Slow learners in the English Classroom Dr Binu P.M., 2021-12-14 A classroom is a complex world that contains a relatively heterogeneous group of students Despite their innate skills and abilities some students get unrecognized or neglected due to teachers failure in making proper assessments As a result many students who could be potential scientists or experts in any other field become dropouts or underachievers When classroom instructors only rely on test results without being very keen on using their observational skills to assess their students comprehensively they jeopardize the future of so many children during their careers Hence it would be apt to say that a child's future partially lies in the hands of their early educators This book specifically addresses the problems faced by slow learners in the English classroom It analyses the reasons that make a student a slow learner and provides valuable insights about the strategies and tools English language instructors need to employ to identify and support slow learners in their classes Although this book is intended for use by the teachers of English it will be a helpful guide for all teachers student teachers teacher trainers researchers and policymakers

Faith-Based Education That Constructs HeeKap Lee,2010-08-09 Constructivism is everywhere It is a hot issue at this time in the field of philosophy education technology and religion However can constructivism be an alternative approach in faith based education While some conclude that Jesus knew learning was an active knowledge creating process and that he always encouraged his disciples to think deeply and go beyond the surface level others would find that constructivism undercuts faith based education because of its claims to relativity For example constructivists claim that meaning is imposed on the world by us rather than existing in the world independently from us Thus they proclaim that truth is relative to particular times places and people Christians hold that truth does exist absolutely So how can there be a way forward for faith based educators who see the good in the constructivist approach In Faith Based Education that Constructs readers will find a unique approach whereby constructivism may appropriately be applied to a faith based education setting Although disagreement can occur between constructivism and faith based education this book concludes that constructivist thought and Christian faith based education are in the end congruent and harmonious in significant ways Those faith based educators who continue to hold cautionary views of radical constructivist assertions against absolute truths need not disregard all other aspects of constructivism
