Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Helen C. Scott, 2016-04-08 Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization offers a fresh reading of contemporary literature by Caribbean women in the context of global and local economic forces providing a valuable corrective to much Caribbean feminist literary criticism Departing from the trend towards thematic diasporic studies Helen Scott considers each text in light of its national historical and cultural origins while also acknowledging regional and international patterns Though the work of Caribbean women writers is apparently less political than the male dominated literature of national liberation Scott argues that these women nonetheless express the sociopolitical realities of the postindependent Caribbean providing insight into the dynamics of imperialism that survive the demise of formal colonialism In addition she identifies the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Throughout Scott's persuasive and accessible study sustains the dialectical principle that art is inseparable from social forces and yet always strains against the limits they impose Her book will be an indispensable resource for literature and women's studies scholars as well as for those interested in postcolonial cultural and globalization studies Adventure Guide to Grenada, St. Vincent and the Grenadines Cindy Kilgore Brown, Alan Moore, 2011-02-06

Ricci, 2017-09-29 Travel Tourism and Identity addresses the psychological and social adjustments that occur when people make contact with others outside their social cultural or linguistic groups Whether such contact is the result of tourism seeking exile or relocating abroad the volume s contributors demonstrate how one s identity cultural assumptions and worldview can be brought into question In some cases the traveller finds that bridging the social and cultural gap between himself and the new society is fairly easy In other cases the traveller discovers that reorienting himself requires absorbing a new cultural history and traditions The contributors argue that making these adjustments will surely enhance the traveller s or tourist s experience otherwise the traveller or tourist will be at risk of becoming a marginalized figure one disconnected from the society that surrounds him This latest volume in the Culture Civilization series features a collection of essays on travel and tourism The essays cover a range of topics from historical travels to modern social identities They discuss ancient travels contemporary travels in Europe Africa and sustainable eco tourism and the politics of tourism Essays also address experiences of Grenada s Spice Island identity and the effects of globalization and migrations on personal identity

Nevis Joyce Gordon, 1993 This volume is about an island situated in the north eastern part of the Caribbean It is the island called Nevis whose mountain is often capped with mist or cloud There are only 35 square miles of Nevis and it is separated from the neighbouring island of St Kitts by a channel barely two miles wide The climate is tropical and maritime with the trade winds blowing from an easterly direction most of the year The temperature never falls below 60 degrees F nor rises above 90 degrees F with little difference between winter and summer

Heritage Cuisines Dallen J. Timothy, 2015-11-19 Food is one of the most fundamental elements of culture and a significant marker of regional and ethnic identity It encompasses many other elements of cultural heritage beyond the physical ingredients required for its production These include folklore religion language familial bonds social structures environmental determinism celebrations and ceremonies landscapes culinary routes smells and tastes to name but a few However despite all that is known about foodways and cuisine from hospitality gastronomical supply chain and agricultural perspectives there still remains a dearth of consolidated research on the wide diversity of food and its heritage attributes and contexts This edited volume aims to fill this void by consolidating into a single volume what is known about cuisines and foodways from a heritage perspective and to examine and challenge the existing paradigms concepts and practices related to gastronomic practices intergenerational traditions sustainable agriculture indigenous rituals immigrant stories and many more heritage elements as they pertain to comestible cuisines and practices The book takes a global and thematic approach in examining heritage cuisines from a wide range of perspectives including agriculture hunting and gathering migration ethnic identity and place nationalism sustainability colonialism food diversity religion place making festivals and contemporary movements and trends All chapters are rich in empirical examples but steady and sound in conceptual depth This book offers new insight and understanding of the heritage implications of cuisines and foodways The multidisciplinary nature of the content will appeal to a broad academic audience in the fields of tourism gastronomy geography cultural studies anthropology and sociology
