Frank Stella An Illustrated Biography:

Frank Stella Sidney Guberman,1995 Undaunted by Stella's infamous comment Only what can be seen there is there Guberman traces Stella's career exploring sources as diverse as Jasper Johns Jean Arp and Henri Matisse investigating the technical complexity of the work and interweaving more personal insights into the events of his life his passion for sport and speed and the role of his family and colleagues in the art world Frank Stella James Pearson,2007 A new critical survey of the celebrated New York abstract painter Stella achieved success early on in his career with his Black Paintings of the late 1950s In the 60s his colourful Protractor series and geometric shaped canvases became some of the most distinctive manifestations of postwar and Minimalist art In the 1970s Stella went maximalist producing multi media works often using lumps of aluminium and steel which were vivaciously and complexly three dimensional A new special edition completely rewritten and many more illustrations Frank Stella 1958 Harry Cooper,Megan R. Luke, Frank Stella, Arthur M. Sackler Museum,2006 For Frank Stella 1958 was a crucial year After graduating from Princeton University he moved to Manhattan and painted a series of monumental colorful canvases that culminated in the first of his famous Black paintings This book focuses on the thirty or so works he painted in that year The paintings reflect his transformation from a student experimenting with abstract expressionism to a highly original artist whose works changed the course of postwar art Presenting the entire group of works in color for the first time except those that are lost and known only through black and white photographs this book details the course of Stella's career in 1958 The authors situate his work in relation to that of Jasper Johns whose debut show in 1958 had a strong impact on Stella and Carl Andre with whom Stella shared studio space that year Their analysis examines concepts of originality repetition assemblage illusion and opticality to forge a new view of Stella's early development Drawing on archival findings firsthand observations of the paintings and interviews with Stella and members of his circle this volume enriches our understanding of a fascinating and critical stage in the artist's development BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved A Dictionary of the Avant-gardes Richard Kostelanetz,H. Emile de Antonio Emile De Antonio, Douglas Kellner, Dan Streible, 2000. Innovative documentary filmmaker, friend of Andy Warhol, John Cage, Jasper Johns, Robert Rauschenberg, and other leading figures of the New York art world, radical leftist critic of the Establishment, and legendary bon vivant. Emile de Antonio (1919–1989) was a larger-than-life personality and a key figure in the development of post-war American cinema. The films de Antonio made between 1963 and 1989, including Point of Order, Rush to Judgment, In the Year of the Pig, Painters Painting, and Millhouse, revolutionized the documentary format and inspired a generation of artists and filmmakers. A decade after his death, his cinematic legacy ranged from the brilliantly edited compilation of the 1954 Army-McCarthy hearings that helped construct Senator Joseph McCarthy's reputation as a rogue demagogue, Point of Order, to a meditative juxtaposition of documents about F.B.I. director J. Edgar Hoover and intimate footage drawn from the filmmaker's own life, Mr. Hoover and I. It remains unparalleled in American documentary film.

Emile de Antonio: A Reader is the first full-length volume devoted to this major American filmmaker. It collects interviews with and writings by de Antonio, reviews, and other critical material that detail the genesis, production history, and reception of his films; a comprehensive filmography; and an in-depth biographical essay. Offering a long-overdue assessment of de Antonio's career, this indispensable book also makes a significant contribution to our understanding of American independent cinema at its most politically engaged.
