Learning Processes With A Deadly Outcome:

Learning Processes with a Deadly Outcome Alexander Kluge, 1996 Fiction writer internationally known filmmaker critical theorist Alexander Kluge is perhaps postwar Germany's most prolific and diverse intellectual With this translation of Learning Processes with a Deadly Outcome a novella first published in German in 1973 one of Kluge's most important literary works becomes available to an English speaking audience for the first time Written in a quasi documentary style this fascinating hybrid work combines science fiction with modernist forms of montage and reportage to describe a future in which Earth has been almost totally destroyed following the catastrophic Black War The planet's remaining inhabitants have been driven underground or into space where the struggle to establish a new society rages on Whether describing the scene in China where the devastated landscape is reconstructed according to old paintings or in the galactic realm of the Starway where giant turf battling corporate colonizing forces exploit the universe's resources Kluge tells his tale by inventing various forms of evidence that satirize the discourses of administrative bureaucracy the law military security and the media He gives us some of his most bizarre and hilarious characters in this peculiar world in which the remains of the past are mixed with the most advanced elements of the future The cast includes highly specialized women workers who have adapted to the massive gravitational field of their heavy metal planets a commander with lethal foot fungus and ex Nazi space pioneers who in their lonely exile from the conflagrations on earth spend their time carving enormous facsimiles of operatic sheet music in the forests of uninhabited planets With parody and humor Kluge shows how the survivors of Armageddon attempt to learn the art of civilization and despite the disaster they have suffered how they set out to reproduce at new sites a caricature of a classic and fascistic feudal capitalism Sämtliche Kinofilme, 2007 Alexander Kluge: Cinema Impure: An Eclectic Modernist Style Peter C. Lutze, 1998 Through his films and theoretical writings and as a television producer teacher political lobbyist lawyer and public spokesman Alexander Kluge has played a substantial role in creating the New German Cinema as well as in German cultural politics Since 1961 Kluge has produced almost thirty films and hundreds of television programs written four volumes of fiction coauthored three major works of sociocultural theory and won almost every major literary and film prize in Germany Peter Lutze provides in depth analysis of Kluge's films and television work but also devotes attention to his political work In raising issues that have become key questions in contemporary debates about modernism and postmodernism Kluge's films and pronouncements demonstrate his modernist sensibility and an appropriation of modernist formal strategies for the purpose of the social critique Dark Matter Richard Langston, 2020-08-04 Collaborators for more than four decades lawyer author filmmaker and multimedia artist Alexander Kluge and social philosopher Oskar Negt are an exceptional duo in the history of Critical Theory precisely because their respective disciplines think so differently Dark Matter argues that what makes their contributions to the Frankfurt School so remarkable is how they think together in spite of these differences Kluge and Negt's gravitational thinking balances not only the abstractions of theory with the concreteness of the aesthetic but also their allegiances to Frankfurt School mentors with their fascination for other German French and Anglo American thinkers distinctly outside the Frankfurt tradition At the core of all their adventures in gravitational thinking is a profound sense that the catastrophic conditions of modern life are not humankind's unalterable fate In opposition to modernity's disastrous state of affairs Kluge and Negt regard the huge mass of dark matter throughout the universe as the lodestar for thinking together with others for dark matter is that absolute guarantee that happier alternatives to our calamitous world are possible As illustrated throughout Langston's study dark matter's promise its critical orientation out of catastrophic modernity finds its expression above all in Kluge's multimedia aesthetic

The Palgrave Handbook of Learning for Transformation Aliko Nicolaides, Saskia Eschenbacher, Petra T. Buergelt, Yabome Gilpin-Jackson, Marguerite Welch, Mitsunori Misawa, 2022-01-24 This handbook offers an expanded discourse on transformative learning by making the turn into new passageways to explore the phenomenon of transformation It curates diverse discourses knowledges and practices of transformation in ways that both includes and departs from the adult learning mainstay of transformative learning and adult education The purpose of this handbook is not to resolve or unify a theory of transformation and all the disciplinary contributions that clearly promote a living concept of transformation Instead the intent is to catalyze a more complex and deeper inquiry into the Why of transformation Each discipline culture ethics and practice has its own specialized care and reasons for paying attention to transformation How can scholars practitioners and active members of discourses on transformative learning make a difference How can they foster and create conditions that allow us to move on to other unaddressed or understudied questions To answer these questions the editors and their authors employ the metaphor of the many turns into passageways to convey the potential of transformation that may emerge from the many connecting passageways between for instance people and society theory and practice knowledge created by diverse disciplines and fields professions individual and collective transformations and individual and social action

Crisis and Astonishment Richard Langston, Irina Simova, 2024-11-18 Children's picture books from the Romantic period Theatrical stages inspired by Spinoza Scenes from the Thirty Years War reimaged by artificial intelligence What narrative cannot achieve Alexander Kluge transposes into the logic of images The first half of the ninth volume of the Alexander Kluge Jahrbuch contains a compilation of Kluge's most recent image experiments that wrestle with crisis and astonishment in the transatlantic public spheres of the twenty first century For Kluge astonishment not only provokes philosophical reflection but also serves as an essential tool for critically grappling with the society of the spectacle In addition to dialogues with Oskar Negt Stefan Aust and painter Katharina Grosse this volume contains scholarly essays on technology and the new space race cinema and iconoclasm revolution and Kluge's aesthetic politics and decolonialism and ecocriticism

Sensitive Subjects Leila Mukhida, 2020-11-01 Both politically and aesthetically the contemporary German and Austrian film landscape is a far cry from the early days of the medium when critics like Siegfried Kracauer produced foundational works of film theory amid the tumult of the early twentieth century Yet as Leila Mukhida demonstrates in this innovative study the writings of figures like Kracauer and Walter Benjamin in fact remain an undervalued tool for understanding political cinema today Through illuminating explorations of Michael Haneke Valeska Grisebach Andreas Dresen and other filmmakers of the post reunification era Mukhida develops an analysis centered on film aesthetics and experience showing how medium specific devices like lighting sound and mise en scene can help to cultivate political sensitivity in spectators

the American philosopher Ronald Dworkin on the occasion of the great European thinker's eightieth birthday is not only the world's most famous living philosopher. Even his fame is famous. Now, after many years of intensive research and in-depth conversations with contemporaries, colleagues, and Habermas himself, Stefan Müller-Doohm presents the first comprehensive biography of one of the most important public intellectuals of our time. From his political and philosophical awakening in West Germany to the formative relationships with Adorno and Horkheimer, Müller-Doohm masterfully traces the major forces that shaped Habermas's intellectual development. He shows how Habermas's life and work were conditioned by the possibilities offered to his generation in the unique circumstances of regained freedom that characterized postwar Germany. And yet Habermas's career is fascinating precisely because it amounts to more than a corpus of scholarly work; however original and influential that may be. For here is someone who continually left the protective space of the university in order to assume the role of a participant in controversial public debates, from the significance of the Holocaust to the future of Europe, and in this way sought to influence the development of social and political life in an arena much broader than the academy. The significance and virtuosity of Habermas's many writings over the years are also fully and expertly documented, ranging from his early work on the public sphere to his more recent writings on communicative action, cosmopolitanism, and the postnational condition. What emerges from this biography is a vivid portrait of one of the great public intellectuals of our time, a unique thinker who has made an immense and lasting philosophical contribution but who, when he perceives that society is not living up to its potential for creating free and just conditions for all, becomes one of its most rigorous and persistent critics.

Difference and Orientation Alexander Kluge, 2019-09-15 Alexander Kluge is one of contemporary Germany's leading intellectuals and artists. A key architect of the New German Cinema and a pioneer of auteur television programming, he has also cowritten three acclaimed volumes of critical theory, published countless essays, and numerous works of fiction, and continues to make films even as he expands his video production to the internet. Despite Kluge's five decades of work in philosophy, literature, television, and media politics, his reputation outside of the German-speaking world still largely rests on his films of the 1960s, 70s, and 80s. With the aim of introducing Kluge's heterogeneous mind to an Anglophone readership, Difference and Orientation assembles thirty of his essays, speeches, glossaries, and interviews revolving around the capacity for differentiation and the need for orientation toward ways out of catastrophic modernity. This landmark volume brings together some of Kluge's most fundamental statements on literature, film, pre- and post-cinematic media, and social theory, nearly all for the first time in English translation. Together, these works highlight Kluge's career-spanning commitment to unorthodox, essayistic thinking.

Catastrophe and Catharsis Katharina Gerstenberger, Tanja Nusser, 2015 Destroying human habitat and taking human lives: disasters, be they natural, man-made, or a combination, threaten large populations, even entire nations and societies. ### Mimesis, Expression, Construction

Fredric Jameson, 2024-03-12 Mimesis

Expression Construction brings Fredric Jameson's famous Duke University seminar on Adorno's Aesthetic Theory into print for the first time. Transcribed and edited from audio recordings taken by Octavian Esanu of the original seminar at Duke University in 2003, Mimesis Expression Construction reproduces Jameson and his students' engagement with Aesthetic Theory, one of the most influential theories of modernist aesthetics. The first and only published record of Jameson's teaching and pedagogic style, the seminar delves into modern and modernist aesthetics through the perspectives of Kant, Hegel, Freud, Schopenhauer, and Nietzsche. Benjamin and other members of the Frankfurt School, the literary works of Thomas Mann and Samuel Beckett, the music of Schoenberg, Webern, and Berg, the films of Chaplin, Vertov, and Eisenstein, the aesthetic implications of psychoanalysis and biblical exegesis, classical music, and more. Presented in the format of a play with stage setting, student interruptions, and exchanges, interjections, auditory noises, and ambient sounds, and complemented with scans of students' notes, Mimesis Expression Construction is a groundbreaking addition to the work of one of the greatest modern cultural critics.

Textual Practice Various, 1997-03-13 In this issue, some of the most influential critics in the field encounter their colleagues in debate. A sad tale's best for South Africa, Martin Orkin, Shakespeare and Hanekom, King Lear and land, Nicholas Visser, Questioning Robert Young's post-colonial criticism, Laura Chrisman, Response to Laura Chrisman, Robert Young, Making love to our employment or the immateriality of arguments about the materiality of the Shakespearean text, Edward Pechter, Lover among the ruins, response to Pechter, Margreta de Grazia and Peter Stallybrass, Busy doing nothing, a response to Edward Pechter, Graham Holderness, Bryan Loughrey and Andrew Murphey, Is she fact or is she fiction, Angela Carter and the enigma of woman, Anne Fernihough, The new romanticism, philosophical stand-ins in English Romantic discourse, Paul Hamilton.

World Cinema and the Ethics of Realism Lúcia Nagib, 2011-01-20 World Cinema and the Ethics of Realism is a highly original study. Traditional views of cinematic realism usually draw on the so-called classical cinema and its allegiance to narrative mimesis, but Nagib challenges this drawing instead on the filmmaker's commitment to truth and to the film medium's material bond with the real. Starting from the premise that world cinema's creative peaks are governed by an ethics of realism, Nagib conducts comparative case studies picked from world new waves such as the Japanese New Wave, the French nouvelle vague, the Cinema Novo, the New German Cinema, the Russo-Cuban Revolutionary Cinema, the Portuguese self-performing auteur, and the Inuit Indigenous Cinema. Drawing upon Badiou and Rancière, World Cinema and the Ethics of Realism revisits and reformulates several fundamental concepts in film studies such as illusionism, identification, apparatus, alienation, effects, presentation, and representation. Its groundbreaking scholarship takes film theory in a bold new direction.

Cosmic Miniatures and the Future Sense Leslie Adelson, 2017-04-10 Alexander Kluge's revolutionary storytelling for the 21st century pivots on the production of anti-realist hope under conditions of real catastrophe. Rather than relying on possibility alone, his experimental miniatures engender counterfactual horizons of futurity that are made incrementally accessible to lived experience through narrative form. Innovative close readings and theoretical reflection alike illuminate the dimensional quality of future time in Kluge's radical prose where off-worldly orientation and unnatural narrative together yield new sensory perspectives on associative networks, futurity, scale, and perspective itself. This study also affords new perspectives on the importance of Kluge's creative writing for critical studies of German thought, including Kant, Marx, Benjamin, and especially Adorno. Holocaust memory, contemporary globalization, literary miniatures, and narrative studies of futurity as form. Cosmic Miniatures contributes an experiential but non-empirical sense of hope to future studies, a scholarly field of pressing public interest in endangered times.
