Film-Cinema-Movie Gerald Mast,1978-04 Haunting the World Dominic Lash,2025-07-01 Argues that the experience of the ordinary film viewer and the investigations of the film scholar or film philosopher are not necessarily so far apart In Haunting the World Dominic Lash tries to show that taking films seriously in no way interferes with the pleasure we get from watching them The book draws its title from the philosopher Stanley Cavell who saw haunting the world as something we are all prone to and who claimed that cinema s relationship with this tendency is both an importance and a danger of film Specifically Lash proposes that the work of Cavell and of the critic and scholar V F Perkins have valuable lessons to offer contemporary film studies some of which are in danger of being neglected Written in a lively and approachable style that makes philosophical ideas accessible without simplifying them the book argues that film theory risks going awry when it dismisses or underestimates the experience of the ordinary film viewer Haunting the World offers fresh accounts of fundamental topics including description experience and agency and examines in detail important films by Ildik Enyedi Paul Thomas Anderson Ridley Scott Werner Herzog Andrei Tarkovsky Kelly Reichardt and more Peckinpah's Tragic Westerns John L. Simons,Robert Merrill,2014-01-10 The work of Sam Peckinpah represents a high point in American cinema This text is the first theoretical and critical attempt to place Peckinpah within the 2 000 year old tradition of western tragedy The tradition enfolding the Greeks Shakespeare and modern tragedians is represented in Peckinpah s art in numerous ways and the fact that he worked in the mode throughout his career distinguishes him from most American film directors Films covered include Ride the High Country Noon Wine The Wild Bunch Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid and Bring Me the Head of Alfredo Garcia The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film Paisley Livingston,Carl Plantinga,2008-10-27 The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film is the first comprehensive volume to explore the main themes topics thinkers and issues in philosophy and film The Companion features sixty specially commissioned chapters from international scholars and is divided into four clear parts issues and concepts authors and trends genres film as philosophy Part one is a comprehensive section examining key concepts including chapters on acting censorship character depiction ethics genre interpretation narrative reception and spectatorship and style Part two covers authors and scholars of film and significant theories Part three examines genres such as documentary experimental cinema horror comedy and tragedy Part four includes chapters on key directors such as Tarkovsky Bergman and Terrence Malick and on particular films including Memento Each chapter includes a section of annotated further reading and is cross referenced to related entries The Routledge Companion to Philosophy and Film is essential reading for anyone interested in philosophy of film aesthetics and film and cinema studies Bruce Conner Rudolf Frieeling,Gary Garrels,2016-07-04 This book is published by the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art on the occasion of the exhibition Bruce Conner It s All True co curated by Stuart Comer Rudolf Frieeling Gary Garrels and Laura Hoptman with Rachel Federman Colophon The Mysteries of Paris and London

Richard Maxwell, 1992 In this ambitious and exciting work Richard Maxwell uses nineteenth century urban fiction particularly the novels of Victor Hugo and Charles Dickens to define a genre the novel of urban mysteries His title comes from the mystery mania that captured both sides of the channel with the runaway success of Eugene Sue's Les mysteres de Paris and G W M Reynold's Mysteries of London Richard Maxwell argues that within these extravagant but fact obsessed narratives the archaic form of allegory became a means for understanding modern cities The city dwellers drive to interpret linked the great metropolises with the discourses of literature and art the primary vehicles of allegory Dominant among allegorical figures were labyrinths panoramas crowds and paperwork and it was thought that to understand a figure was to understand the city with which it was linked Novelists such as Hugo and Dickens had a special flair for using such figures to clarify the nature of the city Maxwell draws from an array of disciplines ideas and contexts His approach to the nature and evolution of the mysteries genre includes examinations of allegorical theory journalistic practice the conventions of scientific inquiry popular psychiatry illustration and modernized wonder tales such as Victorian adaptations of the Arabian Nights In The Mysteries of Paris and London Maxwell employs a sweeping vision of the nineteenth century and a formidable grasp of both popular culture and high culture to decode the popular mysteries of the era and to reveal man's evolving consciousness of the city His style is elegant and lucid It is a book for anyone curious about the fortunes of the novel in the nineteenth century the cultural history of that period particularly in France and England the relations between art and literature or the power of the written word to produce and present social knowledge

Bert Cardullo, 2010-03-01 Screen Writings Genres Classics and Aesthetics offers close readings of genre films and acknowledged film classics in an attempt to explore both the aesthetics of genre and the definition of classic as well as the changing perception of so called classic movies over time Implicitly theoretical as much as it is unashamedly practical this book is a model not only of film analysis but also of the enlightened deployment of cultural studies in the service of cinema study The Technology of the Novel Tony E. Jackson, 2009-05-13

The connection between speech and writing in human language has been a matter of philosophical debate since antiquity By plumbing the depths of this complex relationship Tony E Jackson explains how the technology of alphabetic writing has determined the nature of the modern novel Jackson s analysis begins with the universal human act of oral storytelling While telling stories is fundamental to human experience writing is not Yet the novel perhaps more than any other literary form depends on writing In fact as Jackson shows quite clearly it is writing rather than print that most shapes the forms and contents of the genre Through striking new readings of works by Austen Mary Shelley Dickens Forster Woolf Lessing and McEwan Jackson reveals how the phenomena of speech and storytelling interact with the technological characteristics of writing He also explains how those interactions induced the generic changes in the novel from its eighteenth century beginnings to postmodernism and beyond His claims grounded in a contemporary understanding of human cognitive capacities and constraints offer a fresh interpretive approach to all written literature An essential text in the study of the written word The Technology of the Novel provides new insights into the evolving nature of one of the modern world s most popular narrative forms Understanding Film James R Russo, 2021-01-12 This film analysis textbook contains sixteen essays on historically significant artistically superior films released between 1922 and 1982 Written for college high school and university students the essays cover central issues raised in today s cinema courses and provide students with practical models to help them improve their own writing and analytical skills This film casebook is geographically diverse with eight countries represented Italy France the United States Russia Germany Great Britain Japan and India The essays sophisticated yet not overly technical or jargon heavy are perfect introductions to their respective films as well as important contributions to the field of film studies in general The book s critical apparatus features credits images and bibliographies for all films discussed filmographies for the directors a glossary of film terms the elements of film analysis a chronology of film theory and criticism topics for writing and discussion a bibliography of film criticism and a comprehensive index Understanding Film A Viewers Guide bucks the trend of current film analysis texts few of which contain actual film analyses by promoting analysis of the chosen films alongside the methods and techniques of film analysis It has been prepared as a primary text for courses in film analysis and a supplementary text for courses such as Introduction to Film or Film Appreciation History of Film or Survey of Cinema and Film Directors or Film Style and Imagination Transfigurations Asbjørn Grønstad, 2008 In many senses viewers have cut their teeth on the violence in American cinema from Anthony Perkins slashing Janet Leigh in the most infamous of shower scenes to the 1970s masterpieces of Martin Scorsese Sam Peckinpah and Francis Ford Coppola to our present day undertakings in imagining global annihilations through terrorism war and alien grudges Transfigurations brings our cultural obsession with film violence into a renewed dialogue with contemporary theory Grønstad argues that the use of violence in Hollywood films should be understood semiotically rather than viewed realistically Transfigurations thus alters both our methodology of reading violence in films and the meanings we assign to them depicting violence not as a self contained incident but as a convoluted network of our own cultural ideologies and beliefs Cinematic Emotion in

Theories of the Soundtrack James Buhler, 2019 A theory of the soundtrack is concerned with what belongs to the soundtrack how a soundtrack is effectively organized how its status in a multimedia object affects the nature of the object the tools available for its analysis and the interpretive regime that the theory mandates for determining the meaning sense and structure that sound and music bring to film and other audiovisual media Beyond that a theory may also delineate the range of possible uses of sound and music classify the types of relations that films have used for image and sound identify the central problems and reflect on and describe effective uses of sound in film This book summarizes and critiques major theories of the soundtrack from roughly 1929 until today Rather than providing an exhaustive historical survey it sketches out the range of theoretical approaches that have been applied to the soundtrack since the commercial introduction of the sound film The basic theoretical framework of each approach is presented taking into account the explicit and implicit claims about the soundtrack and its relation to other theories The organization is both chronological and topical the former in that the chapters move steadily from early film theory through models of the classical system to more recent critical theories the latter in that the chapters highlight central issues for each generation the problem of film itself then of image and sound of adequate analytical descriptive models and finally of critical interpretative models

The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum. It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject. Core areas treated include film ontology, film structure, psychology, authorship, narrative, and viewer emotion. Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality, video games, and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters. Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues, film's kinship to other art forms, and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film. Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject.
