Environmental Perception And Behavior An Inventory And Prospect:

Environmental Perception and Behavior Thomas Frederick Saarinen, David Seamon, James L. Sell, 1984

Proceedings of the 2005 Northeastern Recreation Research Symposium, 2006 Behavior and Environment T.

Garling, R.G. Golledge, 1993-01-28 Active researchers in the areas of geography and psychology have contributed to this book. Both fields are capable of increasing our scientific knowledge of how human behavior is interfaced with the molar physical environment. Such knowledge is essential for the solution of many of today's most urgent environmental problems. Failure to constrain use of scarce resources, pollution due to human activities, creation of technological hazards and deteriorating urban quality due to vandalism and crime are all well known examples. The influence of psychology in geographical research has long been appreciated but it is only recently that psychologists have recognized they have something to learn from geography. In identifying the importance of two-way interdisciplinary communication, a psychologist and a geographer have been invited to each write a chapter in this book on a designated topic so that close comparisons can be drawn as to how the two disciplines approach the same difficulties. Since the disciplines are to some extent complementary, it is hoped that this close collaboration will have synergistic effects on the attempts of both to find solutions to environmental problems through an increased understanding of the many behavior-environment interfaces. The Behavioural Environment F.W.

Boal, D.N. Livingstone, 2003-09-02 Placing human action and perception at the centre of the subject, this book considers the effects of mankind on the environment, drawing particularly from William Kirk's work on the behavioural environment model. Reviewing Kirk's original model in light of recent ideological debate and extensive new evidence, this collection of essays from leading names in the field shows that a behavioural approach is essential in understanding human geography and man's relationship with the ecological environment. General Technical Report NE, 1980 The Aesthetics Of Human Environments Arnold Berleant, Allen Carlson, 2007-05-24 The Aesthetics of Human Environments is a companion volume to Carlson's and Berleant's The Aesthetics of Natural Environments. Whereas the earlier collection focused on the aesthetic appreciation of nature, The Aesthetics of Human Environments investigates philosophical and aesthetics issues that arise from our engagement with human environments, ranging from rural landscapes to urban cityscapes. Our experience of public spaces such as shopping centers, theme parks and gardens, as well as the impact of our personal living spaces on the routine activities of our everyday life, are discussed in terms of their aesthetic value and the nature of our aesthetic appreciation. This volume will appeal to any reader concerned about the aesthetic quality of the world in which we live. The Geographies of Young People Stuart C Aitken, 2005-07-08 The Geographies of Young People traces the changing scientific and societal notions of what it is to be a young person and argues that there is a need to rethink how we view childhood spaces, child development and the politics of growing up. This book brings coherency to the growing field of children's geographies by arguing that although most of it does not prescribe solutions to the moral assault against young people, it nonetheless offers appropriate insights into difference and diversity and how young people are constructed Other books in the series Culture Place Health forthcoming Seduction of Place forthcoming Celtic Geographies forthcoming Timespace Bodies Mind and Body Spaces Children s Geographies Leisure Tourism Geographies Thinking Space Geopolitical Traditions Embodied Geographies Animal Spaces Beastly Places Closet Space Clubbing De centering Sexualities Entanglements of Power The Taco Truck Robert Lemon,2019-05-16 Icons of Mexican cultural identity and America s melting pot ideal taco trucks have transformed cityscapes from coast to coast The taco truck radiates Mexican culture within non Mexican spaces with a presence sometimes desired sometimes resented that turns a public street corner into a bustling business Drawing on interviews with taco truck workers and his own skills as a geographer Robert Lemon illuminates new truths about foodways community and the unexpected places where ethnicity class and culture meet Lemon focuses on the San Francisco Bay Area Sacramento and Columbus Ohio to show how the arrival of taco trucks challenge preconceived ideas of urban planning even as cities use them to reinvent whole neighborhoods As Lemon charts the relationships between food practices and city spaces he uncovers the many ways residents and politicians alike contest celebrate and influence not only where your favorite truck parks but what s on the menu Phenomenological Perspectives on Place, Lifeworlds, and Lived Emplacement David Seamon,2023-03-17 Phenomenological Perspectives on Place Lifeworlds and Lived Emplacement is a compilation of seventeen previously published articles and chapters by David Seamon one of the foremost researchers in environmental architectural and place phenomenology These entries discuss such topics as body subject the lived body place ballets environmental serendipity homeworlds and the pedagogy of place and placemaking The volume s chapters are broken into three parts Part I includes four entries that consider what phenomenology offers studies of place and placemaking These chapters illustrate the theoretical and practical value of phenomenological concepts like lifeworld natural attitude and bodily actions in place Part II incorporates five chapters that aim to understand place and lived emplacement phenomenologically Topics covered include environmental situatedness architectural phenomenology environmental serendipity and the value of phenomenology for a pedagogy of place and placemaking Part III presents a number of explications of real world places and place experience drawing on examples from photography Andr Kert sz s Meudon television Alan Ball s Six Feet Under film John Sayles Limbo and Sunshine State and imaginative literature Doris Lessing s The Four Gated City and Louis Bromfield s The World We Live in Seamon is a major figure in environment behavior research particularly as that work has applied value for design professionals This volume will be of interest to geographers environmental psychologists architects planners policymakers and other researchers and practitioners concerned with place place experience place meaning and place making The Semiotic Web 1990: Recent Developments in Theory and History Thomas A. Kull,2004-07-07 Long considered both best friend and worst enemy to humankind fire is at once creative and destructive On the endangered tropical island of Madagascar these two faces of fire have fueled a century long conflict between rural farmers and island leaders Based on detailed fieldwork in Malagasy villages and a thorough archival investigation Isle of Fire offers a detailed analysis of why Madagascar has always been aflame why it always will be aflame and ultimately as Christian Kull argues why it should remain aflame

Deforestation in the Postwar Philippines David M. Kummer,1992-06 The only quantitative deforestation study to focus on one country this case analysis of the Philippines since 1946 yields more concrete data than previous cross national studies David Kummer s close examination of the interactions among political economic and cultural factors and their environmental consequences sheds light on similar situations in other countries

The Politics of Planting Shaul Ephraim Cohen,1993-06 On the open landscape of Israel and the West Bank where pine and cypress forests grow alongside olive groves tree planting has become symbolic of conflicting claims to the land Palestinians cultivate olive groves as a vital agricultural resource while the Israeli government has made restoration of mixed growth forests a national priority Although both sides plant for a variety of purposes both have used tree planting to assert their presence on and claim to disputed land Shaul Ephraim Cohen has conducted an unprecedented study of planting in the region and the control of land it signifies In The Politics of Planting he provides historical background and examines both the politics behind Israel s afforestation policy its consequences Focusing on the open land surrounding Jerusalem and four Palestinian villages outside the city this study offers a new perspective on the conflict over land use in a region where planting has become a political tool For the valuable data it presents collected from field work previously unpublished documents and interviews and the insight it provides into this political struggle this will be an important book for anyone studying the Israeli Palestinian conflict

Natural Disasters and Development in a Globalizing World Mark Pelling,2003 Authorative and comprehensive this book makes clear that there are links between global scale processes and local experiences of disaster but underlies the difficulty of attributing blame for individual disasters on specific global pressures

Geography and Geographers Ron Johnston,James D. Sidaway,2015-12-22 Geography and Geographers continues to be the most comprehensive and up to date overview of human geography available It provides a survey of the major debates key thinkers and schools of thought in the English speaking world setting them within the context of economic social cultural political and intellectual changes It is essential reading for all undergraduate geography students It draws on a wide reading of the geographical literature and addresses the ways geography and its history are understood and the debates among geographers regarding what the discipline should study and how This extensively updated seventh edition offers a thoroughly contemporary perspective on human geography for new and more experienced students alike

Geography, Culture and Education Rod Gerber,M. Williams,2013-04-17 An important challenge for our world is to understand how cultural understanding and geographical education can be linked and used to improve the global society We readily accept that our world is constituted by numerous groups of people who are organised by committees tribes regions nations or continental entities How these groups interact show concern for each others well being and progress is still an unpredictable activity Intercultural tensions racial conflicts and religious clashes have all led to the challenges for enacting a constructive world Fundamental perspectives challenge moderate ones and the resulting tensions produce elements of fear doubt and distrust The extremist views of terrorist groups exaggerate these tensions to the extent that some different cultural groups do not prefer to live in peace with their neighbours Deep seated intercultural tensions predominate over peaceful co existence Such challenges may easily dominate the interaction between racial groups tribes indigenous peoples and colonisers However we know that through the sound practice of intercultural understanding cultural groups in different contexts around the world can interact and co exist successfully and productively In fact they can work together to seek to improve their society This does not mean that one group will dominate the other Rather it means that both groups work together to improve their collective lives Education has played an important role in the long term achievement of such harmony This volume has been developed to demonstrate that geographical education can be a potent force in the development of cultural understanding in different societies Beyond the Basilica Chad F.

Emmett,2012-04-26 Nazareth the largest Arab city in Israel is a surprising example of ethnic harmony in a region dominated by conflict A recent trend toward integration of its historical Greek Orthodox Roman Catholic and Muslim quarters however has disrupted the harmony In Beyond the Basilica Christians and Muslims in Nazareth Chad F Emmett provides penetrating analysis of the complex relationship between the structure of Nazareth s quarters and the relations between its ethnic communities Emmett describes both the positive and negative effects of Nazareth s residential patterns He shows that the addition of new and ethnically mixed quarters has promoted mixed schools joint holiday celebrations a common political culture and social networks that cross ethnic boundaries But he also finds that tensions exist among Christian groups and between Muslims and Christians in regard to intersectorian marriages religious conversion attempts to establish a joint Christian cemetery and the emergence of a local Islamic party Extensive interviews with leaders of religious groups political parties and residents reveal the way in which members of each ethnic community perceive one another A survey of 300 families gives a wealth of details about the make up of Nazareth s population including residential histories religion level of religious conviction friendship and shopping patterns and much more Fourteen maps trace changes in the distribution of religious groups and political affiliation in Nazareth from the mid nineteenth century to the present Beyond the Basilica will interest cultural geographers historians demographers political scientists and anyone who would like to learn more about an ethnically divided community in the residents cooperate more than they fight Thinking European(s) Margaret Keane,Maria Villanueva,2020-06-12 Unthinking prejudice is a major challenge in an ever changing pluralist Europe where local and global identities intermingle and contested pasts clash The new geographies constructed in response to this are at the core of Thinking European s It has been written to bring these geographies alive and to foster active and reflective citizens who are able to work productively within Europe's changing cultural environment. This integrated work provides a framework to stimulate students' critical thinking and to prompt reflection. It seeks to stir geographical imaginations through case studies carried out in Austria, Bulgaria, Finland, Ireland, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Turkey, the United Kingdom, and the United States. The authors of Thinking European's cross cultures, religions, languages, genders, ideologies, and political boundaries; they stress dialogue, negotiation, and value multiple geographical knowledges. University teachers and undergraduates will find Thinking European's a valuable resource for courses on Europe, Regional Geography, European Integration, European Studies, Cultural Studies, Social Studies, or Area Studies.

Geography, Resources and Environment, Volume 1 Gilbert F. White, 1986-02. Gilbert F. White is the preeminent geographer of natural resources, hazards, and the human environment. During fifty years of professional work as civil servant, scientist, and educator, he authored numerous books and papers. This volume is the first collection of White's work spanning his interests and career from 1934 to 1984. Individual introductions by the editors place each selection in historical perspective and assay its significance. With the companion volume Theme from the Work of Gilbert F. White, White's writings and the work that he inspired are now readily accessible to all who share his concern for the stewardship of the earth.
