education systems around the world Based on documented descriptions of institutional and competitive dynamics in the industry of management education the authors show how management education is going through major changes such as new governance and business models mergers and acquisitions internationalisation of faculty and students coexisting with entrenchment in local markets ever more needs for financial resources development of distant and blended learning and increasing pressure for research output to boost rankings With concerns surrounding the sustainability of current trends in faculty salary inflation social acceptability of higher fees cost of distance learning and the risk of an academic industry divide around knowledge produced by management research The Future of Management Education develops an analysis of business models and discusses strategic implications for stakeholders The second volume extends the discussion to a total of 23 countries to bring a genuinely global perspective and move away from the Euro centric outlook The countries covered in the second volume include China Brazil Russia Singapore and France

The Future of Management Education and Public Policy H. J. Zoffer, University of Pittsburgh. Graduate School of Business, 1981* The Global Management Education Landscape Global Foundation for Management Education, 2010 This report offers insight into a number of trends case studies and statistics that describe the changing landscape of management education worldwide It pinpoints key challenges for the future of management education and offers a number of recommendations designed to stimulate coordination and collaboration within the global education community The report also seeks to engage business and government leaders as active participants in shaping the future development of business schools Indeed many groups have a stake in the success of global management education which impacts not only the success of individual businesses but also national competitiveness and economic growth on a global scale Foreword

The future of management education Tony Buley, Nichola Harbach, Coopers & Lybrand, 1997 Advancing the Future of Management Education Research Stuart Middleton, 2024-04-12 This cutting edge book argues that the best way to advance the future of management education is to nurture scholars who take a fascination in the intellectual field itself Moving beyond recent trends in the scholarship Stuart Middleton investigates the underlying beliefs of key approaches to management education identifying important avenues for future contributions to the field

The Value & Purpose of Management Education Eric Cornuel, Howard Thomas, Matthew Wood, 2022-03-01 Without a doubt business schools have been a success story in higher education over the last 50 years the period of EFMD's existence Even so they have come under scrutiny and attack over their academic legitimacy and value proposition for business and society In this book drawn from a special issue of Global Focus the EFMD has selected around 25 of the best most thoughtful short papers published in Global Focus to examine the role and purpose of EFMD in the evolution of management education Each of the chapters interpret current strategic debates about the evolution of business schools and their paradigms and also identify possible strategic options for handling uncertain volatile futures These papers can be broadly categorized into four consistent themes the first theme is concerned with the purpose and value proposition of management education the second theme focuses on a perceived need for new business models and how to design and build them the third theme addresses the question of the impact of the business school on business and society given the increasingly academic pursuits of business schools and their often weak links to the business community the so called rigour relevance dilemma and the fourth theme concerns how to map and design business school futures in an increasingly volatile uncertain complex and ambiguous crisis oriented environment This impressive collection of insights from business management leaders from across the globe is inspiring reading for higher education leaders policy makers and business leaders seeking insight into the future of management education The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

From Purpose to Impact Nicholas O'Regan, 2024-07-24 To meet the challenge of closing the gap between academic research and industry practice we need a step change in how the business school and the business scholar engages with business This book presents best practice in the methods of broadening successful academic business engagement on a major scale It presents concrete recommendations for setting programmes creating incentives and structuring recruitment that will transform effective academic business engagement Most universities claim to have significant links with industry and the professions but in reality only a limited number of business scholars are engaged with industry A focus on impact presents an additional potential trap confusing promotion of research and tactical tips and tricks with genuine engagement This book explores the increasing number of new and innovative partnerships and collaborative activities and looks at how academics can adapt to and leverage these new opportunities It focuses on the academic as the primary driver of the external relationship and outlines the skills and capabilities needed to proactively develop engagement Finally the book provides a number of examples of best practice from a range of countries Written by senior business scholars and leaders from around the world and with examples of best practice included from leading universities this book gives universities the insight needed to develop a broader range of relationships with businesses and to have genuine engagement and impact in practice

The global management education landscape, 2007* This report offers insight into a number of trends case studies and statistics that describe the changing landscape of management education worldwide It pinpoints key challenges for the future of management education and offers a number of recommendations designed to stimulate coordination and collaboration within the global education community The report also seeks to engage business and government leaders as active participants in shaping the future development of business schools Indeed many groups have a stake in the success of global management education which impacts not only the success of individual businesses but also national competitiveness and economic growth on a global scale

Rethinking the Business Models of Business Schools Kai Peters, Richard R. Smith, Howard Thomas, 2018-01-17 Business schools around the world have grown and prospered in the last few decades but what does the future hold for business schools This book explores the potential future disruption of the business school tradition by considering funding value chains strategic groups value orientation innovation and business models Management Education for the World K. Muff, Thomas Dyllick, M. Drewell, J. North, P. Shrivastava, J. Haertle, 2013 50 20 not only raises the sights for those charged with the development of our future leaders but also provides a clear roadmap for delivering on that ambition As such it is an important contribution to a journey of transformation that affects not only the future of business but the very planet itself Paul Polman Unilever US The 50 20 initiative is an ambitious effort that highlights the urgent need for radical change in what we teach and how management education is delivered today In a world that faces so many different and fast evolving challenges the initiative is indeed timely and needed Peter Bakker World Business Council for Sustainable Development Switzerland We now finally have a blueprint that can be used as a foundation for a new contract between business schools and society Changing the way we educate our business leaders for tomorrow will change the world for the better Rakesh Khurana Harvard Business School US For many years commentators have described what is wrong with business schools characterizing them as the breeding grounds of a culture of greed and self enrichment in global business at the expense of the rest of society and of nature Management Education for the World is a response to this critique and a handbook for those seeking to educate and create knowledge for a new breed of business leaders It presents a vision for the transformation of management education in service of the common good and explains how such a vision can be implemented in practice The 50 20 vision as it is also known was developed through a collaborative initiative between the Globally Responsible Leadership Initiative the World Business School Council for Sustainable Business and the U N backed Principles of Responsible Management Education and draws on the expertise of sustainability scholars business and business school leaders and thought leaders from many other walks of life This book explores the 21st century agenda of management education identifying three fundamental goals educating and developing globally responsible leaders enabling business organizations to serve the common good and engaging in the transformation of business and the economy It is a clarion call of service to society for a sector lost between the interests of faculty business and the schools themselves at the expense of people and planet It sees business education stepping up to the plate with the ability of holding and creating a space to provide responsible leadership for a sustainable world embodied in the central and unifying element of the 50 20 vision the collaboratory Management Education for the World is written for everyone concerned or passionate about the future of management education consultants facilitators entrepreneurs and leaders in organizations of any kind as well as policymakers and others with an interest in new and transformative thinking in the field In particular teachers researchers students and administrators will find it an invaluable resource on their journey

Securing the Future of Management Education Michelle Lee II, 2014 Annotation This is the second of two volumes written to celebrate the 40th anniversary of EFMD Drawing on interviews conducted with leaders in the world of management education the first volume took a retrospective view focusing on the evolution of management education and providing the context that led management education to where it stands today It also synthesized respondents views on the strengths and weaknesses of the field the challenges it faces as well as lessons learned and not learned from the past This second volume similarly draws on the very rich data provided by the same respondents but is future oriented and takes on the theme of change It provides the reader with a sense of the challenges on the horizon potential blind spots and new realities of an increasingly competitive environment It discusses a range of alternative future scenarios for management education and urges the field to resist the lures of the dominant paradigm and to develop new models instead The authors contend that given the challenges ahead it is only through transformations and innovations that the future of the field can be secured

The Future of University Education Michał Izak, Monika Kostera, Michał Zawadzki, 2017-04-26 This collected volume of essays offers glimpses of the future of university education While universities consider the spirit of theoretical exchange and intellectual pursuit to be a defining trait of their identity this book argues that this heritage is disappearing under the influence of the short term demands of societies and markets Universities used to be sites of dissent civil courage and societal conscience but have now instead become little more than pseudo businesses rendering them incapable of remaining critical or independent However with more people going to university every year there is a strong resistance to the notion that the university as a collegial and critical institution is dead among academics as well as the broader public With contributions from scholars across the world this edited collection explores the ramifications of marketization on universities and provides glimpses of what higher education will look like in the future It will be of great interest to teachers and students in higher education as well as policy makers and those interested in the current and future state of higher education World University Rankings and the Future of Higher Education Downing, Kevin, Ganotice, Jr., Fraide A., 2016-10-06 Delivering quality education to students while remaining competitive at an international level is only one of the many challenges universities face today To attain their goals universities must adopt new strategies to achieve academic excellence World University Rankings and the Future of Higher Education is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly research on the implementation of a ranking system for higher education institutions providing a thorough overview of the impacts of these rankings on educational quality Exploring the benefits and challenges of this system in a global context this book is ideally designed for academicians researchers students administrators and policy makers interested in the effects of university rankings in the education sector and beyond
