The Andes and the Amazon Charles Reginald Enock, 1907

Planting a City in the Tropical Andes Diego Molina, 2024-09-18 This book reveals how the 19th Century modernisation of Bogot led to a transformation in the social role of plants showing how this city located in the high altitudes of the tropical Andes turned into a floristic island formed by native introduced wild and cultivated plants Urbanisation is one of the main forces behind biodiversity loss

Paradoxically the expansion of cities has made urban environment spaces with a greater numbers of plant species compared to their surrounding areas Planting a City in the Tropical Andes takes a multidisciplinary approach to shed light on the cultural and ecological mechanisms that have transformed modern cities into what can be described as floristic islands By drawing upon a wide array of historical sources this book explains how the 19th century modernization of Bogot Colombia led to the replacement of traditional botanical practices with technical knowledge which in turn endowed the city with a unique floristic inventory Through a unique botanical perspective on Latin American urban history this book uncovers how capitalist dynamics in Bogot transformed plants into providers of clean air and water and their use in the urban landscape contributed to the cultivation of disciplined citizenry Placing plants at the forefront of its narrative the book offers an original contribution to the underexplored history of horticulture in tropical Latin America It serves as a compelling example of how the creative and conflicting forces of the Anthropocene have forged new environments and previously unseen relationships between people and plants This volume will be of great use to scholars and students interested in social history urban environmental histories and cultural history

The Andes Cathy Biggar, John Biggar, 2001 The first comprehensive trekking guide to the Andes Includes descriptions for over 30 of the most popular treks plus many interesting day walks in all 7 countries the mountain chain of the Andes The guidebook contains descriptions for 33 main treks Every trek included has a sketch map of the area and a trek profile indicating heights Each trek is graded and summarised for duration distance total ascent and highest point There is an introductory chapter on trekking in the Andes comparing the different areas and giving advice on planning a trek and general travel advice for South America Each area chapter also has a brief introduction giving details of climate and travel Important towns for accessing the treks are described concentrating on information relevant to the trekker Appendices include flora and fauna information and a glossary of Spanish English terms relevant to trekkers

Removing Barriers to Environmental Comfort in the Global South Laura Marín-Restrepo, Alexis Pérez-Fargallo, María Beatriz Piderit-Moreno, Maureen Trebilcock-Kelly, Paulina Wegertseder-Martínez, 2023-05-11 This book describes how comfort energy and climate change in developing countries and vulnerable sectors of the population relate to buildings The building sector is currently facing significant challenges connected to energy consumption energy poverty and climate change effects When studied in developing countries and vulnerable sectors of the population these factors which are commonplace in the tropics and the southern hemisphere are interlinked and share a critical component environmental comfort Although progress has been made in environmental comfort through research and the development of standards and policies at the international level in the Global South where the countries with the highest levels of income inequality are concentrated environmental comfort has its own characteristics and challenges that prevent a clear understanding from the established vision of the Global North This book presents research theories and techniques related to Thermal comfort Indoor air quality Visual comfort and Acoustic comfort and its relationship with energy use and energy efficiency seeking to address different barriers to environmental comfort. It shows how to improve the way buildings are designed and operated to promote healthier environmental conditions and more sustainable construction by presenting studies and reflections carried out in the target geographical area, the Global South. In this way, this book contributes to developing the concept of environmental comfort, visualising how progress has been made in understanding it from a tropical and southern perspective and posing common challenges. The book is intended for engineers, architects and researchers of the built environment who are interested in environmental comfort and its influence on energy consumption, energy poverty and other related factors in the Global South context. It is also a useful resource for decision makers and public policy developers concerned with the indoor comfort of buildings. Moreover, the book aims to provide guidance for those in developing countries by gathering existing knowledge in the field for the tropics and southern hemisphere climatic and sociocultural contexts, allowing us to move forward in this subject with actions and proposed solutions that fit our particular needs. Anderson's Travel

Companion Compiled by Sarah Anderson, 2016-12-05. A selection of the best in travel writing with both fiction and non-fiction presented together, this companion is for all those who like travelling, like to think about travelling and who take an interest in their destination. It covers guidebooks as well as books about food, history, art and architecture, religion, outdoor activities, illustrated books, autobiographies, biographies and fiction, and lists books both in and out of print. Anderson's Travel Companion is arranged first by continent, then alphabetically by country, and then by subject, cross-referenced where necessary. There is a separate section for guidebooks and comprehensive indexes. Sarah Anderson founded the Travel Bookshop in 1979 and is also a journalist and writer on travel subjects. She is known by well-known travel writers such as Michael Palin and Colin Thubron. Michael Palin chose her bookshop as his favourite shop, and Colin Thubron and Geoffrey Moorhouse, among others, made suggestions for titles to include in the Travel Companion. How Geography Shaped the Rise and Fall of Civilizations Ahmed Musa, 2025-01-02. Geography has had a profound impact on the development of human civilizations. This book explores how the natural environment—rivers, mountains, coastlines and climate—has influenced the rise, expansion and eventual decline of some of the world's most powerful civilizations. From the fertile crescent to the Andes, learn how geography dictated the resources available, the movement of people and the creation of infrastructure. This book offers a compelling examination of the role geography has played in shaping human history and the destiny of empires.
