Enlightening Object Lessons For Children:

Enlightening Object Lessons for Children Robert S. Coombs, 1992 These object lessons encourage active participation The leader talks with the children and perhaps to the adults as well not just to them The scripts encourage dialogue between teacher and youngsters but allow the children's responses to be focuses on the subject at hand Simple Object Lessons for Young Children Greg Squyres, 1992 Object Lessons Using Children's Toys Sheryl Bruinsma, 1996 Children can learn spiritual truth from their favorite toys Bruinsma uses a walkie talkie to illustrate that God hears prayer anytime bath bubbles to show that joy comes from the inside roller blades to teach cooperation and action figures to demonstrate positive conflict resolution All-occasion Object Lessons Joanne De Jonge, 1996 Joanne De Jonge clarifies spiritual concepts for children ages three to eight These lessons are a quick and handy resource when teachers are short of time or ideas Arranged by the calendar year this book includes lessons for Valentine's Day St Patrick's Day and other special occasions Object Lessons from Pebbles and Paper Clips Joanne E. DeJonge, 1995-05 For fresh creative ways to teach biblical truths to children look no farther than your desk driveway or den Easy to find objects gathered before the Sunday school lesson will help children remember the Bible truth This book provides everything you need to teach memorable lessons Bible passages insightful commentary and stage directions Educating the Child in Enlightenment Britain Jill Shefrin, 2016-12-05 Posing a challenge to more traditional approaches to the history of education this interdisciplinary collection examines the complex web of beliefs and methods by which culture was transmitted to young people in the long eighteenth century Expanding the definition of education exposes the shaky ground on which some historical assumptions rest For example studying conventional pedagogical texts and practices used for girls home education alongside evidence gleaned from women's diaries and letters suggests domestic settings were the loci for far more rigorous intellectual training than has previously been acknowledged Contributors cast a wide net engaging with debates between private and public education the educational agenda of Hannah More women schoolteachers the role of diplomats in educating boys embarked on the Grand Tour English Jesuit education eighteenth century print culture and education in Ireland the role of the print trades in the use of teaching aids in early nineteenth century infant school classrooms and the rhetoric and reality of children's book use Taken together the essays are an inspiring foray into the rich variety of educational activities in Britain the multitude of cultural and social contexts in which young people were educated and the extent of the differences between principle and practice throughout the period Object Lessons Sarah Anne Carter, 2018-07-12 Object Lessons How Nineteenth Century Americans Learned to Make Sense of the Material World examines the ways material things objects and pictures were used to reason about issues of morality race citizenship and capitalism as well as reality and representation in the nineteenth century United States For modern scholars an object lesson is simply a timeworn metaphor used to describe any sort of reasoning from concrete to abstract But in the 1860s object lessons were classroom exercises popular across the country Object lessons helped children to learn about the world through their senses touching and seeing rather than memorizing and repeating leading to new modes of classifying and comprehending material evidence drawn from the close study of objects pictures and even people In this book Sarah Carter argues that object lessons taught Americans how to find and comprehend the information in things from a type metal fragment to a whalebone sample Featuring over fifty images and a full color insert this book offers the object lesson as a new tool for contemporary scholars to interpret the meanings of nineteenth century material cultural and intellectual life

Enlightened Preaching Merethe Roos,2013-03-27 Balthasar M nter 1735 1793 is known primarily for being the spiritual advisor for Johann Friedrich Struensee in 1772 M nter is however generally interesting as a contributor to the theological development in Denmark Norway in the eighteenth century not least because he left a great number of theological texts to posterity These texts are written in a public and political environment offering shifting conditions for the church This present book analyses M nter s texts and sheds light on the extent to which he changes his preaching and teaching in accordance with the varying contextual conditions the church was given this period The result is a textually oriented research work highlighting important theological texts which have not previously been the subject of scholarly investigation

Lettering Young Readers in the Dutch Enlightenment Feike Dietz,2021-05-22 This book presents a rigorous hugely informative analysis of the early history of Dutch children s literature pedagogical developments and emerging family formations Thoroughly researched Dietz s study will be essential for historians of eighteenth century childhood education and children s books both in the Dutch context and more widely Matthew Grenby Newcastle University UK A rich informative well documented and effectively illustrated discussion of the ways Dutch eighteenth century educators tried to transform youth into responsible readers It does so in a wide international context and masterfully connects this process to the radical politicization and de politicization of Dutch society in the revolutionary period Wijnand W Mijnhardt formerly of Utrecht University the Netherlands and the University of California at Los Angeles USA This book explores how children s literature and literacy could at once regulate and empower young people in the eighteenth century Dutch Republic Rather than presenting the history of childhood as a linear story of increasing agency it suggests that we view it as a continuous struggle with the impossibility of full agency for young people This volume demonstrates how this struggle informed the production of books in a historical context in which the development of independent youths was high on the political agenda In close interaction with international children s literature markets Dutch authors developed new strategies to make the members of young generations into capable readers and writers equipped to organize their own minds and bodies properly and to support a supposedly declining fatherland

Child of the Enlightenment Arianne Baggerman,Rudolf Michel Dekker,2009-01-01 A diary kept by a boy in the 1790s sheds new light on the rise of autobiographical writing in the 19th century and sketches a panoramic view of Europe in the Age of Enlightenment The French Revolution and the Batavian Revolution in the Netherlands provide the backdrop to this study which ranges from changing perceptions of time space and nature to the thought of Jean Jacques Rousseau and its influence on such far flung fields as education landscape gardening and politics The book describes the high expectations people had of science and medicine and their disappointment at the failure of these new branches of learning to cure the world of its ills

Object Lessons and Early Learning Sharon Shaffer,2018-07-11 The twenty first century is a time of change for early learning in museums due in part to society's evolving view of childhood from an age of innocence to understanding the robust learning that defines the first years of life This perspective is a catalyst for international conversation and continues to raise attention and interest across society Object Lessons and Early Learning leverages what is known about the cognitive development of young children to examine the power of learning through objects in museum and heritage settings Exploring the history and modern day practice of object based learning Shaffer outlines the rationale for endorsing this approach in both formal and informal learning spaces She argues that museums as collecting institutions are learning spaces uniquely positioned to allow children to make meaning about their world through personal connections to cultural artifacts natural specimens and works of art A range of descriptive object lessons inspired by objects in museums as well as from the everyday world are presented throughout the text as examples of ways in which children can be encouraged to engage with museum collections Object Lessons and Early Learning offers insights into strategies for engaging young children as learners in museum settings and in their everyday world and as such will be essential reading for museum professionals classroom educators and students It should also be of great interest to academics and researchers engaged in the study of museums and education

What Your Child Needs to Know about God Ron Rhodes,1997 This handbook helps you create an exciting time of sharing God's love and provision with your child Short lessons focus on fundamental truths and provide interactive examples and stories for equipping your child with a Godly foundation

Education for All? Cathie Jo Martin,2023-09-21 Investigates how nineteenth century fiction writers influenced the creation of public school systems in Denmark and Great Britain

Children's Right to Freedom, Care and Enlightenment Bertram Bandman,2013-10-28 Professor Bandman presents a philosophical argument in answer to the question How do we justifiably bring up our children Bandman suggests that the status of children's rights in collusion with the method by which children are raised result in the strength and breadth of our rights as adults This is an eminently worthwhile study involving the interests of younger and older people alike engaging us all in reflective examination of issues right at our doorsteps

Plots of Enlightenment Richard A. Barney,1999 Plots of Enlightenment explores the emergence of the English novel during the early 1700s as a preeminent form of popular education at a time when educators were defining a new kind of modern English citizenship for both men and women This new individual was imagined neither as the free self determined figure of early modern liberalism or republicanism nor at the other extreme as the product of a nearly totalized disciplinary regimen Instead this new citizen materialized from the tensile process of what the sociologist Pierre Bourdieu calls regulated improvisation a strategy of performed individual identity that combines both social orchestration and individual agency This book considers how the period's diverse forms of educational writing including chapbooks conduct books and philosophical treatises and the most innovative educational institutions of the age such as charity schools working schools and proposed academies for young women produced a shared concept of improvised identity also shaped by the early novel's pedagogical agenda The model of improvised subjectivity contributed to new ways of imagining English individuality as both a private and public entity it also empowered women authors both educators and novelists to transform traditional ideals of femininity in forming their own protofeminist versions of enlightened female identity While offering a comprehensive account of the novel's educational status during the Enlightenment Plots of Enlightenment focuses particularly on the first half of the eighteenth century when novelists such as Daniel Defoe Eliza Haywood and Charlotte Lennox were first exploring concepts of fictional character based on educational and moral improvisation A close examination of these authors work illustrates further that by the 1750s the improvisational impulse in England had forged the first perceptible outlines of the fictional subgenre later called the novel of education or the Bildungsroman This book is the first study of its kind to account for the complex interplay between the individualist and collectivist protocols of early modern fiction with an eye toward articulating a comprehensive description of socialization and literary form that can accommodate the similarities and differences in the works of both male and female writers A in the education debate that culminated in the 1790s with Wollstonecraft More and Edgeworth but positions and arguments were laid down long before by Fordyce Gregory Gisbourne West Macaulay and Chapone as featured in this text The Enlightened Mind: Education in the Long Eighteenth Century Amanda Strasik, 2022-10-04 The rise of Enlightenment philosophical and scientific thought during the long eighteenth century in Europe and North America c 1688 1815 sparked artistic and political revolutions reframed social gender and race relations reshaped attitudes toward children and animals and reconceptualized womanhood marriage and family life The meaning of education at this time was wide ranging and access to it was divided along lines of gender class and race Learning happened in diverse environments under the tutelage of various teachers ranging from bourgeois mothers at home to Spanish clergy to nature itself The contributors to this cross disciplinary volume weave together methods in art history gender studies and literary analysis to reexamine education in different contexts during the Enlightenment era They explore the implications of redesigned curricula educational categorizations and spaces pedagogical aids and games the role of religion and new prospects for visual artists parents children and society at large Collectively the authors demonstrate how new learning opportunities transformed familial structures and the socio political conditions of urban centers in France Britain the United States and Spain Expanded approaches to education also established new artistic practices and redefined women s roles in the arts This volume offers groundbreaking perspectives on education that will appeal to beginning and seasoned humanities scholars alike

Exploring Diasporic Perspectives in Music Education Ruth Iana Gustafson, 2020-07-28 This book challenges simplified claims of racial national and ethnic belonging in music education by presenting diaspora as a new paradigm for teaching music departing from the standard multicultural guides and offering the idea of unfinished identities for musical creations While multiculturalism the term most commonly used in music education had promised a theoretical framework that puts classical folk and popular music around the world on equal footing it has perpetuated the values of Western aesthetics and their singular historical development Breaking away from this standard the book illuminates a diasporic web of music s historical pathways avoiding the fragmentation of music by categories of presumed origins whether racial ethnic or national
