Enfleshing Theology Michele Saracino, Robert J. Rivera, 2018-10-31 Enfleshing Theology honors and engages the life work of M Shawn Copeland whose theology is groundbreaking and prophetic traversing the fields of Catholic Theology Black Theology Womanist Thought and Semiotics The book opens with a brief introduction and then moves to an interview with Copeland which connects her theology to her life stories The conversation with Copeland also provides a backdrop to the seventeen essays that follow extending Copeland s theological worldview The contributions are divided according to the following sections embodiment discipleship and politics The essays in the section entitled Engaging Embodiment critically reflect on the importance of embodiment in Christian theology and contemporary culture Following Copeland s lead authors in this section theorize and theologize the body particularly but not limited to Black women s bodies as a locus theologicus that reveals mediates and shapes the splendor and suffering reality of human existence The next section entitled Engaging Discipleship focuses on the concrete challenges of following Jesus in today s world The essays included in this section reflect on Copeland s focus on Jesus particularity in terms of his solidarity with and for others Discipleship is about modeling and mentoring so scholars in this section also comment on Copeland's contribution to teaching and pedagogy. The last section entitled Engaging the Political interrogates the political implications of the theological. It is noteworthy that there are two trajectories of the political here: one is Copeland's development of political theology through the lens of Canadian Jesuit theologian Bernard Lonergan. The other trajectory focuses on the work of theology in contemporary art and politics. These three sections are fluid and overlap with one another. Several of the articles on embodiment speak to questions of solidarity, and a few of the essays on discipleship clearly present as political. The ways in which each of the contributions in this volume overlap with each other attests to the complex nature of doing constructive theology today, and even more, how Copeland's work is at the forefront of that multi-layered, polyvalent, intersectional theological work. Berkeley Lab Research Review, 1998

Ben Cousins: My Life Story Ben Cousins, 2010-11-01. Ben Cousins has one of the most extraordinary stories in modern Australian sport. He's perhaps the most gifted player of his generation, a former captain of the West Coast Eagles, a Brownlow medallist, a premiership winner, voted the AFL's Most Valuable Player, but he's best known for what he's done off the footy field rather than on it. Ben is a self-confessed drug addict whose drug binges would last for days and involve incredible amounts of cocaine, crack, and ice. But what's really remarkable about Ben's story is that the two sides of his life—the captaincy, the premiership, the Brownlow, the accolades, and the frenzy and squalor of the drug scene—were actually done at the same time, side by side.

Disaster by the Bay Brinkley Howard, 2016-04-17. Over 3,000 dead. Buildings shaken to the ground. A city surrounded by water burnt to the ground. Mourning and Resilience in Indian Ocean Life Writing Esther Pujolràs-Noguer, Felicity Hand, 2023-12-28. This volume examines a selection of life writing in English by authors from the South West Indian Ocean, namely South Africa, East Africa, Mauritius, and Sri Lanka. The two motifs that run through the chapters, mourning and resilience, are theoretical frameworks that have so far not been brought into conversation in this way The combination of trauma studies and autobiographical analysis sharpens the focus of the discussions on Indian Ocean life writing privileging an Indian Ocean imaginary that is transnational and cross oceanic in its orientation and pointing to networks of connections that transcend the nation state which is often the origin of trauma in the first place Filling a gap in Indian Ocean studies in its close readings of trauma and resilience the book also broadens perspectives on postcolonial life writing since little attention has been paid so far to Indian Ocean autobiographical literary products By the same token the volume also enriches the field of Indian Ocean literary studies by incorporating life writing as an aesthetic strategy which helps to configure Indian Ocean subjectivities Living Myth D. Stephenson Bond, 2019-06-25 Living Myth explores the dilemma of how to live life creatively at a time when the dominant myths of our culture are losing their power to give meaning to our lives Using C G Jung's idea of discovering a personal myth D Stephenson Bond reflects on the psychology of mythic imagination as a force in both culture and individual life He argues that meaning is experienced subjectively through the stirring of imagination and fantasy in the individual which touches the larger impersonal archetypal patterns The book offers hopeful insights into the possibilities of cultural renewal and individual meaning through the restoration of the imagination The Living Church, 2003-07

The Faultline of Consciousness David Maines, 2017-09-08 In this compendium of related and cross referential essays David R Maines draws from pragmatist symbolic interactionist assumptions to formulate a consistent new view of the entire field of sociology Suitable for courses in social theory qualitative methods social psychology and narrative inquiry this volume will change the way the general public looks at interpretive sociology This book is organized as an expression of the centrality of interactionism to general sociology Each chapter is designed to articulate this view of the field Symbolic interactionism the way Maines has come to understand and use it is essentially the concerted application of pragmatist principles of philosophy to social inquiry There are four basic elements to this characterization First people transform themselves people are self aware beings who reflexively form their conduct and thus are capable of adjusting their lines of action and creating new ones Second people transform their social worlds human action takes place in contexts of situations and social worlds People can modify the social matrices in which they act and thus people are agents of change Third people engage in social dialogue communication is generic and is at the heart of both stability and change A fourth element is that people respond to and deal with their transformations Humans construct situations and societies they establish social structures and cultures These are the consequences of human action and once formed they reflexively function to direct and channel conduct Maines argues that when people do things together they can create enduring group formations such as divisions of labor rules for inheritance wage labor relations or ideologies These are instances of group characteristics that influence human conduct and indeed are not reducible to the traits of individuals making up the group or society
