Environmental Change and Human Security Richard A. Matthew, Jon Barnett, Bryan McDonald, Karen L. O'Brien, 2009-10-09 Experts discuss the risks global environmental change poses for the human security including disaster and disease violence and increasing inequity In recent years scholars in international relations and other fields have begun to conceive of security more broadly moving away from a state centered concept of national security toward the idea of human security which emphasizes the individual and human well being Viewing global environmental change through the lens of human security connects such problems as melting ice caps and carbon emissions to poverty vulnerability equity and conflict This book examines the complex social health and economic consequences of environmental change across the globe In chapters that are both academically rigorous and policy relevant the book discusses the connections of global environmental change to urban poverty natural disasters with a case study of Hurricane Katrina violent conflict with a study of the decade long Nepalese civil war population gender and development The book makes clear the inadequacy of traditional understandings of security and shows how global environmental change is raising new unavoidable questions of human insecurity conflict cooperation and sustainable development Contributors W Neil Adger Jennifer Bailey Jon Barnett Victoria Basolo Hans Georg Bohle Mike Brklacich May Chazan Chris Cocklin Geoffrey D Dabelko Indra de Soysa Heather Goldsworthy Betsy Hartmann Robin M Leichenko Laura Little Alexander Lopez Richard A Matthew Bryan McDonald Eric Neumayer Kwasi Nsiah Gyabaah Karen L O'Brien Marvin Soroos Bishnu Raj Upreti

Human Security and the Environment Edward Page, M. R. Redclift, 2002-01-01 In the post Cold War era the pre eminent threats to our security derive from human degradation of vital ecosystems as well as the possibility of war and terrorist attack This substantial book examines this new security environment paradigm and the way in which the activities of societies are shifting the balance with nature The distinguished authors investigate this redefinition of security with particular reference to environmental threats such as climate change and the availability of adequate supplies of food and water They illustrate how unfettered economic growth rising levels of personal consumption and unsustainable natural resource and energy procurement are taking a heavy toll on the global environment This in turn is forcing both developed and developing countries to re evaluate the more immediate environmental security of their own populations For a truly global perspective the authors present a series of country case studies looking at issues of security and environment and comparing how they influence policy and human well being They also discuss a number of theoretical issues which underpin discussions of environmental security demonstrating that this is a relatively new and essentially contested concept

Human Security and Sustainable Development in East Africa Jeremiah O. Asaka, Alice A. Oluoko-Odingo, 2022-05-23 This book investigates contemporary human security issues in East Africa setting forth policy recommendations and a research agenda for future studies Human security takes a people centered rather than state centered approach to security issues focusing on whether people feel safe free from fear want and indignity This book investigates human security in East Africa encompassing issues as diverse as migration housing climate change displacement food security aflatoxins land rights and peace and conflict resolution In particular the book showcases innovative original research from African scholars based on the continent and abroad and together the contributors provide policy recommendations and set forth a human security research agenda for East Africa which encompasses Kenya Uganda Tanzania Somalia Rwanda Burundi South Sudan Sudan Ethiopia Eritrea and Djibouti As well as being useful for policy makers and practitioners this book will interest researchers across African Studies Security Studies Environmental Studies

Society, Environment and Human Security in the Arctic Barents Region Kamrul Hossain, Dorothée Cambou, 2018-05-20 The Arctic Barents Region is facing numerous pressures from a variety of sources including the effect of environmental changes and extractive industrial developments The threats arising out of these pressures result in human security challenges This book analyses the formation and promotion of societal security within the context of the Arctic Barents Region It applies the human security framework which has increasingly gained currency at the UN level since 1994 UNDP as a tool to provide answers to many questions that face the Barents population today The study explores human security dimensions such as environmental security economic security health food water energy communities political security and digital security in order to assess the current challenges that the Barents population experiences today or may encounter in the future In doing so the book develops a comprehensive analysis of vulnerabilities challenges and needs in the Barents Region and provides recommendations for new strategies to tackle insecurity and improve the wellbeing of both indigenous and local communities This book will be a valuable tool for academics policy makers and students interested in environmental and human security sustainable development environmental studies and the Arctic and Barents Region in particular Environmental Change and Human Security in Africa and the Middle East Mohamed Behnassi, Katriona McGlade, 2017-01-17 This volume brings together insights on the interactions between environmental change and human security in the Middle East and Africa These regions face particular challenges in relation to environmental degradation the decline of natural resources and consequent risks to current and future human security The chapters provide topical analysis from a range of disciplines on the theory discourse policy and practice of responding to global environmental change and threats to human security Case studies from Morocco Tunisia Egypt Turkey Iraq and Syria provide empirical evidence with a focus section dedicated to the critical issue of water resources and water security in the region The contributions demonstrate above all that the risks posed to human security arise through multiple and interconnected processes operating across diverse spatial and temporal scales The complexity of these processes requires new ways of thinking and intervening As a contribution the current volume provides engaging insights from theory and practice for those seeking to address the challenges of environmental change Human Security in Disease and Disaster Natasha Lindstaedt, 2021-09-19 This timely new textbook lays bare the ways in which disease and disaster can turn politicians into global leaders or national liabilities It explains the impact of crises on development and human security and explores how states and societies can respond more effectively Written primarily for the student of politics but also drawing from public health public policy and environmental studies the book investigates the threats posed by disease and disasters and demonstrates how states can shape the ways in which these crises unfold Case studies include Diseases such as Covid 19 and Ebola Natural disasters such as Typhoon Haiyan and the 2010 Haiti earthquake Manmade disasters such as the Yemen and Congo civil wars or famine The book delves deep into how state response to these challenges can impact political and economic stability and ends by exploring the role played by international institutions and international cooperation in addressing common challenges This introductory textbook is perfect for undergraduate and masters courses exploring the expanding politics and human security issues surrounding disease and disasters It will also be of interest to think tanks and policy communities looking for fresh insights to bring into professional practice Routledge Handbook of Peace, Security and Development Fen Osler Hampson, Alpaslan Özerdem, Jonathan Kent, 2020-06-04 This Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the peace security and development nexus from a global perspective and investigates the interfaces of these issues in a context characterised by many new challenges By bringing together more than 40 leading experts and commentators from across the world the Handbook maps the various research agendas related to these three themes taking stock of existing work and debates while outlining areas for further engagement In doing so the chapters may serve as a primer for new researchers while also informing the wider scholarly community about the latest research trends and innovations The volume is split into three thematic parts Concepts and approaches New drivers of conflict insecurity and developmental challenges Actors institutions and processes For ease of use and organisational consistency each chapter provides readers with an overview of each research area a review of the state of the literature a summary of the major debates and promising directions for future research This Handbook will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies development studies security studies and International Relations

Human and Environmental Security
Felix Dodds, Tim Pippard, 2013-06-17 Security has tended to be seen as based on military force yet this illusion is crumbling literally and figuratively before our eyes in the conflict zones of Iraq Afghanistan and Africa It is now clear that real human security defined by the Commission on Human Security as protecting vital freedoms can only be achieved if the full range of issues that underpin human security including environmental integrity are addressed This ground breaking book authored by prominent international decision makers tackles the global human security problem across the range of core issues including terrorism nuclear proliferation access to water food security loss of biodiversity and climate change The authors identify the causes of insecurity articulate the linkages between the different elements of human security and outline an agenda for engaging stakeholders from across the globe in building the foundations of genuine and lasting human security for all nations and all people This is powerful necessary solution focused reading in these times of peril global conflict mass inequity and rampant environmental degradation

Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 2003 International Security, Peace, Development and Environment - Volume I Ursula Oswald Spring, 2009-08-30 International Security Peace Development and Environment is a component of Encyclopedia of Institutional and Infrastructural Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on International Security Peace Development and Environment deals in seven parts and two volumes with a myriad of issues of great relevance to our world such as human social gender and environmental security the transition in earth history from the holocene to the anthropocene potentially causing disasters and increasing resource scarcity limits to growth use of natural resources sustainable livelihood and productive system through technology rise of conflicts due to scarce and polluted resources and the concentration of humans in limited spaces of big cities the gender violence peace education and peace teaching as mechanisms to strengthen citizenship and to improve the understanding of cultural diversity mechanisms to strengthen the resistance against monopolist interests in the present global world and whistle blowing as a phenomenon to protect social peace and civil resistance The presentation culminates with a discussion on the means of active nonviolence to reinforce democratic behavior and to reduce tensions and violent outcomes in a complex world These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs Human Rights, Human Security, and State Security Saul Takahashi, 2014-07-15 This book provides innovative thinking from a variety of perspectives on the important human rights human security and national security policy issues of today and how these issues intersect The issue of human security comes into play in nearly every important policy debate in global politics and the protection of human rights is now recognized as one of the main functions of any legitimate modern state How can the international community best ensure that human rights are protected while simultaneously protecting state security Who should intervene in cases of mass gross violations and when are military actions justified This book seeks to address and explore these difficult and pressing questions by presenting the differing views of commentators from various ends of the spectrum Human Rights Human Security and State Security The Intersection consists of three volumes with each focusing primarily on one of the three broad areas while also drawing connections between them A powerful resource for policy makers and practitioners in national governments members of international organizations and scholars the innovative thinking presented will give readers a deepened understanding of the various international issues and help them to formulate effective policies in today's complex international landscape

Human Security through the New Traditional Economy in the Arctic Gorm Winther, Ívar Jónsson, 2024-12-31 The book creates an augmented knowledge about human security beyond the warfare concept in the Arctic It analyzes international political analysis on security issues and their spillovers to the Arctic societies The multi contributed book helps to conceptualize and create knowledge on democratic businesses as a human security issue Adopting a comparative approach it provides detailed analysis of democratic business in Iceland Greenland Arctic Canada and Alaska In a comparative economic systems analysis the aim of this book is to introduce the reader to the new traditional economy in an Arctic Context The readers will get an overview of different security approaches and approaches to promoting the new traditional economy's emphasis on Aborigine traditions for commonhood common or non ownership cooperation and local community The book is multidisciplinary and will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of social sciences security studies human security international political economy international political science ecological science economics organization theory and sociology

Yoshida, 2014-06-16 Ever since mankind first appeared on Earth people have confronted a variety of threats caused by global environmental changes and catastrophic natural disasters In recent years there has been a huge necessity to attempt the complementary co evolution among technologies urban management and policy design by putting greater emphasis on local orientation while fully utilizing academic traditions of civil engineering architecture environmental engineering and disaster prevention research This book seeks to meet the challenge of defining the new concept human security engineering via the implementation of such applicable technologies in Asian megacities Human Security in South Asia Adluri

Subramanyam Raju, 2019-08-29 This book delves into the theory and praxis of human security in South Asia Home to almost a quarter of the world s population and fast emerging markets South Asia holds social geopolitical and economic significance in the current global context The chapters in the volume examine the challenges to human security through an exploration of environmental issues including water availability electric waste environmental governance and climate change explore key themes such as development displacement and migration the role of civil society sustainable development and poverty and discuss developmental issues in South Asia and provide a holistic picture of non military security issues Bringing together scholars from varied disciplines this comprehensive volume will be useful for researchers teachers and students of international relations human rights political science development studies human geography and demography defense and strategic studies migration and diaspora studies and South Asian studies Security and Development Robert

Picciotto, Rachel Weaving, 2013-10-28 The new contributions in this book by acknowledged leaders in the field examine the delivery of effective aid under fire and securing the peace in environments where governance is fragile They bridge the cultural divide between the security and development professions at a time of unprecedented global economic integration geopolitical turbulence and novel threats to international peace and security More than a billion people live in countries where governance is weak poverty is rampant and economies are depressed Failed and frail states provide ideal breeding grounds for civil strife criminality and new wars that target civilians use children as combatants and commit massive human rights violations The new security risks loom within national borders while the capacity of the international community to intervene behind borders remains inadequate Policy making for security still relies heavily on military responses Yet military responses cannot address and may even worsen the social and cultural antecedents of civil strife and social resentment Similarly development aid policy and practice are poorly adapted to the new realities of frail governance and insecure operating environments in aid recipient countries This book was previously published as a special issue of the leading journal Conflict Security and Development
