model to an interpretation of a classic expression of spiritual transformation the Interior Castle of the sixteenth century mystic Teresa of Avila

J.

Moore, 2006 In Mystical Discourse D J Moore builds on the work of current transatlantic scholarship in a lucid analysis of the connections between William Wordsworth and Walt Whitman As he demonstrates the transatlantic bridge between both poets lies in their privileging of a type of mystical language he calls cosmic rhetoric which served the function of ideological resistance as it enabled them to rebel against Enlightenment modes of thinking and being In a thorough engagement with the work of Wordsworth and Whitman Moore shows that the cosmic rhetoric of both writers involves a subversive reorientation towards self and society nature and God and knowledge and religion as well as a radical revisioning of language and poetics
