Leaves From A Missionary's Notebook:

Leaves from a Missionary's Notebook Stephen James Napier Tennant (Hon.), 1929 The Missionary Intelligencer, 1916 Siegfried Sassoon Jean Moorcroft Wilson, 2003 The World War I poet Siegfried Sassoon is one of the twentieth century's greatest icons and Jean Moorcroft Wilson is the leading authority on him In Siegfried Sassoon The Journey from the Trenches the second volume of her best selling authorized biography Wilson completes her definitive analysis of his life and works exploring Sassoon's experiences after the Great War For many people Sassoon exists primarily as a First World War poet and bold fighter who earned the nickname Mad Jack in the trenches and risked Court Martial possibly the firing squad with his public protest against the War Much less is known about his life after the Armistice Wilson uncovers a series of love affairs with such larger than life characters as Queen Victoria's great grandson Prince Phillip of Hesse the flamboyant Ivor Novello and the exotic and bejeweled Hon Stephen Tennant This period also sees Sassoon establishing close friendships with some of the greatest literary figures of the age Hardy Beerbohm E M Forster and T E Lawrence among them Sassoon himself said that most people thought he had died in 1919 But Wilson shows that his poetry is if anything more powerful in the second half of his life Based on a decade of meticulous research and interviews with many who knew Sassoon well much of the material is published here for the first time Siegfried Sassoon The Journey from the Trenches completes a fascinating story that is beautifully told Leaves from the Notebook of a Missionary Doctor Catherine Macaulay Lee, Frederick Rogers Graves, American Church Mission, 1929 Cecil Beaton Hugo Vickers, 2020-03-05 Cecil Beaton was one of Britain's greatest cultural icons not just as a photographer capturing some of the most celebrated portraits of the 20th century but also as designer of the iconic sets and costumes for the films My Fair Lady and Gigi In 1980 Beaton personally chose Hugo Vickers to be his biographer entrusting him with his diaries and the entire body of letters he had written both personally and professionally over the course of his life Drawing on five years of intensive research and interviews with the likes of Audrey Hepburn Truman Capote Princess Grace of Monaco and Sir John Gielgud Vickers biography was an instant bestseller upon its publication in 1985 Exploring Beaton's metamorphosis from being the child of a staid middle class family to an international figure mingling with the glittering stars of his age the biography also details his great love for Greta Garbo and reveals his private sense of failure that the success he always wanted as a playwright eluded him Republished in a new paperback edition in time for Bright Young Things a major exhibition at the National Portrait Gallery in 2020 Cecil Beaton is the definitive and authorised biography of one of the world's most fascinating famous and admired photographers The Selected Letters of Willa Cather Willa Cather, 2014-08-26 Time Magazine's 10 Top Nonfiction Books of the Year Willa Cather's letters withheld from publication for more than six decades are finally available to the public in this fascinating selection The hundreds collected here range from witty reports of life as a teenager in Red Cloud in the 1880s through her college years at the University of Nebraska her time as a journalist in Pittsburgh and New York and her growing eminence as a novelist They describe her many travels and record her last years when the loss of loved ones and the disasters of World War II brought her near to despair Above all they reveal her passionate interest in people literature and the arts The voice is one we recognize from her fiction confident elegant detailed openhearted concerned with profound ideas but also at times sentimental sarcastic and funny A deep pleasure to read this volume reveals the intimate joys and sorrows of one of America's most admired writers

Freak to Chic Dominic Janes,2021-07-01 In this unique intervention in the study of queer culture Dominic Janes highlights that under the gaze of social conservatism gay life was hiding in plain sight Indeed he argues that the worlds of glamour fashion art and countercultural style provided rich opportunities for the construction of queer spectacle in London Inspired by the legacies of Oscar Wilde interwar and later 20th century men such as Cecil Beaton expressed transgressive desires in forms inspired by those labelled freaks and thereby made major contributions to the histories of art design fashion sexuality and celebrity Janes reinterprets the origins of gay and queer cultures by charting the interactions between marginalized freaks and chic fashionistas He establishes a new framework for future analyses of other cities and media and of the roles of women and diverse identities

Malice in Wonderland Hugo Vickers,2021-10-05 The witty and perceptive diaries kept by Cecil Beaton's authorized biographer during his many fascinating encounters with extraordinary often legendary characters in his search for the real Cecil Beaton Hugo Vickers's life took a dramatic turn in 1979 when the legendary Sir Cecil Beaton invited him to be his authorised biographer The excitement of working with the famous photographer was dashed only days later when Cecil Beaton died But the journey had begun Vickers was entrusted with Beaton's papers diaries and most importantly access to his friends and contemporaries In Malice in Wonderland Vickers shares excerpts from his personal diaries kept during this period For five years Vickers travelled the world and talked to some of the most fascinating and important social and cultural figures of the time including royalty such as the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret film stars such as Grace Kelly Audrey Hepburn and Julie Andrews writers such as Truman Capote and photographers such as Irving Penn and Horst And not only Beaton's friends Vickers sought out the enemies too notably Irene Selznick He was taken under the wings of Lady Diana Cooper Clarissa Avon and Diana Vreeland Drawn into Beaton's world and accepted by its members Vickers the emerging biographer also began his own personal adventure The outsider became the insider Beaton's friends became his friends Malice in Wonderland is a fascinating portrait of a now disappeared world and vividly and sensitively portrays some of its most fascinating characters as we travel with Vickers on his quest

Accommodating the Chinese Michelle Campbell Renshaw,2005-04-02 This in depth comparative study demonstrates that the hospital established in China its planning and architecture financing and all aspects of day to day operation differed from its counterpart at home These differences were never due to a single or even dominant cause They were a result of a complex process involving accommodation appreciation negotiation opportunism and pragmatism

New Catholic World ,1915 Young Bloomsbury Nino Strachey,2022-12-06 An illuminating Daily Mail London exploration of the second generation of the iconic Bloomsbury Group who inspired their elders to new heights of creativity and passion while also pushing the boundaries of sexual freedom and gender norms in 1920s England. In the years before the First World War a collection of writers and artists Virginia Woolf, E. M. Forster and Lytton Strachey among them began to make a name for themselves in England and America for their irreverent spirit and provocative works of literature, art and criticism. They called themselves the Bloomsbury Group and by the 1920s they were at the height of their influence. Then a new generation stepped forward: creative young people who tantalized their elders with their captivating looks, bold ideas and subversive energy. Young Bloomsbury introduces us to this colorful cast of characters including novelist Eddy Sackville West who wore elaborate make up and dressed in satin and black velvet; artist Stephen Tomlin who sculpted the heads of his male and female lovers; and author Julia Strachey who wrote a searing tale of blighted love. Talented and productive, these larger than life figures had high achieving professional lives and extremely complicated emotional lives. The group had always celebrated sexual equality and freedom in private, feeling that every person had the right to live and love in the way they chose. But as transgressive self expression became more public, this younger generation gave Old Bloomsbury a new voice. Revealing an aspect of history not yet explored and with effervescent detail, Juliet Nicolson, author of Frostquake, Young Bloomsbury celebrates an open way of living and loving that would not be embraced for another hundred years. Catholic World

Committee of Reference and Counsel, 1919 Willa Cather Susie Thomas, 1990-01-01 Willa Cather's novels were neglected after her death but a new generation of readers has greeted her work with enthusiasm. This feminist study which draws extensively on Cather's unpublished letters analyses how she overcame the difficulties which beset a woman writer in the mid West during the early part of the century. It shows how her absorption in European culture influenced her perception of America and enabled her to produce some of the most compelling literature of modern times. Susie Thomas's highly readable account will be welcomed by all those studying Cather's work. Contents: Willa Cather 1873-1947. To Bayreuth and Back Again. R. The Troll Garden. The Song of the Lark. Taylor, 2009-01-06 Jam-packed and delicious, crammed with a cast of selfish, feckless, darling, talented, almost terminally eccentric, good looking men and women. Carolyn See, The Washington Post. Before the media circus of Britney Spears, Paris Hilton and our modern obsession with celebrity, there were the Bright Young People: a voraciously pleasure seeking band of bohemian party givers and blue blooded socialites who romped through the gossip columns of 1920s London Evelyn Waugh immortalized their slang their pranks and their tragedies in his novels and over the next half century many from Cecil Beaton to Nancy Mitford and John Betjeman would become household names But beneath the veneer of hedonism and practical jokes was a tormented generation brought up in the shadow of war Sparkling talent was too often brought low by alcoholism and addiction Drawing on the virtuosic and often wrenching writings of the Bright Young People themselves the biographer and novelist D J Taylor has produced an enthralling account of an age of fleeting brilliance An ultimately elegiac narrative with a surprising amount of intellectual and emotional sympathy The New York Times Engaging Taylor s skillful reconstruction of the whole hazy time feels like a lasting party favor NPR Incisive and richly detailed The New York Times Book Review A poignant study of the elusive relationship between art and the social world from whence it springs The New York Observer A splendid social history By placing generational tensions and tenderness center stage Taylor gives his book a beating emotional heart Los Angeles Times Book Review Entertaining and incisive The Boston Globe Fascinating The Wall Street Journal Compelling and ultimately touching The Guardian

Baptist Missionary Magazine ,1896 Me, a Missionary? James Heywood Horsburgh, Ninel Lazar, 2025-05-30 Me a missionary This is a very good question for every true Christian to ask In fact I think there is no true Christian who is not passionately interested in proclaiming the Gospel in Jerusalem in all Judea in Samaria and to the uttermost parts of the world But when it comes to practice we hear too often questions and objections such as Charity begins at home We cannot afford to send men and money out of the country or But we are not ALL called to be missionaries or Oh Evangelizing the Nations is the missionaries business It does not concern me or I am not educated enough to be a missionary I have not been to Seminary In this book Ninel Lazar an evangelist serving in Romania Europe provides you with an upgraded annotated and carefully revised version of a 100 year old book by missionary James Heywood Horsburgh and gives biblical and common sense sometimes humorous answers to 101 commonly asked questions and objections to the global missions In addition Ninel has put together some of the statistical data on today s Christianity in the world thereby compiling a list of the countries and regions of the world where the Gospel is most needed And you would be shocked to see the results of his research as his conclusions often go against what is commonly known among Evangelicals today Don t miss his foreword where he puts the call for evangelism and missions in the biblical context of the new birth in 2Cor 5 and investigates the root causes for neglecting this call
