Journey to Now Art Gallery of South Australia, 2003 From Christo and Jeanne-Claude to Jeff Koons Nicholas Baume, 1995-01-01 Use and Reuse of the Digital Archive John Potts, 2021-08-31 This book examines the use and re use of digital archives in a unique manner by combining theoretical and practical approaches to the contemporary digital archive. The book brings together a range of writers specialising in media and cultural studies, contemporary art and art history, digital and networked culture, library and museum studies to explore the cultural impact of digital archives. Several of the essays describe the process of constructing a digital archive as a specific case study in digitising a physical archive and designing a searchable digital database as the core of the digital archive. Other chapters explore the cultural significance of digital archives in more general theoretical terms. These considerations include the specific properties of the digital archive, its similarities and differences to the traditional paper based archive, the ethical decisions made in the design of an archive and the potential for creative re use of online archived materials.

The Idea of Art Anthony Bond, 2015-08-01 Curator Anthony Bond began building a contemporary international art collection at the Art Gallery of New South Wales Sydney in 1984. The collection now features many important artists including Anselm Kiefer, Antony Gormley, Francis Bacon, Anish Kapoor and Doris Salcedo. In The Idea of Art, Bond discusses the guiding philosophies that steered his formation of the gallery's collection. Incorporating conversations with many high profile contemporary artists, the book offers important insights into how recent innovations connect with the art of the past and with human experience. Anthony Bond's intimate knowledge of and friendship with artists and empathy with their processes gives his insight a particular richness and relevance.

Antony Gormley The Third Hand Charles Green, 2001 The lone artist is a worn cliché of art history but one that still defines how we think about the production of art. Since the 1960s however a number of artists have challenged this image by embarking on long term collaborations that dramatically altered the terms of artistic identity. In The Third Hand, Charles Green offers a sustained critical examination of collaboration in international contemporary art, tracing its origins from the evolution of conceptual art in the 1960s into such stylistic labels as Earth Art, Systems Art, Body Art and Performance Art. During this critical period artists around the world began testing the limits of what art could be, how it might be produced and who the artist is. Collaboration emerged as a prime way to reframe these questions. Green looks at three distinct types of collaboration: the highly bureaucratic identities created by Joseph Kosuth, Ian Burn, Mel Ramsden and other members of Art; the close knit relationships based on marriage or lifetime partnership as practiced by the Boyle Family, Anne and Patrick Poirier, Helen Mayer Harrison and Newton Harrison; and couples like Christo and Jeanne Claude, Gilbert and George or Marina Abramovic and Ulay who developed third identities, effacing the individual artists almost entirely. These collaborations, Green contends, resulted in new and at times extreme authorial models that continue to inform current thinking about artistic identity and to illuminate the origins of postmodern art, suggesting in the process a new genealogy for art in the twenty first century.

From Christo and Jeanne-Claude to Jeff Koons Heide Museum of Modern Art, 1996 Jeff Koons Scott

Rothkopf, 2014-07-08 With over 200 illustrations of iconic works as well as preparatory studies and historic photographs this book offers fresh insight into Koons's polarizing and influential career What Is Contemporary Art? Terry Smith, 2012-08-10 Who gets to say what counts as contemporary art Artists critics curators gallerists auctioneers collectors or the public Revealing how all of these groups have shaped today's multifaceted definition Terry Smith brilliantly shows that an historical approach offers the best answer to the question What is Contemporary Art Smith argues that the most recognizable kind is characterized by a return to mainstream modernism in the work of such artists as Richard Serra and Gerhard Richter as well as the retro sensationalism of figures like Damien Hirst and Takashi Murakami At the same time Smith reveals postcolonial artists are engaged in a different kind of practice one that builds on local concerns and tackles questions of identity history and globalization A younger generation embodies yet a third approach to contemporaneity by investigating time place mediation and ethics through small scale closely connective art making Inviting readers into these diverse yet overlapping art worlds Smith offers a behind the scenes introduction to the institutions the personalities the biennials and of course the works that together are defining the contemporary The resulting map of where art is now illuminates not only where it has been but also where it is going Biennials, Triennials, and Documenta Anthony Gardner, Charles Green, 2016-05-16 This innovative new history examines in depth how the growing popularity of large scale international survey exhibitions or biennials has influenced global contemporary art since the 1950s Provides a comprehensive global history of biennialization from the rise of the European star curator in the 1970s to the emergence of mega exhibitions in Asia in the 1990s Introduces a global array of case studies to illustrate the trajectory of biennials and their growing influence on artistic expression from the Biennale de la Méditerranée in Alexandria Egypt in 1955 the second Havana Biennial of 1986 New York's Whitney Biennial in 1993 and the 2002 Documenta 11 in Kassel to the Gwangju Biennale of 2014 Explores the evolving curatorial approaches to biennials including analysis of the roles of sponsors philanthropists and biennial directors and their re-shaping of the contemporary art scene Uses the history of biennials as a means of illustrating and inciting further discussions of globalization in contemporary art Topless Cellist Joan Rothfuss, 2014-09-12 The first book to explore the extraordinary career of musician and performance artist Charlotte Moorman whose work combined classical rigor avant garde experiment and madcap daring The Juilliard trained cellist Charlotte Moorman sat nude behind a cello of carved ice performed while dangling from helium filled balloons and deployed an array of instruments on The Mike Douglas Show that included her cello a whistle a cap gun a gong and a belch She did a striptease while playing Bach in Nam June Paik's Sonata for Adults Only In the 1960s Moorman 1933-1991 became famous for her madcap and often unclothed performance antics less famous but more significant is Moorman's transformative influence on contemporary performance practice and her dedication to the idea that avant garde art should reach the widest possible audience In

Topless Cellist the first book to explore Moorman's life and work Joan Rothfuss rediscovers and recovers the legacy of an extraordinary American artist Moorman's arrest in 1967 for performing topless made her a water cooler conversation starter but before her tabloid fame she was a star of the avant garde performance circuit with a repertoire of pieces by among others Yoko Ono Joseph Beuys John Cage and Paik her main artistic partner Moorman invented a new mode of performance that combined classical rigor jazz improvisation and avant garde experiment informed by intuition daring and love of spectacle Moorman's annual festival of the avant garde offered the public a lively sampler of contemporary art in performance music dance poetry film and other media Rothfuss chronicles Moorman's life from her youth in Little Rock Arkansas where she was Miss City Beautiful of 1952 through her career in New York's avant garde to her death from breast cancer in 1991 Typically she approached her treatment as if it were a performance Deeply researched and profusely illustrated Topless Cellist offers a fascinating sometimes heartbreaking often hilarious story of an artist whose importance was more than the sum of her performances

Permanent Revolution Richard Haese, 2012-02-01 In 1961 the 22 year old Mike Brown joined the New Zealand artist Ross Crothall in an old terrace house in inner Sydney's Annandale Over the following two years the artists filled the house with a remarkable body of work Launched with an equally extraordinary exhibition the movement they called Imitation Realism introduced collage assemblage and installation to Australian art for the first time Laying the groundwork for a distinctive Australian postmodernism Imitation Realism was also the first Australian art movement to respond in a profound way to Aboriginal art and to the tribal art of New Guinea and the Pacific region By the mid 1960s Brown was already the most controversial figure in Australian art In 1963 a key work was thrown out of a major travelling exhibition for being overtly sexual a year later he publicly attacked Sydney artists and critics for having failed the test of integrity Finally in 1966-67 Brown became the only Australian artist to have been successfully prosecuted for obscenity Brown spent the last 28 years of his life in Melbourne where his reputation for radicalism and nonconformity was cemented with his multiplicity of styles exploration of themes of sexuality and transgressive commitment to the ideal of street art and graffiti Against a background of the counter culture and the social and political upheavals of the 1960s and 1970s Brown's art and remarkable life of personal and creative struggle is without parallel in Australian art

Bastian, 2023-03-29 Archiving Cultures defines and models the concept of cultural archives focusing on how diverse communities express and record their heritage and collective memory and why and how these often intangible expressions are archival records Analysis of oral traditions memory texts and performance arts demonstrate their relevance as records of their communities Key features of this book include definitions of cultural heritage and archival heritage with an emphasis on intangible cultural heritage Aspects of cultural heritage such as oral traditions performance arts memory texts and collective memory are placed within the context of records and archives It presents strategies for reconciling intangible and tangible cultural expressions with traditional archival theory and practice and offers both analog and digital models for constructing cultural archives through examples and vignettes The audience includes archivists and other information workers who challenge Western archival theory and scholars concerned with interdisciplinary perspectives on tangible and intangible cultural heritage This book is relevant to scholars involved with non textual materials and will appeal to a range of academic disciplines engaging with the archive Sol LeWitt Sol LeWitt, Martin Friedman, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, Whitney Museum of American Art, 2000-01-01 Om den amerikanske kunstner Sol LeWitt f dt 1928 Classical Music Futures Neil Thomas Smith, Peter Peters, Karoly Molina, 2024-01-30 This volume brings together contributions from a wide range of international academics and practitioners It traces innovations within classical music practice showing how these offer divergent visions for its future The interdisciplinary contributions to the volume highlight the way contrasting ideas of the future can effect change in the present A rich balance of theoretical and practical discussion brings authority to this collection which lays the foundations for timely responses to challenges ranging from the concept of the musical work and the colonial values within Western musical culture to unsustainable models of orchestral touring The authors highlight how labour to meet the demands of particular futures for classical music might impact its creation and consumption presenting case studies to capture the mediating roles of technology and community engagement This book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of musicology and the sociology of music as well as a general audience of practitioners freelance musicians music administrators and educators Adelaide Festival 60 Years Catherine McKinnon, 2020-02-05 The Adelaide Festival is as much shaped by people and place as it in turn shapes people and place its identity is a weird and wild shifting thing It is not owned by one individual but belongs to everyone Adelaide Festival 60 Years is an astounding cacophony of images and tales that revel in the life of the Festival since its founding in 1960 remembering what it was anticipating what it might be The tales are told by the many choreographers actors singers artistic directors audience members writers lighting designers arts administrators curators and more Stunning full colour photography captures moments in time both sweeping and intimate woven together to form an important story of culture and ideas across 60 years of history and 35 iconic festivals Curatorial Intervention Brett M. Levine, 2021-05-18 Curatorial Intervention History and Current Practice is a critical analysis of the dynamic roles curators play in shaping mediating and at times redefining the artist audience exchange Focusing on contemporary curatorial practice this work critically examines the ways in which curators impact artists intentionality and how this alters audiences experiences of reception Through discussions with leading artists curators and arts administrators Brett Levine posits a new paradigm for defining and contextualizing curatorial practice while exploring how the former dialectic of intention and reception is today defined by the triad intention intervention reception After situating the more traditional artist audience relationship he explores how extant theories of the art experience fail to either provide for curatorial practice or contextualize its operations while also overlooking questions of transparency agency and power

Offering a new professional and operational model Curatorial Intervention highlights how the artist curator and curator audience relations displace and at times redefine the experience of works of art In response to the disenfranchisement of curatorial practice and the emergence of every act of discernment being transformed into curating as little more than a fashionable pastime the author reasserts the dynamic roles that exist between artist curator and audience and between object operation and experience
