Evolution and the Human Mind Peter Carruthers, Andrew Chamberlain, 2000-11-02 This volume of essays offers an interdisciplinary examination of the evolution of the human mind

Mindshaping Tadeusz Wieslaw Zawidzki, 2013-05-10 A proposal that human social cognition would not have evolved without mechanisms and practices that shape minds in ways that make them easier to interpret In this novel account of distinctively human social cognition Tadeusz Zawidzki argues that the key distinction between human and nonhuman social cognition consists in our complex diverse and flexible capacities to shape each other's minds in ways that make them easier to interpret Zawidzki proposes that such mindshaping which takes the form of capacities and practices such as sophisticated imitation pedagogy conformity to norms and narrative self constitution is the most important component of human social cognition Without it he argues none of the other components of what he terms the human sociocognitive syndrome including sophisticated language cooperation and sophisticated mindreading would be possible Challenging the dominant view that sophisticated mindreading especially propositional attitude attribution is the key evolutionary innovation behind distinctively human social cognition Zawidzki contends that the capacity to attribute such mental states depends on the evolution of mindshaping practices Propositional attitude attribution he argues is likely to be unreliable unless most of us are shaped to have similar kinds of propositional attitudes in similar circumstances Motivations to mindshape selected to make sophisticated cooperation possible combine with low level mindreading abilities that we share with nonhuman species to make it easier for humans to interpret and anticipate each other's behavior Eventually this led in human prehistory to the capacity to attribute full blown propositional attitudes accurately a capacity that is parasitic in phylogeny and today on prior capacities to shape minds Bringing together findings from developmental psychology comparative psychology evolutionary psychology and philosophy of psychology Zawidzki offers a strikingly original framework for understanding human social cognition

Evolutionary Psychology Neil Levy, 2017-03-02 Evolutionary approaches to the study of human beings have been able to explain the origin and maintenance of many of the features of our bodies Many thinkers believe that an evolutionary approach will be equally fruitful when it comes to explaining the features of our minds Since our behaviour is driven by our minds our cognitive dispositions and processes are likely to have been a target of selection and adaptation This volume collects recent prominent explorations of this theme as well as the voices of dissenters who argue that our minds are far more significantly the product of culture than of evolution

Before Humanity Stefan Herbrechter, 2021-12-13 Before Humanity takes up the question of the post in the posthuman from the position of ancestrality Speculating about who or what comes after the human inevitably throws us back to our very beginnings The before in Before Humanity in this context takes on two meanings 1 what happened before we apparently became human which translates into a critical reading of paleo anthropology as well as evolutionary narratives of hominization 2 living through the end of a certain humanist anthropocentric notion of humanity what tasks lie before us which provokes a critical reading of the Anthropocene and current narratives of geologization In other words Before Humanity investigates conceptualizations of humanity and asks whether we have ever been human and if not what could or maybe what should we have been

Rethinking Commonsense Psychology Matthew Ratcliffe, 2016-01-13 This book offers arguments against the view that interpersonal understanding involves a folk or commonsense psychology a view which Ratcliffe suggests is a theoretically motivated abstraction His alternative account draws on phenomenology neuroscience and developmental psychology exploring patterned interactions in shared social situations Marketing Metaphoria Gerald Zaltman,Lindsay H. Reading Human Nature Joseph Carroll,2011-03-01 As the founder and leading practitioner of literary Darwinism Joseph Carroll remains at the forefront of a major movement in literary studies Signaling key new developments in this approach Reading Human Nature contains trenchant theoretical essays innovative empirical research sweeping surveys of intellectual history and sophisticated interpretations of specific literary works including The Picture of Dorian Gray Wuthering Heights The Mayor of Casterbridge and Hamlet Evolutionists in the social sciences have succeeded in delineating basic motives but have given far too little attention to the imagination Carroll makes a compelling case that literary Darwinism is not just another school or movement in literary theory It is the moving force in a fundamental paradigm change in the humanities a revolution Psychologists and anthropologists have provided massive evidence that human motives and emotions are rooted in human biology Since motives and emotions enter into all the products of a human imagination humanists now urgently need to assimilate a modern scientific understanding of human nature Integrating evolutionary social science with literary humanism Carroll offers a more complete and adequate understanding of human nature Being Religious Mladen Turk,2013-07-12 What makes us religious What is religion This book presents relevant research and theoretical proposals for evolutionary theories of religion and socially and ecologically adaptive theories of religion Most attempts to study religious behaviors through evolutionary biology and related disciplines are still very fragmentary Mladen Turk brings those theoretical approaches in dialogue with religious studies and theology through interpretation and critique that centers on revealing hidden theological assumptions and interpreting theoretical leaps of those approaches to religion In Being Religious Turk expounds understanding of religion as a complex interplay of various capacities arising from and influencing our biological and cultural makeup Our religious behaviors can influence our relationship towards each other and towards our environment in significant ways He shows how some aspects of complex religious behaviors can be understood better in light of human cognition and evolutionary biology At the same time he interprets this knowledge as being preliminary and at times inadequate in its claims of completeness and exhaustiveness because religious behaviors are niched within other religious behaviors and dependent on factors that various mono causal theoretical approaches cannot fully conceptualize The Curse of the Self Mark R. Leary,2007 Although the capacity for self awareness is an essential aspect of human nature self reflection comes at a high price Self awareness and its accompanying egoism profoundly affect people s lives interfering with their success polluting their relationships with other people and undermining their happiness Drawing from work in psychology and other behavioral sciences in The Curse of the Self Mark Leary explores personal and social problems that are created by the human capacity for self reflection and offers insights regarding how these problems may be minimized
