Green Perspectives Thinking And Writing About Nature And The Environment:

Green Perspectives Walter Levy, 1994      Ecocomposition Christian R. Weisser, Sidney I. Dobrin, 2012-02-01
Ecocomposition examines current trends in universities toward more environmentally sound work explores the intersections between composition research that is discourse studies and ecostudies and offers possible pedagogies for the composition classroom Never before have the intersections between ecotheory and composition studies in theory and pedagogy been addressed in this much depth or detail As universities become increasingly concerned with issues of the environment within academic disciplines across the spectrum this book brings together a diverse group of prominent voices to discuss the development of ecocomposition and its possibilities and to argue for a greening of composition studies through which to engage the world in which we live      Environmental Health Perspectives , 1993      Such News of the Land Thomas S. Edwards, Elizabeth A. De Wolfe, 2001 A collection of new essays establishes women's voices as a powerful presence in US nature writing      Walking to New Orleans Robert R. N. Ross, Deanne E. B. Ross, 2008-09-22 Two and a half years after the devastation of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita New Orleans and south Louisiana continue to struggle in an unsettled gumbo of environmental social and rebuilding chaos Citizens await the fruition of four successive recovery and reconstruction planning processes and the realization of essential infrastructure repairs Repopulation in Orleans Parish has slowed considerably the parish remains at best two thirds of its former size thousands of former residents who wish to return face barriers of many kinds Heroic efforts at rebuilding have occurred through the efforts of individual neighborhood associations and voluntary associations who have attempted to address serious losses in affordable housing and health care services Walking to New Orleans traces how a dominant but paradoxical model of the relation between the human and natural worlds in Western culture has informed many environmental and engineering dilemmas and has contributed to the history of social inequities and injustice that anteceded the disasters of the hurricanes and subsequent flooding It proposes a model for collaborative recovery that links principles of ethics and engineering in which citizens become active ongoing participants in the process of the reconstruction and redesign of their unique locus of habitation Equally important it gives voice to the citizens and associations who are desperately working to rebuild their homes and lives both in urban New Orleans and in the villages of coastal Louisiana      Words for a Small Planet Nanette Norris, 2013 Examines literature and the environment from cultural historical sociological and psychological perspectives      ASLE Handbook on Graduate Study in Literature and Environment , 1996      The Nature of Modernism Elizabeth Black, 2017-11-22 This book presents the first extended study of the relationship between British modernist poetry and the environment Challenging reductive associations of modernism as predominantly anthropocentric in character and urban in focus the book's central argument is that within British modernist poetry there is a clear and sustained interest in the natural world which has yet to receive adequate critical attention Whilst modernist studies continues to emphasize the plurality of the movement and the breadth of voices and concerns within it the environmental consciousness of modernist literature and its response to changes to human nature relations following the experience of war and modernity remain largely unexamined Exploring British modernist poetry from an ecocritical perspective offers a fresh approach to the movement and its context and produces original readings of both canonical and more marginalized modernist voices This book opens by discussing the relationship between modernism and ecocriticism and the benefits of creating a dialogue between the two It then presents new readings of Edward Thomas T S Eliot Edith Sitwell and Charlotte Mew that reveal a shared preoccupation with environmental issues and a common desire to find new ways of achieving physical psychological and artistic reconnection with nature Building on the continuing growth of ecocriticism this book demonstrates how green approaches to modernist studies can produce new insights into both individual poets and the modernist movement as a whole making it an essential resource for students of modernism ecocriticism and early twentieth century literature

Reading the Earth Michael P. Branch, 1998 Distributed by the University of Nebraska Press for the University of Idaho Press Ecocriticism is a scholarly approach to literature that is rapidly building momentum and legitimacy because of its usefulness as a means of inquiry into the relationship between human culture and the nonhuman world This collection demonstrates promising new directions in the study of literature and environment and suggests the importance and passion of this scholarly enterprise

Thinking Through the Environment Mark J. Smith, 2005-09-30 This broad ranging and thought provoking set of readings stresses the diversity of responses in the way the natural environment has been understood and questioned in the modern world

Elements of Ecology Robert Leo Smith, Thomas Michael Smith, 1998 Provides an accessible introduction to ecology for non majors

Bibliography , 1994

Earth Algebra Christopher Schaaufele, William K. Hartmann, Nancy Zumoff, Marlene Sims, Stan Sims, 2003-05-31

CURRENT CONTENTS , 1996

Eco-Literature and Environmental Advocacy Nasser Dasht Peyma, WPA, Writing Program Administration , 1992

Deleuze and Environmental Damage Mark Halsey, 2017-05-15 This book offers a post structuralist critique of the problems associated with modernist accounts of environmental harm and regulation Through a notably detailed micro political analysis of forest conflict the author explores the limits of academic commentary on environmental issues and suggests that the traditional variables of political economy race and gender need to be recast in light of four key modalities through which the environment and environmental damage are re produced Focusing on vision speed lexicon and affect the book engages a new ethic for categorizing and regulating nature and challenges criminologists sociologists cultural theorists and others to reconsider what it is possible to say and do about environmental problems

Outdoor Environmental Education in Higher Education Glyn Thomas, Janet Dymont, Heather Prince, 2021-11-01 This book brings together an international group of authors to discuss the outdoor environmental education OEE theory and practice that educators can use to support teaching and learning in higher education The book contents are organised around a recently established list of threshold concepts that can be used to describe the knowledge and skills that university students would develop if they complete a major in outdoor education There are six key sections the theoretical foundations and philosophies of OEE the pedagogical approaches and issues involved in teaching OEE the ways in which OEE is a social cultural and environmental endeavour how outdoor educators can advocate for social justice key approaches to safety management and the need for on going professional practice The threshold concepts that form the premise of the book describe outdoor educators as creating opportunities for experiential learning using pedagogies that align their programme s purpose and practice Outdoor educators are place responsive and see their work as a social cultural and environmental endeavour They advocate for social and environmental justice and they understand and apply safety principles and routinely engage in reflective practice This book will provide clarity and direction for emerging and established outdoor educators around the world and will also be relevant to students and professionals working in related fields such as environmental education adventure therapy and outdoor recreation

Environment and Social Theory John Barry, 2007-01-24 This thematic rather than theorist centred approach is an essential guide to the way in which the environment and social theory relate to one another including examinations of the works of the key theorists including Marx Mill Habermas and Adorno

Writing a New Environmental Era Ken Hiltner, 2019-10-16 Writing a New Environmental Era first considers and then rejects back to nature thinking and its proponents like Henry David Thoreau arguing that human beings have never lived at peace with nature Consequently we need to stop thinking about going back to what never was and instead work at moving forward to forge a more harmonious relationship with nature in the future Using the rise of the automobile and climate change denial literature to explore how our current environmental era was written into existence Ken Hiltner argues that the humanities and not as might be expected the sciences need to lead us there In one sense climate change is caused by a rise in atmospheric CO<sub>2</sub> and other so called greenhouse gases Science can address this cause However approached in another way altogether climate change is caused by a range of troubling human activities that require the release of these gases such as our obsessions with cars lavish houses air travel and endless consumer goods The natural sciences may be able to tell us how these activities are changing our climate but not why we are engaging in them That s a job for the humanities and social sciences As this book argues we need to see anthropogenic i e human caused climate change for what it is and address it as such a human problem brought about by human actions A passionate and personal exploration of why the Environmental Humanities matter and why we should be looking forward not back to nature this book will be essential reading for all those interested in the future and sustainability of our planet
