Learning Theory in the Practice of Management Development Sara Grant,Aharon Kfir,Stephen A. Stumpf,Mary Anne Watson,1998-05-21 The workplace is the ideal environment for tying together management theory and practice and yet classes in many regular management development programs are conducted away from the work site and class sizes are so large that individual instruction is difficult to achieve In this book the authors seek effective ways to merge theory with workplace practice and advocate the modular preceptor method whereby participants work together in dyads and triads with a preceptor acting as advisor and instructor Unlike traditional management development programs which do not usually lead to behavior changes the modular preceptor model has behavior change as the basic aim Participants can remain at work while experiencing individualized learning developing problem solving skills and acquiring new knowledge which can be immediately applied to work situations Various ways of learning such as passive lecture case study discussion and experiential role playing games sensitivity training are examined No single mode of learning can be comprehensive and adequate for all situations The authors contend however that experiential learning is most effective for increasing the will and competence to learn and for using what is learned to change manager behavior The purpose of the modular preceptor approach is not to present answers to specific managerial or organizational problems but to help the participant acquire new problem definition and problem solving skills and the confidence to apply them on the job This book also analyzes the contribution of the behavioral sciences to the philosophies and techniques behind management instruction and examines the role of the university in management development and the future direction of MBA programs For anyone concerned with meaningful and effective management development this book is an invaluable resource Lifelong Education for Adults C.J. Titmus,2014-06-28 Lifelong Education for Adults An International Handbook is the first work intended to offer international encyclopedic coverage of research and studies in the whole field of adult education With 127 articles written by international specialists this work will be an invaluable reference source for all those who are engaged in educational activities for adults either as full time planners administrators of educational programmes or part time adult educators There are for example articles on education for work and for living on population education peace and environmental education and on learning for personal development and role fulfilment Conceptual frameworks practical issues relating to instructional methods counselling curriculum and evaluation and developments in distance learning group learning and adult learning are some of the topics discussed Systems of adult education worldwide as well as adult education processes and practices are covered region by region The problems and initiatives of the developing countries are given attention alongside those of advanced countries The collection of articles assembled in this Handbook is unique in the range and depth of treatment given to the field of adult education This volume will thus be of great interest to all engaged in educational activities for adults in adult schools community centres institutions of higher education as well as educationalists planners and decision makers throughout the world who are involved in adult education at all levels

Organizational Learning and the Learning Organization Mark Easterby-Smith, Luis Araujo, John Burgoyne, 1999-04-28 A valuable resource for academics and practitioners in management and corporate strategy as well as those involved in management training and development European Foundation for Management Development The editors overall assessment is that there has been insufficient dialogue between the two camps of action research and theorizing As a contribution to mapping this divided house the text is an apt illustration of these problems The editor's overview is of interest Stephen Gibb University of Strathclyde MCB University Press The debates surrounding concepts of organizational learning and the learning organization receive a welcome synthesis in this book

Adult Education Reiko T. Sakata, 1984      Educational Design Rebecca Thompson, 1991      Modern Methods Of Teaching Adult Education Shalini Wadhwa, 2000      A Companion to Wittgenstein on Education Michael A. Peters, Jeff Stickney, 2017-05-03 This book bringing together contributions by forty five authors from fourteen countries represents mostly new material from both emerging and seasoned scholars in the field of philosophy of education Topics range widely both within and across the four parts of the book Wittgenstein's biography and style as an educator and philosopher illustrating the pedagogical dimensions of his early and late philosophy Wittgenstein's thought and methods in relation to other philosophers such as Cavell Dewey Foucault Hegel and the Buddha contrasting investigations of training in relation to initiation into forms of life emotions mathematics and the arts dance poetry film and drama including questions from theory of mind nativism vs initiation into social practices neuroscience primate studies constructivism and relativity and the role of Wittgenstein's philosophy in religious studies and moral philosophy as well as their profound impact on his own life This collection explores Wittgenstein not so much as a philosopher who provides a method for teaching or analyzing educational concepts but rather as one who approaches philosophical questions from a pedagogical point of view Wittgenstein's philosophy is essentially pedagogical he provides pictures drawings analogies similes jokes equations dialogues with himself questions and wrong answers experiments and so
