The Beatles and Film Stephen Glynn, 2020-11-29 This concise yet comprehensive study explores the emblematic journey by four young men from Liverpool from the epicentre of teen led youth culture to the experimentation of the counterculture and beyond Beginning with the celebration of Britain s own youthquake in the joyous and genre shifting A Hard Day s Night 1964 the author delves into how the Beatles film work allows us to chart their subsequent musical maturation and retreat from the tribulations of stardom in Help their tentative attempts at improvised filming in the televised Magical Mystery Tour 1967 their acceptance of cartoon representations as leaders of the hippie counterculture in Yellow Submarine 1968 and the final implosion of their musical dynamic in the recording studios of Let It Be 1970 The book analyses how as they grew with their fanbase the Beatles films alternate stylistically between mimetic representation and allegorical interpretation and switch narratively between fan filled and welcoming worlds to films relaying introspection and isolation Offering an in depth case study of the successes and failures of British youth culture in a volatile decade The Beatles and Film is an engaging text for both scholars and general readers alike      How I Filmed the War Geoffrey H. the works for the big screen and shaping the Western film genre The adaptations of seven of the pulps best writers Ernest Haycox Luke Short Frank Gruber Norman A Fox Louis L Amour Marvin H Albert and Clair Huffaker are analyzed here Insightful and humorous the work looks at how the pulp novels and the movie adaptations reflected the times in which they were produced It examines the cliches that became a part of the story the rescue of the heroine the gunfights the evil banker or rancher ready to steal the land of the good law abiding citizens and the harlot with a heart of gold A critical examination of how the books were interpreted or frequently misinterpreted by filmmakers is included along with commentary on the actors and directors who put the pulps on screen

Boman,2011-11-01 One L meets You ll Never Eat Lunch in This Town Again In this comic and moving and completely true tale Film School reveals what life is like at the elite school that trained Hollywood s biggest names When Midwestern journalist Steve Boman applied to the University of Southern California s vaunted School of Cinematic Arts the world s oldest and most prestigious film school he had more than a few strikes against him His wife was recovering from thyroid cancer His beloved sister had just died of leukemia He lost his job He had three young children He was in his late 30s And he had no experience in filmmaking As Boman navigates his way through USC s arduous three year graduate production program he finds that his films fall flat he s threatened with being kicked out of the program and he becomes the old guy no one wants to work with Defeated he quits and moves back to the Midwest to be with his family After he is urged by his wife to reapply he miraculously gets in for a second time only to have a stroke on the first day of classes But instead of doing the easy thing running away again Boman throws caution to the wind and embraces the challenge He slowly becomes a gray haired Golden Boy at USC with films that sparkle And then he does the impossible While still in school for a class project he dreams up a television series that CBS catches wind of and develops into THREE RIVERS a primetime Sunday night show This story of challenge and triumph and what it takes to make it in the world s most famous film school is a must read for anyone aspiring to become a Hollywood great or anyone just looking for a good story Hollywood Incoherent Todd Berliner,2010-10-01

Most books about American film in the 1970s tell stories about iconoclastic auteurs working in the shadow of the Vietnam War Stepping away from this tradition Todd Berliner gives us a bold and compelling study of the strange paradoxical narrative style of seventies films which seemed to flout the canonical structure of the well made film Berliner sheds new light on a well studied period His lively prose and the delight he takes in explicating the classics of that era make this book a real pleasure to read Stephen Prince Professor of Cinema at Virginia Tech and author of Firestorm American Film in the Age of Terrorism The wave of innovative filmmaking that surged in 1970s Hollywood has come to be cherished as dearly by many cineastes as the earlier golden age of studio filmmaking American filmmaking of this period has been much discussed in relation to the crisis of the film industry and the sociopolitical currents of the time Todd Berliner s important study focuses on what is usually taken for granted in such work the form texture and tone of the films themselves and the experiences that they create for spectators His exacting and wide ranging study explores the interplay between narrative unity and incongruity as it is manifested in different ways in acknowledged classics directed by Coppola Friedkin Scorsese and Cassavetes as well as in many less well known films Berliner also shows how these films have had a lasting impact on Hollywood filmmaking Hollywood Incoherent provides the sustained and systematic exploration of the aesthetics of the Hollywood Renaissance that the films deserve and the field of film studies needs Murray Smith Professor of Film Studies University of Kent Tales from the Cult Film Trenches Louis Paul,2014-11-29

From movie villains to scream queens here are interviews with 36 actors and actresses familiar to fans of sixties and seventies cult cinema Interviewees include the well known David Carradine Christopher Lee the relatively obscure Marrie Lee sex symbols Valerie Leon surfers who became movie stars Don Stroud and action heroes Fred Williamson among many others Each interview is accompanied by a biography and filmography     Architecture and Science-fiction Film David Terrance Fortin,2011 The enduring paradoxes of the home are often brought to light in science fiction SF writing and film However while crossovers between architecture and SF have proliferated the home is often overshadowed by the spectacle of otherness By examining the home from the estranging perspective of SF and in particular the films based on Phillip K Dick s books this work offers a unique critical analysis with particular relevance for contemporary architecture     Contemporary Film Directors Peter Brunette,2005-03-22 Wong Kar Wai traces this immensely exciting director s perennial themes of time love and loss and examines the political implications of his films especially concerning the handover of former British colony Hong Kong to the People s Republic of China This book is the first in any language to cover all of Wong s work from his first film As Tears Go By to his most recent the still unreleased 2046 It also includes his best known highly honored films Chungking Express Happy Together and above all In the Mood for Love Most importantly Peter Brunette describes the ways in which Wong s supremely visual films attempt to create a new form of cinema by relying on stunning suggestive visual images and audio tracks to tell their story rather than on traditional notions of character dialogue and plot The question of Wong Kar wai s use of genre film techniques in art films is also explored in depth
