Learning To Smoke Tobacco Use In The West:

Learning to Smoke Jason Hughes, 2003-02-15 Why do people smoke Taking a unique approach to this question Jason Hughes moves beyond the usual focus on biological addiction that dominates news coverage and public health studies and invites us to reconsider how social and personal understandings of smoking crucially affect the way people experience it Learning to Smoke examines the diverse sociological and cultural processes that have compelled people to smoke since the practice was first introduced to the West during the sixteenth century Hughes traces the transformations of tobacco and its use over time from its role as a hallucinogen in Native American shamanistic ritual to its use as a prophylactic against the plague and a cure for cancer by early Europeans and finally to the current view of smoking as a global pandemic He then analyzes tobacco from the perspective of the individual user exploring how its consumption relates to issues of identity and life changes Comparing sociocultural and personal experiences Hughes ultimately asks what the patterns of tobacco use mean for the clinical treatment of smokers and for public policy on smoking Pointing the way then to a more learned and sophisticated understanding of tobacco use this study will prove to be essential reading for anyone interested in the history of smoking and the sociology of addiction The material body Elizabeth Craig-Atkins, Karen Harvey, 2024-02-20 This volume explores the possibilities of studying embodied subjects in the past through the sources and approaches of archaeology history and material culture studies It draws on collections of human remains material culture and documentary evidence from Britain during the period 1700 1850 considering the themes of gender rank age disability and maternity Each chapter looks at the lived experiences of the material body bringing together disciplines that share an interest in the material or embodied turn Combining archaeological and historical data to reconstruct embodied experiences the volume represents the first collection of genuinely collaborative scholarship by historians and archaeologists Hijacked Brains Henrietta Robin Barnes, MD, 2015-01-06 This book written from the perspective of a practicing primary care physician interweaves patients stories with fascinating new brain research to show how addictive drugs overtake basic brain functions and transform them to create a chronic illness that is very difficult to treat The idea that drug and alcohol addiction are chronic illnesses and not character flaws is not news this notion has been around for many years What Hijacked Brains offers is context and personal stories that demonstrate this point in a very accessible package Dr Barnes explores how the healthy brain works how addictive drugs flood basic reward pathways and what it feels like to grapple with addiction She discusses how for individuals the combination of genetic and environmental factors determines both vulnerability for addiction and the resilience necessary for recovery Finally she shows how American culture with its emphasis on freewill and individualism tends to blame the addict for bad choices and personal weakness thereby impeding political and or health related efforts to get the addict what she needs to recover Dynamics of Gender Relations Stefanie Ernst, Valerie Dahl, Marta Bucholc, 2025-05-22 This edited volume brings together for the first time international research approaches from the field of figural and processual sociology at the intersection of gender studies It assembles current research on the change of gender relations in formal and informal structures By using Norbert Elias's process sociological oeuvre selected gender figurations in the western and non western world are discussed This book is anchored on the one hand in a socio historical understanding of the trajectory of gendered societies over a wide area and range of centuries in the Process of Civilization On the other hand the immediate impulse for this volume is the critical discussion of Eliasian thinking concerning dynamic gender relations in different empirical case studies and process theory It will be crucial reading for sociologists interested in the Elias school as well as sociologists of gender more broadly

Fumo Carl David Ipsen, 2016-05-04 For over a century Italy has had a love affair with the cigarette Perhaps no consumer item better symbolizes the economic political social and cultural dimensions of contemporary Italian history Starting around 1900 the new and popular cigarette spread down the social hierarchy and eventually during the 1960s across the gender divide For much of the century cigarette consumption was an index of economic well being and of modernism Only at the end of the century did its meaning change as Italy achieved economic parity with other Western powers and entered into the antismoking era Drawing on film literature and the popular press Carl Ipsen offers a view of the cigarette century in Italy from the 1870s to the ban on public smoking in 2005 He traces important links between smoking and imperialism world wars Fascism and the protest movements of the 1970s In considering this grand survey of the cigarette Fumo tells a much larger story about the socio economic history of a society known for its casual attitude toward risk and a penchant for la dolce vita Indography J. Harris,2012-05-07 In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Europeans invented Indians and populated the world with them The global history of the term Indian remains largely unwritten and this volume taking its cue from Shakespeare asks us to consider the proximities and distances between various early modern discourses of the Indian Through new analysis of English travel writing medical treatises literature and drama contributors seek not just to recover unexpected counter histories but to put pressure on the ways in which we understand race foreign bodies and identity in a globalizing age that has still not shed deeply ingrained imperialist habits of marking difference Handbook of Sociology and Human Rights David L. Brunsma,Keri E. Lyall Smith,Brian K Gran,2015-10-23 Long the province of international law human rights now enjoys a renaissance of studies and new perspectives from the social sciences This landmark book is the first to synthesize and comprehensively evaluate this body of work It fosters an interdisciplinary international and critical engagement both in the social study of human rights and the establishment of a human rights approach throughout the field of sociology Sociological perspectives bring new questions to the interdisciplinary study of human rights as amply illustrated in this book The Handbook is indispensable to any interdisciplinary collection on human rights or on sociology This text Brings new perspectives to the study of human rights in an interdisciplinary fashion Offers state of the art summaries critical discussions of established human rights paradigms and a host of new insights and further research directions Fosters a comprehensive human rights approach to sociology topically representing all 45 sections of the American Sociological Association Politics of Identity in Post-Conflict States Éamonn Ó Ciardha,Gabriela Vojvoda,2015-12-14 Ireland and the Balkans have come to represent divided and re united communities They both provide effective microcosms of national ethnic political military religious ideological and cultural conflicts in their respective regions and as a result they demonstrate real and imaginary divisions This book will specifically focus on the history politics and literature of Bosnia Herzegovina and Northern Ireland while making comparative reference to some of Europe s other disputed and divided regions Using case studies such as Kosovo and Serbia Lithuania Germany Poland Russia and Belarus Greece and Macedonia it examines space place and border discourse the topography of war and violence post war settlement and reconciliation and the location and negotiation of national ethnic religious political and cultural identities The book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of cultural studies history politics Irish studies Slavonic studies area studies and literary studies Journal of the American Medical Association ,2004 The Real Dope Edgar-André Montigny,2011-01-01 In The Real Dope Edgar Andre Montigny brings together leading scholars from a diverse range of fields to examine the relationship between moral judgment and legal regulation in the debate surrounding the potential decriminalization of marijuana The Palgrave Handbook of the History of Human Sciences David McCallum,2022-08-27 The Palgrave Handbook of the History of Human Sciences offers a uniquely comprehensive and global overview of the evolution of ideas concepts and policies within the human sciences Drawn from histories of the social and psychological sciences anthropology the history and philosophy of science and the history of ideas this collection analyses the health and welfare of populations evidence of the changing nature of our local communities cities societies or global movements and studies the way our humanness or human nature undergoes shifts because of broader technological shifts or patterns of living This Handbook serves as an authoritative reference to a vast source of representative scholarly work in interdisciplinary fields a means of understanding patterns of social change and the conduct of institutions as well as the histories of these ways of knowing probe the contexts circumstances and conditions which underpin continuity and change in the way we count analyse and understand ourselves in our different social worlds It reflects a critical scholarly interest in both traditional and emerging concerns on the relations between the biological and social sciences and between these and changes and continuities in societies and conducts as 21st century research moves into new intellectual and geographic territories more diverse fields and global problematics

Anthropology of Tobacco Andrew Russell, 2019-03-04 Tobacco has become one of the most widely used and traded commodities on the planet Reflecting contemporary anthropological interest in material culture studies Anthropology of Tobacco makes the plant the centre of its own contentious global story in which instead of a passive commodity tobacco becomes a powerful player in a global adventure involving people corporations and public health Bringing together a range of perspectives from the social and natural sciences as well as the arts and humanities Anthropology of Tobacco weaves stories together from a range of historical cross cultural and literary sources and empirical research These combine with contemporary anthropological theories of agency and cross species relationships to offer fresh perspectives on how an apparently humble plant has progressed to world domination and the consequences of it having done so It also considers what needs to happen if as some public health advocates would have it we are seriously to imagine a world without tobacco This book presents students scholars and practitioners in anthropology public health and social policy with unique and multiple perspectives on tobacco human relations
