A Disciplinary Blueprint for the Assessment of Information Literacy Dorothy Anne Warner,2008-06-30 Have you ever worried that literature on library instruction deals more with methods of assessing student attitude than student learning If so you ll be glad to know someone is doing something about it Eight unique disciplinary modules are presented each identifying a series of information literacy objectives developed in accordance with Bloom s Taxonomy of Cognitive Objectives A substantive curriculum map embedded within each module lists the sequence of courses required for the disciplinary major and the level at which the course is taught sophomore junior etc notes whether information literacy instruction is currently taught by the library for that particular course and delineates the specific information literacy learning objectives the students must master in order to fulfill the course assignments Collaborative responsibility for teaching the information literacy skills is also outlined with specific recommendations for ways the library can strengthen its support for the specific discipline In addition assessment methodologies are identified including scoring rubrics designed specifically for the disciplinary information literacy objectives An indispensable resource for academic librarians ready to take the leap from episodic reactive response to programmatic sequenced integration into the curriculum

Narrating Conflict in the Middle East Dina Matar,Zahera Harb,2013-06-21 The term conflict has often been used broadly and uncritically to talk about diverse situations ranging from street protests to war though the many factors that give rise to any conflict and its continuation over a period of time vary greatly The starting point of this innovative book is that it is unsatisfactory either to consider conflict within a singular concept or alternatively to consider each conflict as entirely distinct and unique Narrating Conflict in the Middle East explores another path to addressing long term conflict The contributors set out to examine the ways in which such conflicts in Palestine and Lebanon have been and are narrated imagined and remembered in diverse spaces including that of the media They examine discourses and representations of the conflicts as well as practices of memory and performance in narratives of suffering and conflict all of which suggest an embodied investment in narrating or communicating conflict In so doing they engage with local global and regional realities in Lebanon and in Palestine and they respond dynamically to these realities

Thinking on Screen Thomas E. Wartenberg, 2007-10-31 Thinking on Screen Film as Philosophy is an accessible and thought provoking examination of the way films raise and explore complex philosophical ideas Written in a clear and engaging style Thomas Wartenberg examines films ability to discuss and even criticize ideas that have intrigued and puzzled philosophers over the centuries such as the nature of personhood the basis of morality and epistemological skepticism Beginning with a demonstration of how specific forms of philosophical discourse are presented cinematically

Wartenberg moves on to offer a systematic account of the ways in which specific films undertake the task of philosophy. Focusing on the films The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance, Modern Times, The Matrix, Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind, The Third Man, The Flicker and Empire, Wartenberg shows how these films express meaningful and pertinent philosophical ideas. This book is essential reading for students of philosophy with an interest in film aesthetics and film theory. It will also be of interest to film enthusiasts intrigued by the philosophical implications of film.

Darcy Lange, Videography as Social Practice Mercedes Vicente, 2023-11-20

The Videography of Darcy Lange is a critical monograph of a pivotal figure in early analogue video. Trained as a sculptor at the Royal College of Art, Lange developed a socially engaged video practice with remarkable studies of people at work in industrial farming and teaching contexts that drew from conceptual art, social documentary and structuralist filmmaking. Lange saw in portable video a democratic tool for communication and social transformation, continuing the legacy of the revolutionary avant-garde projects that merged art with social life and turned audiences into producers. This book follows Lange's trajectory from his early observational studies to the crisis of representation and socially engaged video and activism as it is shaped by and resists the artistic, cultural and political preoccupations of the 1970s and 1980s. It strikes a balance between being a monographic account providing a close analysis of Lange's oeuvre and drawing from unpublished archival materials a sort of catalogue raisonné whilst maintaining a breadth with theoretical discourses around the themes of labour and class, education and indigenous struggles central to his work. The book's frameworks of Conceptual Art, structuralist and ethnographic film theory, social documentary and the critique of representation, video as social practice and the notion of feedback, participatory, socially engaged art and postcolonial and indigenous theory expand our understanding of video outside the predominant structuralist tendencies. Lange's transnational and nomadic career introduces notions of alterity and challenges nationalistic accounts that excluded him in the past.

Auteurs and Authorship Barry Keith Grant, 2008-02-11

Auteurs and Authorship A Film Reader offers students an introductory and comprehensive view of perhaps the most central concept in film studies. This unique anthology addresses the aesthetic and historical debates surrounding auteurship while providing author criticism and analysis in practice. Examines a number of mainstream and established directors including John Ford, Alfred Hitchcock, Howard Hawks, Douglas Sirk, Frank Capra, Kathryn Bigelow and Spike Lee. Features historically important foundational texts as well as contemporary pieces. Includes numerous student features such as a general editor's introduction, short prefaces to each of the sections, bibliography, alternative tables of contents and boxed features. Each essay deliberately focuses across film makers' oeuvres rather than on one specific film to enable lecturers to have flexibility in constructing their syllabi.

Mychael Danna's The Ice Storm Miguel Mera, 2007-06-15

Ang Lee's The Ice Storm is a film of striking significance which achieved widespread critical acclaim for its well-crafted and superbly acted study of suburban morality in 1970s America. For the film composer Mychael Danna created one of the most distinctive scores of the 1990s, one that constantly challenges perceptions of the form.

and function of film music In Mychael Danna s The Ice Storm A Film Score Guide Miguel Mera explores the music and sound Danna uses in his score investigating the narrative structural and aesthetic themes of the film and illustrating the techniques and stylistic features central to Danna s music Mera carefully examines the collaborative processes that influenced the score s development describing the significance of the composer s relationships with the director producer editor orchestrator and sound designers to the evolution of the score and demonstrating how the politics of filmmaking interact with creativity This seventh volume in Scarecrow s Film Score Guide series also includes a biography of Danna and a complete analysis of the full soundtrack considering the sound design pre-existent pop songs and the specifically arranged song by David Bowie in conjunction with Danna s fascinating score making this essential reading for film music scholars and students

Docufictions Gary D. Rhodes, John Parris Springer, 2014-10-01 Through most of the 20th century the distinction between the fictional narrative film and the documentary was vigorously maintained The documentary tradition developed side by side with but in the shadow of the more commercially successful feature film In the latter part of the century however the two forms merged on occasion and mockumentaries fictional works in a documentary format and docudramas reality based works in a fictional format became part of the film and television landscape The 18 essays here examine the relationships between narrative fiction films and documentary filmmaking focusing on how each influenced the other and how the two were merged in such diverse films and shows as Citizen Kane M A S H This Is Spinal Tap and Destination Moon Topics include the docudrama in early cinema the industrial film as faux documentary the fear evoked in 1950s science fiction films the selling of reality in mockumentaries and reality television and documentary forms The essays provide a foundation for significant rethinking of film history and criticism offering the first significant discussion of two emerging and increasingly important genres Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Decolonizing the Lens of Power Kerstin Knopf, 2008 This is the first book that comprehensively examines Indigenous filmmaking in North America as it analyzes in detail a variety of representative films by Canadian and US American Indigenous filmmakers two films that contextualize the oral tradition three short films and four dramatic films The book explores how members of colonized groups use the medium of film as a means for cultural and political expression and thus enter the dominant colonial film discourse and create an answering discourse The theoretical framework is developed as an interdisciplinary approach combining postcolonialism Indigenous studies and film studies As Indigenous people are gradually taking control over the imagemaking process in the area of film and video they cease being studied and described objects and become subjects who create self-controlled images of Indigenous cultures The book explores the translatability of Indigenous oral tradition into film touching upon the changes the cultural knowledge is subject to in this process including statements of Indigenous filmmakers on this issue It also asks whether or not there is a definite Indigenous film practice and whether filmmakers tend to dissociate their work from dominant classical filmmaking adapt to it or create new film forms and styles through converging classical film conventions and their conscious violation This approach presupposes that Indigenous filmmakers are constantly in some state of reaction to Western ethnographic filmmaking and to classical narrative filmmaking and its epitome the Hollywood narrative cinema The films analyzed are The Road Allowance People by Maria Campbell Itam Hakim Hopiit by Victor Masayesva Talker by Lloyd Martell Tenacity and Smoke Signals by Chris Eyre Overweight With Crooked Teeth and Honey Moccasin by Shelley Niro Big Bear by Gil Cardinal and Atanarjuat The Fast Runner by Zacharias Kunuk
