Higher Ground One Woman's Journey:

Higher Ground Joy Jones, 1999 Outlasting the Trail Mary Barmeyer O'Brien, 2005-06-01 Mary Rockwood Powers reluctantly left her comfortable life as a doctor's wife in Wisconsin in 1856 one of the many women whose destiny as a settler of the West was determined by her husband's wishes Trading in her home for canvas roof and wheels Mary her husband and their three children set out on the arduous trek westward to California Shortly into their travels west it became painfully obvious that Doctor Powers was simply not up to the task of making sure his family outlasted the trail Mary had to step in and become the head of the household with its canvas roof and wheels leaving behind her ideals of femininity along with her beloved possessions In Outlasting the Trail author Mary Barmeyer O'Brien uses the letters Mary Rockwood Powers wrote to her mother and sister back home as a stepping off point to further illuminate this remarkable woman's story Based on the dramatic struggle a real family this novel brings to life a fascinating slice of American history One Woman's War and Peace Sharon Bown, 2016-11-01 After the Flash Linda Rosenbery, 2020-11-15 This historical narrative reveals the life of Linda a young woman struggling to come to grips with her rudderless existence of her stumbling back to her hometown after a failed marriage and having to face the judgments of a stoic Japanese mother Chieko's life is in stark contrast having survived the most horrific last days of World War II and having come of age in occupied Japan where she made a living working in a hostess club serving drinks and dancing with servicemen Linda wants to write her mother's story and Chieko always says no But then something happens between Chieko and Linda as they begin to bond through Linda's apprenticeship in Chieko's flower garden On those gardening days after the work is done they sit at the kitchen table where Chieko quite openly weaves for her daughter the threads of her life including her determination to survive Linda at times feels traumatized by her mother Chieko's descriptions of the war and most of the time Linda ends her kitchen table talks and heads to the local bar to get drunk One spring day in the fourth year of their kitchen table talks Chieko says to Linda as they sip scotch If you really must tell my story tell it like the playwright Eugene O'Neill because he knew sadness Even though Linda hears it in her mother's voice each time she speaks about her life the sorrow in her tone routinely breaks Linda down But Chieko is funny too with stories of coming of age at a time in Japan when most believed romance and life in paradise was a promise made in American films brought in by the occupation Chieko's hopes and dreams of life in the States with a handsome hero are penned on a photograph of herself that she gives to her American lover as he heads back to the States It is a simple note that reads I promise my eternal love Of all the lovely traits mothers and daughters can have in common one of theirs isn't so lovely They both don't keep promises Higher Ground Charlotte Crabaugh, 2011-07-19 This is the life story of an inconspicuous American and the lessons learned from many beginnings and endings On the cutting edge of the boomer generation she relates an eventful life With rural beginnings in small towns in Missouri to Springfield and college in Kansas City in the chaotic 60s where she met the persons who would exert a defining influence on the rest of her life The saga opens a window into the rock band and underground culture of the early 70s in Los Angeles and continues with a back to the land experiment in Missouri From hippie to transitory white collar respectability birth death and each transition is guided by a powerful dream that haunts and informs at every turn Full of life long friends and lifelong learnings this book sheds light on the changes we are all going through

Sojourns of the Soul Dana Micucci,2011-10-11 Sojourns of the Soul differs from other inspirational travel books by providing a rare mix of in depth wisdom and literary insights from the holistic view of one experienced female traveler Dana Micucci gives a compelling account of her growing spiritual illumination through visits to some of the most sacred places on earth Her lively engaging narrative takes us to seven sites in all the Australian outback Angkor in Cambodia the Valley of the Kings in Egypt Lhasa in Tibet Chichen Itza in the Yucatan the Monastery of Christ in the Desert in New Mexico and Machu Picchu in Peru Micucci links each visit with the awakening of a particular chakra the chakras being the seven energy centers of the body associated in Hinduism with progressive enlightenment In the afterword she reflects on how her experiences continue to shape her life after resuming her career as a journalist in New York City she finds she is more tolerant can engage in daily activities with more heart centered awareness and can sustain states of joy and gratitude for longer periods of time The book will be a page turner for readers who yearn for long delayed adventure with the added benefit that it is not just a journey log but more of a seeker s manual travel is simply the vehicle Readers will find that they don t have to travel to far flung places for the spiritual inspiration available in their everyday lives As Micucci says Each day brings new remembrances of our divinity of the Divine presence in all beings and of our eternal connection to each other I am so grateful to be here NOW with you

Winter Pasture Li Juan,2021-02-23 Named one of The Washington Post's Best Travel Books of 2021 Winter Pasture is Li Juan's crowning achievement shattering the boundaries between nature writing and personal memoir Smithsonian Magazine Li Juan spent minus 20 degree nights with nomadic herders in the Chinese steppes You'll want to join her Laura Miller Slate

Deeply moving full of humor introspection and glimpses into a vanishing lifestyle The New York Times Book Review Winner of the People's Literature Award WINTER PASTURE has been a bestselling book in China for several years Li Juan has been widely lauded in the international literary community for her unique contribution to the narrative non fiction genre WINTER PASTURE is her crowning achievement shattering the boundaries between nature writing and personal memoir Li Juan and her mother own a small convenience store in the Altai Mountains in Northwestern China where she writes about her life among grasslands and snowy peaks To her neighbors surprise Li decides to join a family of Kazakh herders as they take their 30 boisterous camels 500 sheep and over 100 cattle and horses to pasture for the winter The so called winter pasture occurs in a remote region that stretches from the Ulungur River to the Heavenly Mountains As she journeys across the vast seemingly endless sand dunes she helps herd sheep rides horses chases after camels builds an underground home using manure gathers snow for water and more With a keen eye for the understated elegance of the natural world and a healthy dose of self deprecating humor Li vividly captures both the extraordinary hardships and the ordinary preoccupations of the day to day of the men and women struggling to get by in this desolate landscape Her companions include Cuma the often drunk but mostly responsible father his teenage daughter Kama who feels the burden of the world on her shoulders and dreams of going to college his reticent wife a paragon of decorum against all odds who is simply known as sister in law In bringing this faraway world to English language readers here for the first time Li creates an intimate bond with the rugged people the remote places and the nomadic lifestyle In the signature style that made her an international sensation Li Juan transcends the travel memoir genre to deliver an indelible and immersive reading experience on every page
