

A sunset scene with a lighthouse on a hill. The sky is a mix of purple, pink, and orange. The water in the foreground is calm, reflecting the colors of the sky. A lighthouse sits atop a grassy hill in the middle ground, its light beam visible. The overall mood is peaceful and serene.

Living With Uncertainty My Bout With Inoperable Cancer:

Living with Uncertainty John Wimber, 1996-02-01 Word and Power Gareth W. D. Stewart, 2015-02-16 Historically the Reformed and Charismatic streams have seemed to be almost mutually exclusive In recent years this exclusivity has been being challenged by a new generation of Reformed thinkers This work aims at considering the contribution of John Wimber the late leader of the Vineyard Churches to contemporary theological reflection within the Reformed tradition Taking into account John Wimber s unique theology of the radical middle which is somewhere between Pentecostal and Evangelical this book asks whether Wimber may be a possible alternative source for the contemporary Reformed Churches as they approach ministry and mission in the twenty first century Written from a confessional Presbyterian context in Northern Ireland Word and Power places Wimber in his theological context and asks whether Wimber s view of power evangelism discipleship formation and ministry training might be a model that Reformed Churches and Presbyterians in particular could adopt for their ecclesiology today Living in Death's Shadow Emily K. Abel, 2017-02-28 Challenging assumptions about caregiving for those dying of chronic illness What is it like to live with and love someone whose death while delayed is nevertheless foretold In Living in Death's Shadow Emily K Abel an expert on the history of death and dying examines memoirs written between 1965 and 2014 by family members of people who died from chronic disease In earlier eras death generally occurred quickly from acute illnesses but as chronic disease became the major cause of mortality many people continued to live with terminal diagnoses for months and even years Illuminating the excruciatingly painful experience of coping with a family member s extended fatal illness Abel analyzes the political personal cultural and medical dimensions of these struggles The book focuses on three significant developments that transformed the experiences of those dying and their intimates the passage of Medicare and Medicaid the growing use of high tech treatments at the end of life and the rise of a movement to humanize the care of dying people It questions the exalted value placed on acceptance of mortality as well as the notion that it is always better to die at home than in an institution Ultimately Living in Death's Shadow emphasizes the need to shift attention from the drama of death to the entire course of a serious chronic disease The chapters follow a common narrative of life threatening disease learning the diagnosis deciding whether to enroll in a clinical trial acknowledging or struggling against the limits of medicine receiving care at home and in a hospital or nursing home and obtaining palliative and hospice care Living in Death's Shadow is essential reading for everyone seeking to understand what it means to live with someone suffering from a chronic fatal condition including cancer AIDS Alzheimer s and heart disease Cancer with Hope C. Year in the Life of a "Dead" Woman Lynnette Porter, 2019-10-08 Perhaps I should have realized that cancer runs in my family After all three grandparents and my father and brother perished from this disease Yet when I received my colorectal cancer diagnosis I was surprised I never expected to be primarily identified as a cancer patient Following a typical combination of chemotherapy radiation surgery and more chemo I was presumably cancer free when my post treatment scans looked clean Nonetheless within a year I received a terminal diagnosis cancer had metastasized in my lungs Thus began my year as a dead woman a time of chaotic emotions new priorities and rapid fire plans and changes Expecting the unexpected became a theme in my life but the things that turned out to be most shocking are social familial and even my expectations about what is realistic for a dead woman to be or do Preconceptions about a terminal cancer diagnosis frequently are based on popular culture depictions of cancer and dying which can be misleading as a guide for knowing what to expect when you re expecting to die This memoir provides one woman s often irreverent pop culture illustrated guide to life that deconstructs some common preconceptions about living with a terminal diagnosis
