Dimensions of Goodness Vittorio Hösle, 2014-10-02 Dimensions of Goodness is based on the second conference of the Notre Dame Institute for Advanced Study whose aim is to bridge the normative and descriptive dimensions of knowledge by bringing in as many disciplines as possible to address fundamental philosophical issues While the first conference dealt with the elusive topic of beauty the second addressed crucial issues of ethics In the first section of this volume the German philosophers Franz von Kutschera and Markus Gabriel discuss the nature of values and the reasons why we believe that normativity has a place in the world In the second section the British historian Jonathan Israel the American theologian Jennifer Herdt and the editor of the volume analyse epochal changes in our moral beliefs due to Enlightenment Christianity and the general evolution of moral ideas which is presented in a way that markedly differs from Alasdair MacIntyre's famous account The third section explores both the light that the exact sciences shed on the process of decision making in the contributions by the Italian neuroscientist Camillo Padoa-Schioppa and the Canadian psychologist Clive Seligman as well as the ethical challenges that modern science has brought forward in areas such as the responsibility of scientists bioethics and medical ethics in chapters by the Swiss chemist and Nobel laureate Richard Ernst the American bioethicist and historian of biology Jane Maienschein and the American philosopher and legal scholar Anita Allen The fourth section focuses on specific challenges of our time the British philosopher Robin Atfield explores the principles of environmental ethics the Swiss business ethicist Georges Enderle investigates goodness in economy the Mexican elder statesman former Secretary of Economy and of Foreign Affairs Luiz Ernesto Derbez Bautista looks at the challenges of development and the American legal scholars Steven D Smith and Mary Ellen O Connell examine the place of religion in the American constitution and the power of international law in limiting violence respectively Finally the last section consists of a chapter by the well known Chinese intellectual Wang Hui on Lu Xun's struggle to find a middle way between respect of one's own tradition and the demands of globalization There is probably no other volume in which so many different disciplines come together to try to find a convergence of perspectives on basic moral issues The book will be invaluable to those who believe that goodness is the focal point of most academic disciplines and that academia can find a stronger point of unity in a common reflection on what goodness in various areas means

Climate Change and Environmental Ethics Ved P. Nanda, 2012-12-01 There is a broad consensus that climate change presents the international community with a formidable challenge Yet progress on all fronts prevention mitigation and adaptation has been slow Ved P Nanda finds an explanation for this disparity in the sharp divide between the developed and developing countries Developing countries demand that major industrialized nations provide the necessary resources and technology to address climate change while many developed countries seek firm commitments and timetables on action from the developing countries The result is a stalemate Climate Change and Environmental Ethics contains first rate research and thinking from scholars from multiple disciplines ethics ecology philosophy economics political science history and international law What distinguishes this volume from recent work on climate change are two of its special features One is the multi disciplinary backgrounds of the scholars their stellar experiences and the wisdom with which they express not simply their philosophy and theory but also their suggestions for concrete specific action in practical terms The second is the special niche this volume fills in its overarching theme of the need for a renewed environmental ethic that can bring together these disparate but interconnected views This volume explores alternative ways of conceiving our relation to the natural world A spirit of international cooperation and collaboration is needed to meet the challenge The reader is compelled to think anew about our understanding of the scientific and technical issues as well as our values and ethical responsibilities regarding climate change

Wounded Planet Henk A.M.J. ten Have, 2019-05-14 Exploring the interconnectedness of human health biodiversity and bioethics We all depend on environmental biodiversity for clean air safe water adequate nutrition effective drugs and protection from infectious diseases Today s healthcare experts and policymakers are keenly aware that biodiversity is one of the crucial determinants of health not only for individuals but also for the human population of the planet Unfortunately rapid globalization and ongoing environmental degradation mean that biodiversity is rapidly deteriorating threatening planetary health on a mass scale In Wounded Planet Henk A M J ten Have argues that the ethical debate about healthcare has become too narrow and individualized We must he writes adopt a new bioethical discourse one that deals with issues of justice equality vulnerability human rights and solidarity in order to adequately reflect the serious threat that current loss of biodiversity poses to planetary health Exploring modern environmental challenges in depth ten Have persuasively demonstrates that environmental concerns can no longer be separated from healthcare challenges and thus should be included in global bioethics Going beyond an individualized perspective he poses audacious questions What does it mean that patients are poor or uninsured and cannot afford suggested medicines How can we deal with the air and water pollution that are producing a patient s illness How do we respond to patients complaining about the safety and quality of drinking water in their neighborhood Touching on infectious and noncommunicable diseases as well as food medicine and water Wounded Planet transcends the limited vision of mainstream bioethics to compassionately reveal how healthcare and medicine must take a broad perspective that includes the social and environmental conditions in which individuals live
