No Innocent Deposits Richard J. Cox, 2003-12-10 The public increase of interest in the past has not necessarily brought with it a greater understanding about how archives are formed To this end Richard Cox takes a serious look at archival repositories and collections Cox suggests that archives do not just happen but are consciously shaped and sometimes distorted by archivists the creators of records and other individuals and institutions In this series of essays Cox offers archivists rare insight into the fundamentals of appraisal and historians and other users of archives the opportunity to appreciate the collections they all too often take for granted

The Making of a Writer Gail Godwin, 2007-12-18 Gail Godwin was twenty four years old and working as a waitress in the North Carolina mountains when she wrote I want to be everybody who is great I want to create everything that has ever been created It is a declaration that only a wildly ambitious young writer would make in the privacy of her journal In the heady days of her literary apprenticeship Godwin kept a daily chronicle of her dreams and desires her travels love affairs struggles and breakthroughs Now at the urging of her friend Joyce Carol Oates Godwin has distilled these early journals which run from 1961 to 1963 to their brilliant and charming essence The Making of a Writer opens during the feverish period following the breakup of Godwin's first marriage and her stint as a reporter for The Miami Herald Aware that she is entering one of the great turning points of her life as she prepares to move to Europe Godwin writes of the 100 different hungers that consume her on the eve of departure A whirlwind trip to New York the passengers and their stories on board the SS Oklahoma the shock of her first encounters with Danish customs and Danish men Godwin wonderfully conveys the excitement of a writer embracing a welter of new experience After a long dark Scandinavian winter and a gloriously romantic interlude in the Canary Islands Godwin moves to London and embarks on the passionate engagements that will inspire some of her finest stories She records the pleasures of soaking in the human drama on long rambles through the London streets and the torment of lonely Sundays spent wrestling these impressions into prose She shares her passion for Henry James Marcel Proust Lawrence Durrell Thomas Wolfe and her terror of facing twenty six with nothing to show but a rejected novel and a stack of debts I do not feel like a failure Godwin insists as she sits down yet again to the empty page I will keep writing harder than ever Like Virginia Woolf's A Writer's Diary Gail Godwin's journals brim with the urgency and wit of a brilliant literary mind meeting the world head on An inspired and inspiring volume The Making of a Writer opens a shining window into the life and craft of a great writer just coming into her own

Educators as Writers Carol Smallwood, 2006 You know that if you finish the novel you're working on it would sell or maybe you have written a story for a children's book Your colleagues and family tell you it's great but you don't know what to do next You're an educator not a writer and the publishing world seems out of your grasp Educators as Writers Publishing for Personal and Professional Development is written by fellow educators and a few editors who provide a how to to see your name in print Fifty four articles cover topics such as memoirs blogging children's books freelancing finding publishers author websites poetry contests style guides networking and using classroom skills to write
