Strategic Planning for Poverty Reduction in Vietnam Rob A. Swinkels, Carrie Turk, 2003 Poverty Alleviation and Forests in Vietnam William D. Sunderlin, Thu Ba Huynh, 2005-01-01 Social Inequality in Vietnam and the Challenges to Reform Philip Taylor, 2004 Offers detailed descriptions of disparities in income spatial access gender ethnicity and status addressing their causes and consequences It illustrates the changing ways in which people have accumulated wealth social and cultural capital in Vietnam s move from a socialist to a market oriented society Taylor from ANU Feminist Community Research Gillian Creese, Wendy Frisby, 2011-10-20 Feminist community research is a collaborative policy oriented methodology that holds the promise of empowering the disadvantaged and building a more just society But in the absence of critical analysis and the responsible use of power this approach can lead to naive or even harmful practices Grounded as they are in fieldwork these interdisciplinary case studies acknowledge the real methodological and ethical issues that researchers can encounter as they negotiate contested research relationships The authors discuss the strategies successful and unsuccessful that they have employed to overcome these challenges The authors collective experiences working with diverse groups from immigrant and Aboriginal women in Vancouver to poverty reduction practitioners in Vietnam reveal that truly equitable research projects require that we question core concepts and address crucial issues such as the promises and limits of reflexivity the politics of place time and resources ethical dilemmas and emotional responses and the way issues of social justice policy and social change are embedded in research Managing water for the poor: proceedings of the Regional Workshop on Pro-Poor Intervention Strategies in Irrigated Agriculture in Asia, Bangladesh, China, India, Indonesia, Pakistan and Vietnam, Colombo, 9-10 August 2001. Hussain, I., Biltonen, E, 2001-08-09 Contributed articles presented at the Workshop Land in Transition Martin Ravallion, Dominique van de Walle, 2008-04-07 This book is a case study of Vietnam s efforts to fight poverty using market oriented land reforms In the 1980s and 1990s the country undertook major institutional reforms and an impressive reduction in poverty followed But what role did the reforms play Did the efficiency gains from reform come at a cost to equity Were there both winners and losers Was rising rural landlessness in the wake of reforms a sign of success or failure Land in Transition investigates the impacts on living standards of the two stages of land law reform in 1988 when land was allocated to households administratively and output markets were liberalized and in 1993 when official land titles were introduced and land transactions were permitted for the first time since communist rule began To fully assess the poverty impacts of these changes the authors analysis of household surveys is guided by both economic theory and knowledge of the historical and social contexts The book delineates lessons from Vietnam s experience and their implications for current policy debates in China and elsewhere The Digital Challenge Shirin Madon, S Krishna, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2003 Information and communication technologies ICTs are increasingly being recognized as vital to the economic growth and global inclusion and participation of developing countries This book brings together both academics and practitioners to provide a comprehensive and insightful overview of ICT and development around the world It examines the role of IT in providing new economic and industrial opportunities in increasing access to global information and communication in assisting small cultural and ethnic groups to overcome disadvantages of physical distance and in catalysing initiatives towards democratic decentralization and empowerment of citizens It also critically appraises major problems such as inappropriate focus and resource allocation and of missed opportunities By combining comparative case studies from Africa South and East Asia South America and Eastern Europe with theoretical analysis this volume synthesizes a range of issues related to the evident tensions that exist for developing countries as they try to balance global and local priorities through the adoption and use of ICTs

The Government of Mistrust Ken MacLean,2013-12-18 Focusing on the creation and misuse of government documents in Vietnam since the 1920s The Government of Mistrust reveals how profoundly the dynamics of bureaucracy have affected Vietnamese efforts to build a socialist society In examining the flurries of paperwork and directives that moved back and forth between high and low level officials Ken MacLean underscores a paradox in trying to gather accurate information about the realities of life in rural areas and thus better govern from Hanoi the Vietnamese central government employed strategies that actually made the state increasingly illegible to itself MacLean exposes a falsified world existing largely on paper As high level officials attempted to execute centralized planning via decrees procedures questionnaires and audits low level officials and peasants used their own strategies to solve local problems To obtain hoped for aid from the central government locals overstated their needs and underreported the resources they actually possessed Higher ups attempted to re establish centralized control and legibility by creating yet more bureaucratic procedures Amidst the resulting mistrust and ambiguity many low level officials were able to engage in strategic action and tactical maneuvering that have shaped socialism in Vietnam in surprising ways

Migration, Agrarian Transition, and Rural Change in Southeast Asia Philip F. Kelly,2013-10-18 Rural life in Southeast Asia is being transformed by new and intensifying processes of migration and mobility Migration out of rural areas creates new forms of class mobility familial relations production processes and income Migration into rural areas creates a new and sometimes marginalized workforce contestation over resource access and the juxtaposition of culturally different groups At the same time everyday mobility stretches the spatial boundaries of village and family life The bounded space of the village is no longer adequate to understand the dynamics that are driving and resulting from rural social change This collection of original studies explores the cultural economic and environmental dimensions of intensifying migration and mobility in rural Southeast Asia at multiple scales Diverse processes are explored including rural urban flows rural rural movement everyday mobilities and international migrations into regional and global labour markets Drawing on fieldwork in six countries across the region these essays also explore what migration means for our understanding of class citizenship gender and the state in a rapidly changing part of the world This book was based on two parts of a special issue of Critical Asian Studies Asian Perspectives on the World's Religions after September 11 Arvind Sharma, Madhu Khanna, 2013-02-15 This book offers a unique perspective on September 11 and our world after this tragic event sharing lessons from an Asian religious experience that can help heal a world troubled by religious conflicts and deepening divisions and promote a positive global transformation Existing literature regarding the events of September 11 and our world afterward has focused mostly on the West and the Middle East Asian Perspectives on the World's Religions after September 11 extends this discussion to include Asia a continent and culture far too important to be ignored in any assessment of the global impact of this event The book is organized along the following themes as they emerged post September 11th religion and civilizational dialogue religion conflict and peace religion and human rights religion and ethics religion and the arts religion hermeneutics and literature religion and gender religion and ecology and religion and globalization Individuals who are studying or teaching political science international relations philosophy ethics Asian studies or religious studies will find the text invaluable while general readers will appreciate the largely unvoiced Asian perspective on this topic State, Society and the Market in Contemporary Vietnam Hue-Tam Ho Tai, Mark Sidel, 2012 Lively debates around property access to resources legal rights and the protection of livelihoods have unfolded in Vietnam since the economic reforms of 1986 Known as Doi Moi changing to the new these have gradually transformed the country from a socialist state to a society in which a communist party presides over a neoliberal economy By exploring the complex relationship between property the state society and the market this book demonstrates how both developmental issues and state society relations in Vietnam can be explored through the prism of property relations and property rights The essays in this collection demonstrate how negotiations over property are deeply enmeshed with dynamics of state formation and covers debates over the role of the state and its relationship to various levels of society the intrusion of global forces into the lives of marginalized communities and individuals and how community norms and standards shape and reshape national policy and laws With contributors from around the world this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of East and Southeast Asian studies including politics culture society and law as well as those interested in the role of the state and property relations more generally New Frontiers of Land Control Nancy Peluso, Christian Lund, 2013-09-13 Questions about land control have invigorated thinkers in agrarian studies and economic history since the nineteenth century Exclusion alienation expropriation dispossession and violence animate histories of land use property rights and territories More recently agrarian environments have been transformed by processes of deagrarianization urbanization migration and new forms of primitive accumulation Even the classic agrarian question of how the social relations of agriculture will be influenced by capitalism has been reformulated at critical historical moments reviving or producing new debates around the importance of land control The authors in this volume focus on new frontiers of land control and their active creation These frontiers are sites where established power relationships are challenged by new enclosures and property regimes producing new social and environmental dynamics in their stead Contributors examine labor and production processes engaged by new configurations of actors new agrarian and environmental subjects and the networks connecting them and new legal and violent means of challenging established or imminent land controls Overall we find that land control still matters though in changed degrees and manners Land control will continue to inspire struggles for a long time This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies The New Conditionality Jeremy Gould,2005-09 Poverty Reduction Strategies PRSs are the new buzzwords in development aid Some 70 countries have already elaborated them in response to World Bank and bilateral aid agency requirements This book presents detailed field level research on the application of PRSs in three countries Tanzania Vietnam and Honduras It describes the changing relations between the governments of these countries donor agencies and civic organizations that have taken part in formulating the new generation of PRSs Poverty Reduction Strategies run up against a central paradox in giving decisive policymaking powers to external agencies the very process of drawing up development strategies to prioritise reducing poverty can gravely undermine the consolidation of democratic forces structures and ideas in developing countries

Sustainable Development in Asia Bernadette Andreosso-O'Callaghan,Serge Rey,Robert Taylor,2022-04-28 This book examines the current main sustainable development issues in Asia from a socio economic macroeconomic and financial perspective beyond a plain environmental context The book further analyzes both financial or health crises which jeopardize the economic sustainability of countries particularly in Asia where a sustained economic growth path is an occurrence of the recent past By doing so the volume presents case studies on countries such as China Japan South Korea and ASEAN countries like Thailand In some instances the book provides a comparative analysis of the experience of European Union countries The book is divided into two parts The first part presents contributions with socio economic perspectives under the broad heading of sustainable development Each contribution examines a specific Asian country Additionally it looks into China's rise in adjacent regions like the Middle East discussing China's positioning in the world in the current post Covid19 context The second part presents the experiences of a number of Asian countries in terms of financial and economic perspectives including an analysis of the issue of sovereign debt The book further examines broader topics like the sustainability of the top financial centers and micro finance The volume is a must read for scholars students and practitioners interested in a better understanding of sustainable development issues in Asia in particular and economics in general
