Dictionary of Twentieth-Century British Philosophers Stuart Brown, 2005-06-01 This is a two volume work with entries on individuals who made some contribution to philosophy in the period 1900 to 1960 or soon after The entries deal with the whole philosophical work of an individual or in the case of philosophers still living their whole work to date Typically the individuals included have been born by 1935 and by now have made their main contributions Contributions to the subject typically take the form of books or journal articles but influential teachers and people otherwise important in the world of philosophy may also be included The dictionary includes amateurs as well as professional philosophers and where appropriate thinkers whose main discipline was outside philosophy There are special problems about the term British in the twentieth century partly because of human migration partly because of decolonialization and the changing denotation of the term The intention has been to include not only those who were British subjects at least for a significant part of their lives even if they mostly lived outside what is now the U K but also people who spent a significant part of their lives in Britain itself irrespective of their nationality or country of origin In the first category are included for instance a number of people who were born and educated in Britain but who subsequently taught in universities abroad In the second category are included those who were born elsewhere but who came to Britain and contributed to its philosophical culture

The Dying Soul Cobb, Mark, 2001-01-01 Holistic models of cancer and palliative care frequently refer to spirituality as an important element But what do we mean when we talk about spirituality and how do we provide spiritual care This book sets out an understanding of this complex domain describing how spirituality is experienced and expressed and looks at the impact of terminal illness The author argues that if we are to recognize spirituality as a significant aspect of living and dying then care providers must develop an interesting consistent and effective approach Therefore issues of training policy and practice all need to be addressed Spirituality is often represented as the fourth pillar of palliative care and yet it is often the least developed area in terms of both theory and practice Originating from the author's clinical and teaching experience this book aims to explore the concepts issues and practical implications of spirituality in care

Illusions of Sceptics Jiri Fuchs, 2021-08-31 It is the author's belief that philosophers if they aspire to critical thinking have to start their investigation by embracing the concept of truth as an underlying characteristic of the human thought The cornerstone of the entire Noetics is to construct the apodictic proof of the objective truth which is in the correspondence sense assumed whether they realize it or not even by the most extreme sceptics This proof also refutes the traditional objections purporting that all the attempts at the self explanation of reason inevitably result in dogmatism circular logic or infinite regress Accordingly the verification of truth as a mandatory attribute of the human thought becomes the main benchmark not just for the noetic but for every subsequent philosophical investigation This critical confrontation invalidates the modern theories of knowledge along with their negativistic vein exposing them as basically dogmatic and intrinsically contradictory By providing a liberating distance from the principle authorities of modern philosophy the true Noetics can show that the tragic and anthropologically destructive outcome in the postmodern relativism of values is by no means an indispensable attribute of philosophy proper but just a consequence of the failure of the modern thinkers to pay proper attention to the Noetics

The Grammar of Our Civility Lee T. Percy, 2005 The pragmatic demands of American life have made higher education's sustained study of ancient Greece and Rome an irrelevant luxury and this despite the fact that American democracy depends so heavily on classical language literature and political theory In The Grammar of Our Civility Lee T. Percy chronicles how this came to be Percy argues that classics never developed a distinctly American way of responding to distinctly American social conditions Instead American classical education simply imitated European models that were designed to underwrite European culture The Grammar of Our Civility also offers a concrete proposal for the role of classical education one that takes into account practical expectations for higher education in twenty first century America

Morality, Political Economy and American Constitutionalism Timothy P. Roth, 2007-01-01 The book goes on to explore and expound the Founders desire to promote respect for the moral law their appreciation of the reciprocal relationship between morality and law and their commitment to the promotion of justice in the sense of impartial institutions ideas which find expression in contractarian constitutional political economy

Acts, Intentions, and Moral Evaluation Craig M. White, 2022-12-27 This book argues that the moral quality of an act comes from the agent's inner states By arguing for the indispensable relevance of intention in the moral evaluation of acts the book moves against a mainstream objective approach in normative ethics It is commonly held that the intentions knowledge and volition of agents are irrelevant to the moral permissibility of their acts This book stresses that the capacities of agency rather than simply the label agent must be engaged during an act if its moral evaluation is to be coherent The author begins with an ontological argument that an act is a motion or a causing of change in something else He argues that the source of an act's moral meaning is in the agent specifically what the agent is aware of relevant facts around her aims to accomplish He then moves to a series of critical chapters that consider arguments for mainstream approaches to act evaluation including Thomson's dismissal of the agent knowledge and volition requirements Scanlon's arguments for a derivative relevance of intentions to permissibility Frowe's causal roles of agents in the moral evaluation of acts and Bennett's explicit defense of the objective approach The book concludes by offering the author's preferred replacement for the objective approach an Aristotelian Thomist view of acts Acts

Intentions and Moral Evaluation will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in ethics just war theory the ethics of self defense and philosophy of action      After Atheism Mark Vernon,2016-04-30 If science has replaced God is life necessarily meaningless This book argues that the advances of science and the retreat of religion in secular society does not have to mean a life without spirituality      Key Philosophers in Conversation Andrew Pyle,2002-09-11 Key Philosophers in Conversation is a fascinating collection of interviews presenting the ideas of some of the worlds leading contemporary philosophers Each interview features a discussion with a key philosopher looking at philosophical issues such as the philosophy of mind ethics science political philosophy and the history of philosophy Those interviewed are W V O Quine Michael Dummett Mary Warnock Hilary Putnam Alasdair MacIntyre Daniel Dennett Martha Nussbaum Roger Scruton Bernard Williams Jean Hampton Richard Dawkins Derek Parfit Peter Strawson David Gauthier Hugh Mellor John Cottingham Adam Morton Stefan Korner Richard Sorabji and Nancy Cartwright This book offers an excellent insight to contemporary philosophy and is ideal for anyone seeking an introduction to what is happening in Philosophy today      Faith and Learning David S. Dockery,2012 Two dozen Christian higher education professionals thoroughly explore the question of the faith s place on the university campus whether in administrative matters the broader academic world or in student life      Making God Ann Long,2015-11-26 The great teachers of the Axial Age the Buddha Confucius Zoroaster the Hebrew prophets right down to Jesus began the making of the modern God They re made their inherited gods creating a personal God in their own image We may best celebrate them not by clinging to their creation but by emulating their work Developments in psychology mean that our view of persons is unlike theirs and therefore the God they made can no longer serve as ours We have to make our own So argues Ann Long in this fascinating exploration of personhood religion and moral value The revolutionary decentring of the earth in the universe Galileo was followed by the revolutionary decentring of the human in the biosphere Darwin Now we are living through the even more revolutionary decentring of the I in the world a movement from that which is normal having persons in society to that which is moral loving persons in community      Bridges between Cultures Tomasz Kalaga,2018-10-30 Centred on the metaphor of bridges and knots this volume investigates the dialogic and dialectical relationships between socially dissimilar and topographically distant cultures The contributions here explore various methodological frameworks for discourses and theories that purport to conceptualize cultural spaces which as opposed to objective geographical areas are characterized by the propensity to bind topographical distances by means of symbolic ties and perimeters The chapters address possible juxtapositions and intersections of spatial and temporal dimensions of cultural practice religious and ethical ties and knots between lands and cultures disconnections between historical literary and cultural epochs discourses of cultural entanglement and cultural ensnarement on individual and social levels and the possibilities of raising aesthetic bridges between various cultures in music poetry and visual arts among other topics      Roger Scruton: The Philosopher on Dover Beach Mark Dooley,2009-05-21 An intriguing portrait of Roger Scruton and his philosophy Roger Scruton was one of the outstanding British philosophers of the post war years Why then was he at best ignored and at worst reviled Part of the reason was that he was an unapologetic conservative in the tradition of Edmund Burke That conservative instinct was sharpened during the Paris riots of 1968 From that point on Scruton set himself the task of stridently opposing what he termed the culture of repudiation In so doing he targeted liberals in the tradition of Russell and Mill existentialists like Sartre and post modernists in the fashion of Foucault Here is a brilliant description of Scruton s life and work and a careful analysis of his central ideas Scruton defended an Hegelian and Burkean view of human nature one founded on allegiance to the State as the guarantor of tangible freedom He thus opposed any and all variations of the social contract theory liberal or existential individualism or philosophical theories of the authentic self in isolation from its kind His conservative notion of the nation state was used to reflect upon and criticise the European Union the United Nations and the idea that the Middle East can be reformed along Western democratic lines Scruton argues Mark Dooley was the one British intellectual who courageously rowed against the tide of liberal conviction and arrived at political conclusions the truth of which are becoming more and more obvious This book argues conclusively that Roger Scruton was a prophet for our times The Unreasonable Silence of the World Gary Sauer-Thompson, Joseph Wayne Smith, 2019-05-23 Published in 1997 This book develops a postmodernist critique of philosophy although not the postmodernism of literary philosophers such as Derrida This postmodernism is one of ecological limitationism coupled with a practical common sense realism The authors affirm the reality of life world and the primacy of practice against materialists physicalists and reductionists They attempt to show that orthodox Anglo American analytic philosophy is not merely incapable of completing its own quest to supply a regionally justified system of reality but more importantly it fails as well to meet the challenges of the age

Values, Education and the Human World John Haldane, Bryan Appleyard, David Carr, Mary Midgley, Anthony O'Hear, Richard Pring, Anthony Quinton, Jonathan Sacks, Stewart Sutherland, Mary Warnock, 2011-10-04 The essays in this book consist of revised versions of Victor Cook Memorial Lectures delivered in the universities of St Andrews London Cambridge Aberdeen Oxford Glasgow and Leeds Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation
