Madagascar Philip M. Allen, 2019-04-02 The world's fourth largest island with a unique biological and physical endowment Madagascar is home to an extraordinary insular civilization that has struggled for more than a century against external domination In this sensitive introduction to the Indian Ocean's great island Philip Allen shows how family affinities and community loyalties at the foundation of Madagascar's culture have influenced Malagasy nationalism and forged islandwide traditions These same principles have nonetheless engendered social cleavages and resistance to economic and political change In chapters on modern Madagascar Allen analyzes the inability of a series of regimes to maintain authority among a people deeply bound to rituals of communication with their spiritual environment He demonstrates how the first Malagasy Republic became stigmatized by its lingering identification with French colonialism and how the nationalist revolution in 1972 soon hardened into autocratic radicalism Allen explores the complex challenges facing Madagascar's resurgent democratic forces including a need to conserve the island's irreplaceable biodiversity and to facilitate authentic participation in public affairs without offending ancestral customs and local precedents Finally he discusses efforts to end Madagascar's economic and political dependence and to improve living conditions for its tragically impoverished population

Madagascar Jay Heale, Zawiah Abdul Latif, 2009 This title provides comprehensive information on the geography history wildlife governmental structure economy cultural diversity peoples religion and culture of Madagascar All books of the critically acclaimed Cultures of the World R series ensure an immersive experience by offering vibrant photographs with descriptive nonfiction narratives and interactive activities such as creating an authentic traditional dish from an easy to follow recipe Copious maps and detailed timelines present the past and present of the country while exploration of the art and architecture help your readers to understand why diversity is the spice of Life Madagascar, 1992 Forest and Labor in Madagascar Genese Marie Sodikoff, 2012-10-17 Protecting the unique plants and animals that live on Madagascar while fueling economic growth has been a priority for the Malagasy state international donors and conservation NGOs since the late 1980s Forest and Labor in Madagascar shows how poor rural workers who must make a living from the forest balance their needs with the desire of the state to earn foreign revenue from ecotourism and forest based enterprises Genese Marie Sodikoff examines how the appreciation and protection of Madagascar's biodiversity depend on manual labor She exposes the moral dilemmas workers face as both conservation representatives and peasant farmers by pointing to the hidden costs of ecological conservation Made in Madagascar Andrew Walsh, 2012-10-04 Since the 1990s the Ankarana region of northern Madagascar has developed a reputation among globe trotting gemstone traders and tourists as a source of some of the world's most precious natural wonders Although some might see Ankarana's sapphire and ecotourist trades as being at odds with each other many local people understand these trades to be fundamentally connected most obviously in how both serve foreign demand for what Madagascar has to offer the world Walsh explores the tensions and speculations that have come with the parallel emergence of these two trades with sensitivity and a critical eye allowing for insights into globalization inequality and the appeal of the natural For more information and to read a hyperlinked version of the first chapter online visit <https://madeinmadagascar.wordpress.com>

Madagascar & Comoros Deanna Swaney, Robert Willox, 1994 Revised and expanded this guide will help travellers discover the beauty and secrets of these largely forgotten islands Unique wildlife varied terrain and the remnants of French colonialism have combined to produce a feeling of suspense and mystery for travellers to these islands

Madagascar Peter Tyson, 2013 Madagascar is a land where lizards scream and monkey like lemurs sing songs of inexpressible beauty Known as the Great Red Island it is a place where fossa and tenrecs vangas and aye ayes thrive in a true Lost World alongside bizarre plants like the octopus tree and the three cornered palm And where the ancestors of the Malagasy as the island's 18 tribes are collectively known come alive in rollicking ceremonies known as turning the bones This natural and cultural history of Madagascar is an exploration of what makes the island so extraordinary It is the only book that combines cutting edge science and conservation with adventure travel and historical narrative Perfect for those about to travel to Madagascar for the first time or just want to learn more much of the historical material will be new to those familiar with Madagascar even researchers who have worked there for years

The Other Hybrid Archipelago Peter Hawkins, 2007-01-01 The Other Hybrid Archipelago presents the postcolonial literatures of the Francophone Indian Ocean islands to an Anglophone audience The islands of Madagascar Mauritius Reunion the Comoros and the Seychelles form a region that has a particular cultural identity because of the varied mixture of populations that have settled there and the dominant influence of French colonialism This survey concentrates on the period since the Second World War when most of the islands achieved independence except for Reunion and Mayotte which maintain a regional status within the French Republic The postcolonial approach suggests certain recurrent themes and preoccupations of the islands cultures and an appropriate way to define their recent cultural production while taking account of the burden of their colonial past The rich cocktail of cultural and linguistic influences surveyed is situated in relation to the contemporary political and social context of the islands and their marginal status within the global economy

Madagascar & Comoros, 2008 'Gone with the Wind' in Madagascar Avril Sellars, 2001-07-18 Set sail with Avril and Don on Gone With The Wind to discover the exquisite and little known paradise of Madagascar lying some 300 miles off the east coast of Africa Explore its western shores reefs and off lying islands Meet its endearing people with their strange and primitive way of life Encounter nature at its most weird and wonderful The armchair sailor will find here an entertaining adventure yarn The serious cruiser or traveler preparing to visit Madagascar will find much to whet the appetite and a good deal of practical information As well as an appendix giving a background sketch of Madagascar there is an extensive
