Hospitality Review A Capstone Text Complete With Senior And Graduate Level Projects By Lefever:

Hospitality in Review Michael M. Lefever, 1996 The Competitive Destination J. R. Brent Ritchie, Geoffrey Ian Crouch, 2003 The purpose of this book is to provide a framework for understanding the complex and multifaceted nature of the factors that affect destination competitiveness It provides guidance on how to create successful destinations by developing and presenting a conceptual model of destination competitiveness that recognizes the importance of sustainability for long term success The book is both theoretically sound and managerially useful It is intended to appeal to both academic researchers and industry professionals and practitioners Anyone with an interest in the enhancement of a destination s competitiveness from nations to small towns or regions will find this book invaluable American Book Publishing Record , 1996 Instructor's Manual to Accompany Hospitality in Review Lefever, 1995-07-01 Hospitality in Review , 1996 Hospitality Management Matt A Casado, 2024-12-16 The purpose of Hospitality Management A Capstone Course is to provide instructors of senior seminar courses with the necessary tools to teach the last class of the hospitality curriculum Usually offered in the last semester before graduation this capstone course is aimed at preparing students for joining the industry generally as manager trainees In most cases students in senior seminars have completed the majority of their professional core and general education requirements As part of these courses they have worked on numerous projects outside the classroom have listened to industry guest speakers and have conducted several in situ property inspections At this juncture in their education students are actively interviewing for jobs or have already been hired by companies It is the time to recall all they have learned before putting the mostly theoretical knowledge acquired into practice Because senior seminar students often have difficulty staying on task in the classroom but need to be primed for their imminent job entry into the industry I recommend what might be called a workshop approach that follows topic discussions in class and encourages the resolution of applied cases individually or through groupings of students of mixed ability The operational situations and cases provided throughout this book illustrate real life challenges and decisions that lower and mid level managers face The senior seminar offers the last opportunity for students to review refine and demonstrate the essential skills needed to get a job and to succeed in the industry from competency in creative problem solving critical thinking and effective oral and written communication to ethical reasoning quantitative analyses and the use of technology After all the majority of graduating students will have to put these concepts into practice in a very short period of time Graduate business programs with an emphasis in hospitality can use this book as an introduction to graduate courses The book could provide a useful compendium of the knowledge necessary to access graduate level courses for students joining these programs on completion of a bachelor s degree or on entering the program directly from the industry Although it is not intended as a test tool or as an in depth and comprehensive study the book can nevertheless be used as a pragmatic means for the assessment of hospitality college programs by requiring students to keep individual portfolios of work performed in the senior seminar class Thus hotel and restaurant management administrators can obtain academic feedback to measure the outcomes of their programs of study From the information gathered program directors can readjust curricular contents and teaching methods to improve instruction
