Hospital Based Palliative Care Teams The Hospital Hospice Interface:

Hospital-based Palliative Care Teams Robert J. Dunlop, J. M. Hockley, 1998 Since the 1st edition of this guide to palliative care the number of teams working in hospitals has grown rapidly Although the team based approach is widely accepted there is still a need for information which this guide provides Hospital-based Palliative Care Teams Robert J. Dunlop, J. M. Hockley, 1998 When the first edition of this book Terminal Care Support Teams the hospital hospice interface 1990 was written there were only a few advisory palliative care teams working in hospitals Since then the number of teams has grown rapidly The concept of these teams is now widely accepted but there is an increased need for information about setting up a team how they work and how effective they are This book looks at the need for hospital based palliative care teams and the challenges of bringing palliative care into the acute hospital setting It reviews the needs of patients their families and their professional carers and also looks at the theoretical and practical problems which may be encountered For example there is practical advice on setting up hospital based palliative care teams the selection of team members as well as coverage of team dynamics and the role of the pain clinic and palliation oncology Journal of the National Cancer Institute, 1999 Each issue is packed with extensive news about important cancer related science policy politics and people Plus there are editorials and reviews by experts in the field book reviews and commentary on timely topics
