Principles and Practice of Geriatric Psychiatry Marc E. Agronin, Gabe J. Maletta, 2006 Written by noted authorities in geriatric psychiatry this volume is a clinically oriented guide to the diagnostic workup and treatment of psychiatric and neuropsychiatric disorders in elderly patients The book describes in detail the neurologic and neuropsychiatric patient assessment and the use of all treatment modalities both psychotherapeutic and pharmacologic in elderly patients Chapters discuss the treatment of disorders in all clinical settings inpatient outpatient emergency primary care assisted living and long term care Algorithms for workup and treatment are included as well as case studies and personal accounts by patients and care providers Appendices provide drug information and additional resources Geriatric Palliative Care R. Sean Morrison, Diane E. Meier, 2003-05-08 Geriatric Palliative Care covers a broad spectrum of issues characterizing care near the end of life for older adults Beginning with the social and cultural context of old age and frailty this volume details specific aspects of palliative care relevant to particular disorders e g cancer strokes dementia etc as well as individual symptoms e g pain fatigue anxiety etc Communication between care givers and patients in a variety of settings is also discussed The theme of this book is that palliative care is the best approach to the care of chronically ill and frail elderly because of its focus on quality of life support for functional independence and the centrality of the patient s values and experiences in determining the goals of medical care Indeed Geriatric Palliative Care provides a comprehensive medical reference for all clinicians who care for older adults Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 20, 2000, 2000-10-25 The study of the end of life has become a major focus on medicine the social sciences ethics and religion This volume brings together the latest research on issues around death and dying life s attributes as it nears death planning and preparation for death and care and intervention related issues This evidence based finding of this volume will help shape how we approach the topic for years to come Treatment of End-stage Non-cancer Diagnoses Shirley Ann Smith, 2001

Decision Making Near the End of Life James L. Werth Jr., Dean Blevins, 2008-10-20 Decision Making near the End of Life provides a comprehensive overview of the recent developments that have impacted decision making processes within the field of end of life care The most current developments in all aspects of major underlying issues such as public attitudes the impact of media bioethics and legal precedent provide the background information for the text The authors examine various aspects of end of life choices and decision making including communication between and among family medical personnel the dying person advance directives and the emergence of hospice and palliative care institutions The book also explores a variety of psychosocial considerations that arise in decision making including religion spirituality family caregiving disenfranchised and diverse groups and the psychological and psychiatric problems that can impact both the dying person and loved ones Case studies and first person stories about decision making written by professionals in the field bring a uniquely personal touch to this valuable text Palliative Care in Neurology Raymond Voltz, Marianne de Visser, David Oliver, 2020-03-10 Over the last 50 years palliative care has usually been associated with cancer patients but more recently there has been increased discussion of the role of palliative care for neurological patients In the past years neurology has moved from being a purely diagnostic area to a very therapeutically active one A further step needs to be taken to modify the therapeutic activity from cure to care depending on the patient's disease trajectory Palliative care has been associated with care at the end of life whereas it may be appropriate earlier in the disease progression and will extend after death in the support of bereaved families The care of patients with neurological disease and their families will encompass the psychological spiritual and existential issues and neurologists and the teams in which they work should develop skills to consider all aspects of care in order to maximize the quality of life of all involved and enable patients to die peacefully

Diagnosis and Management of Alzheimer's Disease and Other Dementias Robert C. Green, 2004-12 Differential diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease dementia and delirium diagnostic tests in differential diagnosis and identifying underlying conditions that can cause dementia are discussed Covers drugs to treat cognitive symptoms management of agitation and behavioral symptoms patient management and support services Geriatric Medicine Christine K. Cassel, Rosanne Leipzig, Harvey Jay Cohen, Eric B. Larson, Diane E. Meier, 2006-05-29 Since the publication of the third edition of Geriatric Medicine extraordinary advances have occurred in the science of aging and the potential for biomedical research to give us answers to many if not most of the age related disorders that threaten the quality of life in older years At the most basic level the successful mapping of the human genome was declared complete in the fall of 2000 Understanding the map of the human genome is as important as understanding the map of genomes of important laboratory species ranging from the microscopic worms and fruit flies used in most classic genetic studies to rodents such as laboratory mice and eventually to primates on which much of the research on the aging human brain is done The genetic maps of all of these species including our own does not answer clinical questions but it does open the door to dramatic rapid and efficient answers to questions about the genetic polymorphisms related to diseases in humans The telomerase story also unfolded since the third edition Telomerase is an enzyme responsible for maintaining the telomeres the redundant DNA portions at the end of chromosomes whose shortening seems to be linked directly to cell senescence apoptosis and the control over cell death which at the level of the individual cell seems to be linked to the decline of organ function and eventually aging and death within the organism
