X-Planes Manfred Griehl, 2012-10-24 Renowned German aviation specialist Manfred Griehl has collected a unique and valuable selection of photographs of Luftwaffe projects that never made it into battle They remained on the drawing board or at prototype stage either because they were deemed unsuitable or the developers simply ran out of time and the projects never went into production Most photographs come from the development sites and testing grounds of the major manufacturers of Nazi Germany companies such as Dornier Junkers Focke Wulf and Heinkel all received funding from the government to develop bigger and faster aircraft A huge amount of private testing went on with major organizations such as Daimler Benz BMW and Siemens investing huge amounts in new engine systems and other advances such as radar This book also details the innumerable alterations that were made to existing service aircraft to equip them for new roles There are examples of Fw 190s developed for the delivery of chemical and toxic weapons the high altitude Junkers EF 61 the early prototype WNF 342 helicopter as well as numerous examples of developmental jet fighters that could very well have been realized had it not been for the effectiveness of the Allied bombing campaign in restricting the supply of necessary materials number of aircraft types and many of the operations conducted by the Aufklarungsflieger units were of vital importance This first volume will cover the aircraft and operations of the reconnaissance units from their origins in clandestine survey and photographic work over Poland and the United Kingdom in the late 1930s through to their first operational use during the Spanish Civil War They were active in the skies across Europe from Poland in the east to Britain in the west They also played their part in the invasions of the Balkans and Russia On the Russian and Mediterranean fronts short range reconnaissance usually involved low level missions over enemy territory using the Fieseler Fi156 Storch and Hs126 biplanes though Bf109s and Fw190s were also employed on such activities Also included in this book will be an overview of the related Wekusta or weather reconnaissance units responsible for the collection of meteorological data where because of the proximity of the enemy normal land based observation was not available These units were assigned directly to the Meteorological Service of the Luftwaffe High Command and were considered very valuable assets Dfs 228 David Myhra,2000 This is the incredible story of the German DFS 228 an ultra high altitude photo reconnaissance aircraft and the first to have a pressurized and jettisonable cockpit 220 b w photos
