Claassen,Gerry McAllister,Ron Padgett,Anne

Waldman,1987 Pop Poetics Andy Fitch,2012-08-07 Adopting artist poet Joe Brainard as its principal focus this project presents Pop poetics not as a minor coterie movement meriting a sympathetic footnote in accounts of the postwar era s literary history but as a missing link that confounds and potentially unites any number of supposedly rigid critical distinctions authenticity versus formalism the personal versus the mechanical Pop poetics matter argues Andrew Fitch not just to the occasional aficionado of Brainard s I Remember but to anybody concerned with reconstructing the dynamic aesthetic exchange between postwar art and poetry Neo-Avant-Garde ,2016-08-01 The neo avant garde of the 1950s 60s and 70s is due for a thoroughgoing reassessment This collection of essays represents the first full scale attempt to deal with the concept from an interdisciplinary standpoint A number of essays in this book concentrate on fine art particularly painting and sculpture thereby adding significantly to the growing art historical literature in the field but a number of the contributions also focus on poetry performance theatre film architecture and music Given that there are also major essays here dealing with geographical blindspots in current neo avant garde studies with thematic issues such as art s entanglement with gender mass culture and politics with key neo avant garde publications and with the purely theoretical problems attaching to the theorisation of the topic this collection offers a multi dimensional approach to the subject which is noticeably lacking elsewhere Taken together these essays represent a consolidated attempt at re thinking the cultural logic of the immediate post World War II period The Advocate ,2001-04-24 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States Joe Brainard Joe Brainard,1997 Criminal Ingenuity Ellen Levy,2011-05-13 Poetry was declining Painting advancing we were complaining it was 50 recalled poet Frank O Hara in 1957 Criminal Ingenuity traces a series of linked moments in the history of this transfer of cultural power from the sphere of the word to that of the image Ellen Levy explores the New York literary and art worlds in the years that bracket O Hara s lament through close readings of the works and careers of poets Marianne Moore and John Ashbery and assemblage artist Joseph Cornell In the course of these readings Levy discusses such topics as the American debates around surrealism the function of the token woman in artistic canons and the role of the New York City Ballet in the development of mid century modernism and situates her central figures in relation to such colleagues and contemporaries as O Hara T S Eliot Clement Greenberg Walter Benjamin and Lincoln Kirstein Moore Cornell and Ashbery are connected by acquaintance and affinity and above all by the possession of what Moore calls criminal ingenuity a talent for situating themselves on the fault lines that fissure the realms of art sexuality and politics As we consider their lives and works Levy shows the seemingly specialized question of the source and meaning of the struggle for power between art forms inexorably opens out to broader questions about social and artistic institutions and forces the academy and the museum professionalism and the market and that institution of institutions marriage The Poetry of Disturbance David Bergman,2015-06-30 In The Poetry of Disturbance David Bergman argues that post war poetry underwent a significant if subtle shift in emphasis moving from the modernist concern with the poem as a visual text to one that was chiefly oral in nature. The resulting change was disturbing especially for those brought up on the principles of high modernism. This new stress on orality implied a shift in the economy of the poem away from the austerity of language advocated by Pound and Eliot to a style that conveyed freedom, expansiveness and an innovative directness. Love, Loosha Lucia Berlin, Kenward Elmslie, 2022-11. Love, Loosha is the extraordinary collection of letters between Lucia Berlin and her dear friend the poet and Broadway lyricist Kenward Elmslie. Poetry and Autobiography Jo Gill, Melanie Waters, 2013-12-16. This collection makes a critical and creative intervention into ongoing debates about the relationship between poetry and autobiography. Drawing on recent theories of life writing, the essays in the first part of this volume provide new analyses of works by a range of poets dating from the early modern period to the present day. Exploring the autobiographical resonances of poems by Martha Moulsworth, Mina Loy, Anne Sexton, Joe Brainard, Edward Kamau Braithwaite and Gwyneth Lewis, the authors here examine the extent to which discourses of truth and authenticity have been implicated in traditional interpretations of lyric poetry. In doing so, they endeavour to illuminate the complex intersections and divergences of poetry and autobiography, asking what these forms might learn from each other about issues of shared concern, from questions of identity and textuality to those of reference and audience. The creative reflections which form the second part of the collection develop and respond to these questions in various suggestive and original ways: here poetry and prose are used in order to test the relationship between poetry and life writing and to explore issues of memory, time, place, subjectivity and voice. This book was published as a special issue of Life Writing.
