inspiration from Shakespeare's Seven Ages of Man the book uses a case story approach to differentiate the stages of development and to present evidence for how play and playful experiences impact on health and wellbeing from birth to the end of life in the context of temporal and situational change. Each chapter in Play for Health Across the Lifespan introduces relevant evidence based research on play and health before presenting several narrative case stories which illustrate the application of play theory and the neuroscience of play as they relate to each life stage. Leisure in Later Life Tania Wiseman, 2021-05-15 This book analyses leisure choice as a complex concept made more complicated in later life than at any other time. The author posits that there are many unanswered questions about the new booming generation of healthy older people and this book asks what it is really like to be old at the beginning of the 21st century in the United Kingdom, analysing leisure in older people in the context of the subtle politics of the day to day. Throughout the chapters the author highlights the often missing depictions of older people who enjoy and enact bold informed agency as part of their everyday lives. Drawing upon secondary data from the Mass Observation Archive, a social thesis of leisure and ageing emerges that challenges the individualism inherent in active ageing. It is proposed that the idea of active ageing creates complex constraints to leisure as people strive to measure up to cultural expectations. The stories in this book advocate for an appreciation and re-evaluation of passive leisure in later life and the enjoyment and freedom it can bring. The project is therefore useful to students and researchers of leisure studies, gerontology and sociology of ageing.

Men and Welfare Anna Tarrant, Linzi Ladlow, Laura Way, 2022-12-30 This book explores the complex evolving relationships between men, masculinities and social welfare in contemporary context. It is inspired by themes examined in Men, Gender Divisions and Welfare, an edited collection published in 1998 by Popay Hearn and Edwards. While international policy agendas reflect a growing commitment to critically addressing the relations between men, masculinities and policy, in policy and popular discussions, societies continue to grapple with the question of what to do with men. This question reflects an ongoing tension between the persistence of men's power and control over welfare and policy development alongside their ostensible avoidance of welfare services The collection constitutes an up to date account of the gendered and social implications of policy and practice change for men and their inherent contradictions and complexities tracing both stability and change over the past 25 years This book will appeal to students and scholars in diverse fields particularly in sociology social policy applied social sciences gerontology gender studies youth studies welfare studies politics and social geography Given the volume s empirical attention throughout to both policies and practice developments it will also be of interest to those training in applied and vocational degrees such as health and social care social work family support and health visiting

SEARCH FOR MEANING IN LATER LIFE Nienke P. M. Fortuin, 2020-01-01 The search for meaning in later life An empirical exploration of religion and death draws on thorough qualitative and quantitative research among older Dutch adults. The scarcity of vital narratives of ageing and the fragmentation of religious grand narratives appear to complicate their search for meaning. Moreover, increased longevity and the medicalisation of death challenge many older adults to decide about the right timing of death. This study qualitatively and quantitatively explores narratives of ageing and of religion expressed by older Dutch adults and their attitudes toward death, euthanasia, and life prolongation.
