The European Canton Trade 1723 Marlene Kessler, Kristin Lee, Daniel Menning, 2016-06-20 This critically commented source edition contains the commercial directions merchant diary and naval log of four East India Company ships which sailed from London to Canton China in 1723 as well as the travelogue of another contemporary trader who sailed from Ostend It highlights the roles of cooperation and competition in shaping the relations between these and other European companies as well as the everyday lives of European merchants and mariners The edition thus sheds new light on the history of the East Indies trade during the eighteenth century and its role in encouraging early modern globalization

The Shanghai Taotai Yuen-sang Leung, Yuansheng Liang, 1990 This is a study of the circuit intendant or taotai under the Qing particularly the Shanghai taotai It examines the institutional and historical settings within which the taotai operated and traces the development of the Shanghai taotai office from 1730 through the nineteenth century The focus of investigation is in examining the adjustment of functions and responsibilities of the taotai and his changing role in the post Opium War era particularly in the contexts of foreign relations modernisation and local politics Central to the author's interpretation is the concept of linkage man or linkage position The Shanghai taotai as a linkage man provides vital connection and channel of communication and interaction between two or more separate worlds or value systems and often works as a conflict manager

China : Being a Military Report on the North-eastern Portions of the Provinces of Chih-li and Shan-tung, Nanking and Its Approaches, Canton and Its Approaches India. Quarter Master General's Department. Intelligence Branch, 1884 Hankow William T. Rowe, 1992-12-01 This is the first volume of a two volume social history of the commercial hub of central China in the nineteenth century The emphasis here is on the dynamism of late imperial commerce the relation of the metropolis to the hinterland and the corporate institutions of the city notably its guilds The second volume Hankow Conflict and Community in a Chinese City 1796 1895 focuses on the people of Hankow The Qing Dynasty and Traditional Chinese Culture Richard J. Smith, 2015-10-23 The Qing dynasty 1636 1912 a crucial bridge between traditional and modern China was remarkable for its expansiveness and cultural sophistication This engaging and insightful history of Qing political social and cultural life traces the complex interaction between the Inner Asian traditions of the Manchus who conquered China in 1644 and indigenous Chinese cultural traditions Noted historian Richard J Smith argues that the pragmatic Qing emperors presented a Chinese face to their subjects who lived south of the Great Wall and other ethnic faces particularly Manchu Mongolian Central Asian and Tibetan to subjects in other parts of their vast multicultural empire They were attracted by many aspects of Chinese culture but far from being completely sinicized as many scholars argue they were also proud of their own cultural traditions and interested in other cultures as well Setting Qing dynasty culture in historical and global perspective Smith shows how the Chinese of the era viewed the world how their outlook was expressed in their institutions material culture and customs and how China's preoccupation with order unity and harmony contributed to the civilization's remarkable cohesiveness and continuity Nuanced and wide ranging his authoritative book provides an essential introduction to late imperial Chinese culture and society Handbook on China's Urban Environmental Governance Fangzhu Zhang, Fulong Wu, 2023-11-03 This Handbook addresses how Chinese cities govern environmental changes generated by fast economic growth and urbanisation With in depth case studies on governing waste management climate change and energy transition it will illuminate the relationship between the state market and society in environmental governance Making Capitalism in China You-tien Hsing, 1998 Making Capitalism in China The Taiwan Connection shows that small and medium sized Taiwanese investors are organized in production and marketing networks not vertically integrated conglomerates When in China they directly negotiate and establish partnerships with entrepreneurial local officials not the central bureaucracy Also they effectively transfer a capitalist ideology of production to Chinese factory workers Importantly the investors attribute their business successes in China to the cultural historical and linguistic affinities they share with these local agents Connections regarding socio cultural identity do more than facilitate business dealings or ease labor relations Hsing asserts that partnerships between mainland settlements and overseas Chinese investors constitute a local global coalition of economic reform one that strengthens local autonomy in China and bypasses the control of the central government This coalition is nothing short of a new pattern of foreign direct investment one profoundly influenced by both cultural boundaries usually deemed insignificant in matters of capital flow and globalization and local state agents who operate in this case as crucial business partners A notable work that will appeal to all students of East Asian economic organization ethnic business networks international investment and the political economy of socialist transition Hsing s book is based on hundreds of interviews and participatory observations that she conducted between 1991 and 1996 with investors local officials and factory workers in Taiwan Hong Kong Guangdong Fujian and Shanghai

Annual Report on Urban Development of China 2013 Jiahua Pan,Houkai Wei,2015-04-14 This book focuses on China s urban development In China the process of allowing more rural migrants to become registered city residents in urban areas remains stagnant despite its importance to the Chinese government and the existence of a national consensus about it Cities can compulsorily purchase land from farmers at low or even no costs and most farmers whose families have relied on the land to make a living for generations do not profit from increases in land value Breaking down the established distributive system of rights and privileges requires legislation and law enforcement To this end we need to break through the current pattern of interests and respect the citizenization relevant rights of rural migrant workers
