John P Schaefer:

A Chance to Make a Difference John Paul Schaefer, 2025 John P Schaefer was only thirty six years old when he assumed the role of fifteenth President of the University of Arizona in 1971. The son of hardworking German immigrants Schaefer grew up in Queens New York where childhood centered on sports academics and the great outdoors. Earning a PhD in Chemistry in 1958 Dr Schaefer's career skyrocketed through the ranks of academia moving from junior faculty to university president in a mere decade. As President he led the University of Arizona through a transformational period of growth and is credited with securing the university's status as a top tier research institution. A Chance to Make a Difference recounts poignant eye opening and often humorous stories from childhood to presidency revealing the characteristics of an inspiring university leader and Relevant Knowledge Roger L. Geiger, 2017-09-29 The rise of American research universities to international preeminence constitutes one of the most important episodes in the history of higher education Research and Relevant Knowledge follows Geiger's earlier volume on American research universities from 1900 to 1940 This second work is the first study to trace this momentous development in the post World War II period It describes how the federal government first relied on university scientists during the war and how the resulting relationship set the pattern for the postwar mushrooming of academic research The first half of the book analyzes the development of the postwar system of academic research exploring the contributions of foundations defense agencies and universities The second half depicts the rise of the golden age of academic research in the years after Sputnik 1957 and its eventual dissolution at the end of the 1960s graduate education When the federal patron soon reduced its largesse university students took the lead in challenging the putative hegemony of academic research The loss of consensus quickly brought the malaise of the 1970s stagnation frustration and equivocation about the research role The final chapter appraises the renaissance of the 1980s based largely on a rapprochement with the private sector and ends by evaluating the embattled status of research universities at the beginning of the 1990s Research and Relevant Knowledge provides the first authoritative analytical account of American research universities during their most fateful half century It will be of critical importance to all those concerned with the future of higher education in the United States

State of Connecticut Connecticut. Secretary of the State, 1921 Time of Grace Ken Lamberton, 2015-11-01 I hole up in my own cozy cubicle and write considering ways to make the approaching Thanksgiving holiday not just another day in this place In prison hope faces east time is measured in wake ups Time of Grace is a remarkable book written with great eloquence by a former science teacher who was incarcerated for twelve years for his sexual liaison with a teenage student Far more than a prison memoir it is an intimate and revealing look at relationships with fellow humans and with the surprising wildlife of the Sonoran Desert both inside and beyond prison walls Throughout Ken Lamberton reflects on human relations as they mimic and defy those of the natural world whose rhythms calibrate Lamberton's days and years behind bars He writes with candor about his life while observing desert flora and fauna with the insight and enthusiasm of a professional naturalist While he studies a tarantula digging her way out of the packed earth and observes Mexican freetail bats sailing into the evening sky Lamberton ruminates on his crime and on the wrenching effects it has had on his wife and three daughters He writes of his connections with his fellow inmates some of whom he teaches in prison classes and with the guards who control them sometimes with inexplicable cruelty And he unflinchingly describes a prison system that has gone horribly wrong a system entrapped in a self created web of secrecy fear and lies This is the final book of Lamberton's trilogy about the twelve years he spent in prison Readers of his earlier books will savor this last volume Those who are only now discovering Lamberton's distinctive voice part poet part scientist part teacher and always deeply achingly human will feel as
