A. J. Hoogendijk,Brian Paul Muhs,2008 This volume contains editions of sixty five Greek Demotic Coptic and Arabic texts from Egypt contributed as a token of friendship and respect by forty six of Klaas Worpa TM s colleagues and co authors upon his retirement from the Papyrological Institute of the University of Leiden in August 2008 The contents are as diverse as Klaas Worpa TM s own wide range of interests and provide a vivid impression of life and culture in Graeco Roman Egypt The texts are written on papyrus potsherds parchment paper and wood They include both literary and documentary papyri and ostraca and date from the third century BC to the eleventh century AD They are published fully most for the first time with transcriptions and translations and are accompanied by photographs     Catalogue of Accessions Dr. Williams's Library,1955     Digital Papyrology I Nicola Reggiani,2017-09-11 Since the very beginnings of the digital humanities Papyrology has been in the vanguard of the application of information technologies to its own scientific purposes for both theoretical and practical reasons the strong awareness towards the problems of human memory and the material ways of preserving it the need to work with a multifarious and overwhelming amount of different data After more than thirty years of development we have now at our disposal the most advanced tools to make papyrological studies more and more effective and even to create a new conception of papyrology and a new model of edition of the ancient documents At this turning point it is important to build an epistemological framework including all the different expressions of Digital Papyrology to trace a historical sketch setting the background of the contemporary tools and to provide a clear overview of the current theoretical and technological trends so that all the possibilities currently available can be exploited following uniform pathways The volume represents an innovative attempt to deal with such topics usually relegated into very quick and general treatments within journal articles or papyrological handbooks     Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1977     The Journal of Egyptian Archaeology ,1915     APHex I Marco Perale,2020-10-12 Adespota Papyracea Hexametra Graeca provides a comprehensive corpus of anonymous hexameter texts on papyri parchments ostraca and tablets that have appeared in the current and past two centuries The project has three main objectives i to retrieve and determine how many and what type of unidentified hexameter poems reached us via Egyptian papyri ii to restore a readable and reliable text for these poems providing straightforward access to material that has been hard to reach in print format is still unavailable online or has not been previously translated into English or any other modern language iii to discuss insofar as the fragmentary state of the evidence allows issues of style metre and attribution Overall it aspires to serve as a fresh and solid starting point for future assessment of Greek poetry in Egypt from the Archaic period to Late Antiquity This first volume of papyrus adespota contains i a catalogue of hexameter adespota and ii critical editions with English translation and commentary of cosmologies and foundation poems no 01 06 astronomical and astrological texts 07 12 didactic and technical poetry 13 16 hymns 17 32 fragments of erotic content 33 38 epithalamia 39 43 and two hexameter anthologies the Goodspeed papyrus 44 and the so called Pamprepius codex 45 Future volumes will contain Encomia and Lamentations 46 67 Bucolic 68 71 and Epic poetry 72 144 assemblages of Homeric verses 145 154 magical verses 155 166 oracles 167 169 fragments of uncertain genre or content 170 204 hexameter quotes from grammatical papyri and ancient commentaries 205 216 217 219 gnomic hexameters 220 221 pangrams 222 235 texts copied or produced within a school context 236 242

Copying Early Christian Texts Alan Mugridge, 2016-07-19 It is widely believed that the early Christians copied their texts themselves without a great deal of expertise and that some copyists introduced changes to support their theological beliefs In this volume however Alan Mugridge examines all of the extant Greek papyri bearing Christian literature up to the end of the 4th century as well as several comparative groups of papyri and concludes that on the whole Christian texts like most literary texts in the Roman world were copied by trained scribes Professional Christian scribes probably became more common after the time of Constantine but this study suggests that in the early centuries the copyists of Christian texts in Greek were normally trained scribes Christian or not who reproduced those texts as part of their trade and while they made mistakes copied them as accurately as any other texts they were called upon to copy

Working with Manuscripts Liv Ingeborg Lied, Brent Nongbri, 2025-04-15 A first of its kind handbook outlining best practices and common pitfalls for students and textual scholars interested in beginning to work with manuscripts While manuscripts are rare in most of the world today they were once ubiquitous Before the printing press literature was preserved and transmitted through handwritten copies containing variant readings mistakes corrections and other unique features Those who study premodern texts however often use as their primary sources not these diverse artifacts but critical editions that present a single convenient hybrid text Brent Nongbri and Liv Ingeborg Lied argue that knowledge of manuscripts is important for all interpreters of ancient texts even if learning how to study them can be confusing and intimidating In this book they draw on their decades of experience with Jewish and Christian manuscripts to demystify manuscript work Combining their interests in manuscripts as material artifacts with the ethical issues surrounding the study of manuscripts Lied and Nongbri guide students through the main phases of research from considerations of provenance and access to the practicalities of on site research analysis and publication The book includes aids for locating manuscripts helpful case studies tips for organizing data a glossary suggestions for further reading and more Written in an engaging style with students in mind this handbook provides an invaluable resource for anyone who wants to study a manuscript for the first time

Ancient Jewish and Christian Scriptures John J. Collins, Craig A. Evans, Lee Martin McDonald, 2020-08-25 Ancient Jewish and Christian Scriptures examines the writings included in and excluded from the Jewish and Christian canons of Scripture and explores the social settings in which some of this literature was viewed as authoritative and some was viewed either as uninspired or as heretical John J Collins Craig A Evans and Lee Martin McDonald examine how those noncanonical writings demonstrate the historical literary and religious aspects of the culture that gave rise to the writings They also show how literature excluded from the Jewish and Christian canons of Scripture remains valuable today for understanding the questions and conflicts that early Jewish and Christian faith communities faced Through this discussion contemporary readers acquire a broader understanding of biblical Scripture and of Jewish and Christian faith inspired by Scripture
