Learning To Look A Visual Response To Mavis Gallant's Fiction:

Learning to Look Lesley Diana Clement, 2000 In Learning to Look Lesley Clement traces the evolution of Mavis Gallant's visually evocative style through five decades of her short fictional works. Gallant explores the boundaries between visible and invisible worlds as the lines, shapes and colours suggested by her allusions, analogies and structures challenge us as readers.

The Found Voice Denis Sampson, 2016-05-12 The Found Voice: Writers Beginnings uses the means of literary biography and criticism to do something rarely attempted to understand how a key creative period establishes the authoritative voice of a unique artist. The essays, which explore this hidden process of the writer writing, focus on some of the major writers of recent times: V S Naipaul, J M Coetzee, Alice Munro, William Trevor and Mavis Gallant. The focus of investigation is a single work by each author and many of them identify the book in which this turning point was reached. The writers have a somewhat different sense of what the voice is: a true voice, the voice in the mind, the writing voice etc. yet all of them accept the phrase 'finding a voice' as a decisive and necessary process towards a unique style and vision, their raison d'être as artists. These essays allow each one to define his or her sense of the process of writing and their style is exploratory. Nevertheless, certain patterns emerge: of migration and cultural displacement, of linguistic self-consciousness, of memory and a reimagining of the first home, of absorbing and rejecting mentors and models. Crucially, the essays rely not just on what led up to the moment of creation but on a sense of the career that emerged from it. Most of the writers have written retrospectively in memoirs, interviews or essays about the pivotal work and its foundational significance. They are the best witnesses to the process, although their silence or their commentary is understood in terms of the many strands of the narrative that each essay presents.

Transient Questions, 2021-09-20 Mavis Gallant has been a leading literary figure in Canada since her first short story published in 1951 and has grown to be considered internationally as a modern master of the genre. Her writing is nuanced, sensitive, gifted, deep and concise. She leaves everything open for the hidden potential that can always be discovered. Times change, society, history, politics may develop out of recognition. Cultures metamorphose. Literary landscapes and theories are renewed. But the classics of our time stay where they are, pillars of that which is solidly about us. Mavis Gallant's work is of that calibre; her writing will remain interesting and relevant no matter what else happens. This book is an exploration of what Gallant's readers are thinking now, where they place her in the panorama of literature and what meaning she has for them now. Scholars continue to probe into the stories, their characters, the capsules of history they present and continue to find them challenging. As with Shakespeare, no amount of scrutiny will yield the final answer. That is how complex Gallant's writing is. Especially now, when the positioning of her characters is a more prominent condition in general, we need to review Gallant's artistic insights. As Francine Prose says in Harper's Magazine, Gallant's cast of characters are a motley assortment of refugees, fugitives and travelers and displaced persons scrambling on the margins of a society they will never belong to. This is the modern condition. As with other great writers, Gallant shows herself to be prophetic in cutting down to the roots of the sensibility of our era We are reading her work and we are thinking about it and talking about it This book is part of that large conversation Contributors are Neil Besner Di Brandt Nicole C t John Lent Gerald Lynch Maria No lle Ng Peter Stevens Simone Vauthier Per Winther     The Collected Stories of Mavis Gallant Mavis Gallant,2016-08-09 This generous collection of fifty two stories selected from across her prolific career by the author includes a preface in which she discusses the sources of her art A widely admired master of the short story Mavis Gallant was a Canadian born writer who lived in France and died in 2014 at the age of ninety one Her more than one hundred stories most published in The New Yorker over five decades beginning in 1951 have influenced generations of writers and earned her comparisons to Anton Chekhov Henry James and George Eliot She has been hailed by Michael Ondaatje as one of the great story writers of our time With irony and an unfailing eye for the telling detail Gallant weaves stories of spare complexity often pushing the boundaries of the form in boldly unconventional directions The settings in The Collected Stories range from Paris to Berlin to Switzerland from the Italian Riviera to the C te d Azur and her characters are almost all exiles of one sort or another as she herself was for most of her expatriate life The wit and precision of her prose combined with her expansive view of humanity provide a rare and deep reading pleasure With breathtaking control and compression Gallant delivers a whole life a whole world in each story     Teaching the Short Story A.
