Unification of the Fundamental Particle Interactions II John Ellis,2012-12-06 Work on the unification of the fundamental particle interactions has continued vigorously since the first Europhysics study Conference on this subject At that time we emphasized the existence of two main approaches one based on supersymmetry and possibly its local version supergravity and the other approach based on grand unified gauge theories Discussion of the possible tests of these theoretical speculations included experiments on baryon decay and neutrino oscillations In view of the uncertainties surrounding the observability of such phenomena the early Universe was welcomed as a possible Laboratory for testing new theoretical ideas At that time we expressed the hope that the different gauge and super symmetry approaches would cross fertilize each other and it is appropriate to ask now how much of that hope has been realized We believe there has recently been considerable theoretical rapprochement which is amply reflected in these Proceedings On the one hand it has been realized that many of the technical problems in grand unified gauge theories such as arranging the hierarchy of different mass scales may be alleviated using simple global supersymmetry On the other hand there has been growing interest in the possibility that extended supergravity theories may furnish a suitable framework for the unification of all the fundamental particle interactions Many physicists in fact now question actively whether the known fundamental particles are in deed elementary or whether they are composite
