

The background of the entire image is a close-up, slightly angled view of the American flag. The stars and stripes are clearly visible, with the red stripes and blue field with white stars being the most prominent colors. The flag appears to be waving or draped, creating a sense of movement and texture.

Entangling Relations David A. Lake, 2020-07-21 Throughout what publisher Henry Luce dubbed the American century the United States has wrestled with two central questions Should it pursue its security unilaterally or in cooperation with others If the latter how can its interests be best protected against opportunism by untrustworthy partners In a major attempt to explain security relations from an institutionalist approach David A Lake shows how the answers to these questions have differed after World War I during the Cold War and today In the debate over whether to join the League of Nations the United States reaffirmed its historic policy of unilateralism After World War II however it broke decisively with tradition and embraced a new policy of cooperation with partners in Europe and Asia Today the United States is pursuing a new strategy of cooperation forming ad hoc coalitions and evincing an unprecedented willingness to shape but then work within the prevailing international consensus on the appropriate goals and means of foreign policy In interpreting these three defining moments of American foreign policy Lake draws on theories of relational contracting and poses a general theory of security relationships He arrays the variety of possible security relationships on a continuum from anarchy to hierarchy and explains actual relations as a function of three key variables the benefits from pooling security resources and efforts with others the expected costs of opportunistic behavior by partners and governance costs Lake systematically applies this theory to each of the defining moments of twentieth century American foreign policy and develops its broader implications for the study of international relations

Foundations of Complex-system Theories Sunny Y. Auyang, 1998 Analyzes approaches to the study of complexity in the physical biological and social sciences      Rethinking the World Jeffrey Legro, 2005

Stunning shifts in the worldviews of states mark the modern history of international affairs how do societies think about and rethink international order and security Japan's opening German conquest American internationalism Maoist independence and Gorbachev's new thinking molded international conflict and cooperation in their eras How do we explain such momentous changes in foreign policy and in other cases their equally surprising absence The nature of strategic ideas Jeffrey W Legro argues played a critical and overlooked role in these transformations Big changes in foreign policies are rare because it is difficult for individuals to overcome the inertia of entrenched national mentalities Doing so depends on a particular nexus of policy expectations national experience and ready replacement ideas In a sweeping comparative history Legro explores the sources of strategy in the United States and Germany before and after the world wars in Tokugawa Japan and in the Soviet Union He charts the likely future of American primacy and a rising China in the coming century Rethinking the World tells us when and why we can expect changes in the way states think about the world why some ideas win out over others and why some leaders succeed while others fail in redirecting grand strategy      Entanglements of Power Ronan Paddison, Chris Philo, Paul Routledge, Joanne Sharp, 2002-09-11 This book argues that practices of resistance cannot be separated from practices of domination and that they are always entangled in some configuration They are inextricably linked such that one always bears at least a trace of the other that contaminates or subverts it The team of contributors explore themes of identity embodiment organisation colonialism and political transformation examining them from historical contemporary and more abstract perspectives within a wide geographical and cultural spectrum Case studies include German Reunification Jamaican Yardies on British Television Victorian Sexuality and Moralisation in Cremorne Gardens Ethnicity Gender and Nation in Ecuador Sport as Power the film Falling Down Entanglements of Power presents an exciting and challenging account of the symbiotic relationship between domination and resistance and contextualises this within the parameters of geography with a rich body of case study material and a respected team of contributors      The Human Intellect Noah Porter, 1869      The Human Intellect: with an Introduction Upon Psychology and the Soul Noah PORTER (the Younger.), 1868      Human Intellect Noah Porter, 2020-09-22 Reprint of the original first published in 1869      The Human Intellect: with an Introduction Upon Psychology and the Soul Noah Porter, 1873      Multilateralism and U.S. Foreign Policy Stewart Patrick, Shepard Forman, 2002 Puzzled by the disjunction between global trends and US foreign policy since the end of the Cold War mostly American scholars of political science law and economics explore the causes and consequences of US ambivalence to multilateral cooperation They consider such dimensions as the growing influence of domestic factors US grand strategy the chemical weapons convention and the International Criminal Court Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR      Realism and Institutionalism in International Studies Michael Brecher, Frank P. Harvey, 2009-12-11 Realism and Institutionalism in International Studies represents a unique collection of original essays by foremost scholars in the field of International Studies Six essays advocate critique or revise Realism the theoretical paradigm that explains international politics by emphasizing security competition and war among states The remaining four essays address Institutionalism the paradigm that offers explanations for the formation maintenance variation and significance of international institutions The authors reflect on the strengths and weaknesses of these approaches and suggest research agendas for the future Together this volume provides an accessible and wide ranging survey of the issues concerning two major paradigms in International Studies This volume will be of interest to scholars and students alike and will undoubtedly determine the shape of future research See table of contents and excerpts Frank P Harvey is Professor of Political Science and Director of the Centre for Foreign Policy Studies at Dalhousie University Michael Brecher is the R B Angus Professor of Political Science at McGill University and past president of the International Studies Association

Millennial Reflections on International Studies This volume is part of the Millennial Reflections on International Studies project in which forty five prominent scholars engage in self critical state of the art reflection on international studies to stimulate debates about successes and failures and to address the larger questions of progress in the discipline Other paperbacks from this project Conflict Security Foreign Policy and International Political Economy Past Paths and Future Directions in International Studies Evaluating Methodology Critical Perspectives in International Studies The full collection of essays is available in the handbook Millennial Reflections on International Studies Routledge Handbook of International Political Economy (IPE) Mark Blyth, 2009-06-02 Providing an overview of the range and scope of International Political Economy scholarship this important work maps the different regional schools of IPE and notes the distinctive way IPE is practiced and conceptualized around the world A Relational Theory of World Politics Yaqing Qin, 2018-04-05 Drawing on Chinese cultural and philosophical traditions this book offers a ground breaking reinterpretation of world politics from Yaqing Qin one of China's leading scholars of international relations Qin has pioneered the study of constructivism in China and developed a variant of this approach arguing that culture defined in terms of background knowledge nurtures social theory and enables theoretical innovation Building upon this argument this book presents the concept of relationality shifting the focus from individual actors to the relations amongst actors This ontology of relations examines the unfolding processes whereby relations create the identities of actors and provide motivations for their actions Appealing to scholars of international relations theory social theory and Chinese political thought this exciting new concept will be of particular interest to those who are seeking to bridge Eastern and Western approaches for a truly global international relations project

Material Game Studies Chloe Germaine, Paul Wake, 2022-11-03 This is the first volume to apply insights from the material turn in philosophy to the study of play and games At a time of renewed interest in analogue gaming as scholars are looking beyond the digital and virtual for the first time since the inception of game studies in the 1990s Material Game Studies not only supports the importance of the re turn to the analogue but proposes a materiality of play more broadly

Recognizing the entanglement of physical materiality with cultural meaning the authors in this volume apply a range of theoretical approaches from material eco criticism to animal studies to examine games and play as existing within worlds of matter Different chapters focus on the material properties of board card and role playing games how they are designed and made how they are touched and played with and how they connect with other human and nonhuman things Bringing together international scholars Material Game Studies defines a new field of material game studies and demonstrates how it is a valuable addition to wider debates about the material turn and the place of embodied humans in a material world

Undermining American Hegemony Morten Skumsrud Andersen, Alexander Cooley, Daniel H. Nexon, 2021-06-03 Advancing a new approach to the study of international order this book highlights the stakes disguised by traditional theoretical languages of power transitions and hegemonic wars Rather than direct challenges to US military power the most consequential undermining of hegemony is routine bottom up processes of international goods substitution a slow hollowing out of the existing order through competition to seek or offer alternative sources for economic military or social goods Studying how actors gain access to alternative suppliers of these public goods this volume shows how states consequently move away from the liberal international order Examining unfamiliar but crucial cases it takes the reader on a journey from local Faroese politics to Russian election observers in Central Asia to South American drug lords Broadening the debate about the role of public goods in international politics this book offers a new perspective of one of the key issues of our time

The International Spread of Ethnic Conflict David A. Lake, 1998-03-22 This work focuses on how why and when ethnic conflicts either diffuse by precipitating similar conflicts elsewhere or escalate by bringing in outside parties and how such transnational ethnic conflicts can be managed It focuses specifically on the conflicts in Eastern Europe and Africa

Palgrave Handbook of Inter-Organizational Relations in World Politics Rafael Biermann, Joachim A. Koops, 2016-11-29 This unique handbook brings together a team of leading scholars and practitioners in order to map synthesize and assess key perspectives on cooperation and rivalry between regional and global organizations in world politics For the first time a variety of inter disciplinary theoretical and conceptual perspectives are combined in order to assess the nature processes and outcomes of inter organizational partnerships and rivalries across major policy areas such as peace and security human rights and democratisation as well as finance development and climate change This text provides scholars students and policy makers of International Relations with an exhaustive reference book for understanding the theoretical and empirical dimensions of an increasingly important topic in International Relations IR Global Governance and related disciplines

The United States and the European Right, 1945-1955 Deborah Kisatsky, 2005 Nazi Germany's defeat in May 1945 commenced a decade long allied effort to democratize the former Reich The United States simultaneously began sheltering scientists industrialists and military officers complicit in Nazi crimes What explained this conflict between the spirit and practice of denazification Did U S Cold War anticommunism simply replace antifascism in the postwar period Did Americans favor rightists over leftists in a quest to restore order in Europe In this groundbreaking study Deborah Kisatsky shows that opportunity not order galvanized U S foreign policy and that American dealings with the European Right were more complex than has been presumed U S leaders cooperated with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to achieve shared Atlanticist goals And the United States co opted nationalistic fighters into a secret stay behind net of the Bund Deutscher Jugend Technischer Dienst But allied leaders jointly worked to contain such vocal neutralist nationalists as the ex Nazi Otto Strasser Cooperation co optation and containment of French and Italian as of German rightists advanced American hegemony in Europe These strategies extended techniques of social control perfected within the United States and synthesized domestic and international systems of power in the twentieth century BOOK JACKET The Politics of Global Regulation Walter Mattli, 2009-05-17 Regulation by public and private organizations can be hijacked by special interests or small groups of powerful firms and nowhere is this easier than at the global level This is the first book to examine systematically how and why such hijacking or regulatory capture happens and how it can be averted P iv of cover Back to Basics Martha Finnemore, Judith Goldstein, 2013-04-11 No scholar better exemplifies the intellectual challenges foisted on the Neorealist school of international relations than prominent scholar Stephen Krasner Graham H Stuart Professor of International Studies the Senior Associate Dean for the Social Sciences School of Humanities the relationship between states and markets conceptions of the nation state in international politics These themes appeared regularly in Krasner s scholarship as he wrestled over his career with fundamental questions of inter state politics Contributors largely agree on the centrality of power but diverge substantially on the ways power is manifest and should be measured and understood Many of the contributors confronted the same intellectual dilemmas as Krasner in struggling to define power and its relationship to interests yet their responses are different Together these essays explore new ways of thinking about power s role in contemporary politics and demonstrate the concepts continued relevance for both policy and theory
