Force in Animation Aesthetics Ryan Pierson, 2020 How can we describe movements in animated films In Figure and Force in Animation Aesthetics Ryan Pierson introduces a powerful new method for the study of animation By looking for figures arrangements that seem to intuitively hold together and forces underlying units of attraction repulsion and direction Pierson reveals startling new possibilities for animation criticism history and theory Drawing on concepts from Gestalt psychology Pierson offers a wide ranging comparative study of four animation techniques soft edged forms walk cycles camera movement and rotoscoping as they appear in commercial artisanal and avant garde works In the process through close readings of little analyzed films Pierson demonstrates that figures and forces make fertile resources for theoretical speculation unearthing affinities between animation practice and such topics as the philosophy of mathematics scientific and political revolution and love Beginning and ending with the imperative to look closely Figure and Force in Animation Aesthetics is a performance in seeing the world of motion anew Children's Drawings of the Human Figure Maureen

V. Cox, 2013-05-24 The human figure is one of the earliest topics drawn by the young child and remains popular throughout childhood and into adolescence When it first emerges however the human figure in the child's drawing is very bizarre it appears to have no torso and its arms if indeed it has any are attached to its head Even when the figure begins to look more conventional the child must still contend with a variety of problems for instance how to draw the head and body in the right proportions and how to draw the figure in action In this book Maureen Cox traces the development of the human form in children s drawings she reviews the literature in the field criticises a number of major theories which purport to explain the developing child s drawing skills and also presents new data Secrets of Figure Creation with Poser 5 B L
