Lectures On Roman History:

Lectures on the History of Rome Barthold Georg Niebuhr, 1849 Niebuhr's Lectures on Roman History Barthold Georg Niebuhr, 1875 Characters and Events from Roman History Guglielmo Ferrero, 2017-12-02 Two years ago in Paris while giving a course of lectures on Augustus at the Collège de France I happened to say to an illustrious historian a member of the French Academy who was complimenting me But I have not remade Roman history as many admirers think On the contrary it might be said in a certain sense that I have only returned to the old way I have retaken the point of view of Livy like Livy gathering the events of the story of Rome around that phenomenon which the ancients called the corruption of customs a novelty twenty centuries old Lectures on Roman History Barthold Georg Niebuhr, 1875 Niebuhr's Lectures on Roman History Barthold Georg Niebuhr, M (Meyer) Isler, Havilland Le Mesurier? Chepmell, 2025-03-29 Delve into the heart of the Roman Republic and the early Empire with Niebuhr's Lectures on Roman History Vol 1 of 3 Barthold Georg Niebuhr a renowned historian presents a comprehensive and insightful examination of ancient Rome This volume offers a detailed exploration of Roman history meticulously researched and presented in a clear engaging manner Explore the political social and military events that shaped one of history's most influential civilizations Niebuhr's work provides a foundation for understanding the rise and fall of the Roman Republic and the subsequent establishment of the Roman Empire This volume is essential reading for anyone seeking a deeper understanding of Roman history and its lasting impact on Western civilization Perfect for history enthusiasts and students alike this book provides an enduring perspective on the world of ancient Rome This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Characters and Events of Roman History, from Caesar to Nero Guglielmo Ferrero, 1909 Lectures on Roman History Barthold Georg Niebuhr, 1855 Niebuhr's Lectures on Roman History (Complete) Barthold Georg Niebuhr, 1913-01-01 Ancient history divides itself into the history anterior to the rule of Rome which has many centres and into the history of Roman rule wherein there is but one centre Rome the action of which extends on all sides Other nations like the Egyptians have acted by their intellectual power upon the foreigner but were deficient in mind others as the barbarian nations of the Celts and other races became important merely by the mightiness of their conquests Greece by her mind but Rome combines every thing the greatest political perfection might and mind Here is an influence which has become still more lasting and ineffaceable than that of Greece it continues to the latest centuries even to this very day The Roman history has to exhibit the greatest characters achievements and events it is the development of the whole life of a people the like of which is unknown in all the rest of history Of the history of the East as far as regards the stages of its progress we know nothing whatever The Egyptians we find already in castes consequently in fixed forms in which they abide throughout every century they exist unalterable of which their mummies are the emblem and all the changes which we remark in them are a mere dying away The Romans we see almost growing under our eyes indeed they also are early moulded into fixed forms but their origin is no riddle to us The other nations are as buds still folded up in their petals they grow but before they expand they die away or only open imperfectly as it also ever occurs with individuals that among many thousands few only are not checked in their development In modern history the English alone have had a career like that of the Romans In a cosmopolitical point of view therefore these two histories must ever remain the most important ones Here now the whole history of the twelve ages which in the legend of Romulus have also been foretold as the duration of Rome is to be set forth in the beginning the history of the nation and the town then that of the empire and the aggregate of people who bore the name of Romans But first of all let us make ourselves acquainted with the sources Are the sources of the most ancient Roman history before ever an historical literature had arisen in Rome worthy of credit In former times a simple honest belief was prevalent concerning this point it would have been considered as audacity and as a crime if any one had doubted of the Roman history especially that which Livy drew and set forth from the sources at his command It is now quite incomprehensible to us to what a degree very ingenious men like Scaliger who had far more knowledge than we received without any hesitation the details of ancient history deeming for instance the lists of the kings of Sicyon to be quite as authentic as those of the kings of France This state of literary innocence lasted as long as all education was purely philological and derived from books only In the seventeenth century when in England France and Germany a new era commenced for the civilization of mankind many began to be startled at the contradictions which some individuals might have remarked before them but had imposed on themselves silence upon the subject as for instance the Roman Valla the discovery of whose grave is one of the most pleasing remembrances of my life and Glareanus who thereby irritated the ingenious Sigonius a man however who had not the least idea of historical criticism The Italians were for some time a head of the rest of Europe then the French followed and shortly afterwards the Germans As early as towards the end of the sixteenth century lived Pighius a native of the province of Cleves who had original ideas with regard to historical criticism but who has commenced much and finished nothing Then followed Perizonius able criticism and then the sceptical works of Bayle and Beaufort It was not possible in the eighteenth century to receive the Roman history with the same credulity as in the sixteenth since the sphere of the human mind had been so much enlarged during the seventeenth People wanted to comprehend what had happened and how it had come to pass and so they could no more believe in the Roman history as they found it O that Perizonius had gone on with the work which he had begun and had formed the conviction that he must arrive at an historical result without which belief no man can advance and succeed or that others had proceeded in his track But he was wanting in self confidence and others set themselves to the work with less comprehensive powers Beaufort a clever man but whose studies had not been sufficiently comprehensive forms at this time an epoch but his literary and personal imperfections caused him to root up the tares with the wheat Already before had Pouilly in the Mmoires de l Acad mie des Inscriptions et des belles lettres set forth the same opinions but quite crudely It was the time of that extreme scepticism which Bayle had given birth to and Freret had confirmed Beaufort did not feel the necessity of a good groundwork of scientific knowledge nevertheless he held a prominent place in his time and exercised a marked influence upon Hooke and Fergusson who were not capable of any deep inquiry Yet it is remarkable that those points which Beaufort had left untouched caused scruple to no one People made difficulties about the seven kings the chronology and other matters of the kind but they would believe without knowing why and repudiate what had a very good foundation Such a state of things must be followed by a regular sound criticism or there is an end of science
