Designing Commercial Interiors Christine M. Piotrowski, Elizabeth A. Rogers, IIDA, 2010-01-26 The definitive reference on designing commercial interiors expanded and updated for today's facilities Following the success of the ASID Polsky Prize Honorable Mention in 1999 authors Christine Piotrowski and Elizabeth Rogers have extensively revised this guide to planning and designing commercial interiors to help professionals and design students successfully address today's trends and project requirements This comprehensive reference covers the practical and aesthetic issues that distinguish commercial interiors There is new information on sustainable design security and accessibility three areas of increased emphasis in modern interiors An introductory chapter provides an overview of commercial interior design and the challenges and rewards of working in the field and stresses the importance of understanding the basic purpose and functions of the client's business as a prerequisite to designing interiors. This guide also gives the reader a head start with eight self-contained chapters that provide comprehensive coverage of interior design for specific types of commercial facilities ranging from offices to food and beverage facilities and from retail stores to health care facilities. Each chapter is complete with a historical overview, types of facilities, planning and interior design elements, design applications, a summary, references, and Web sites. New design applications covered include spas in hotels, bed and breakfast inns, coffee shops, gift stores, and salons, courthouses and courtrooms, and golf clubhouses. In keeping with the times, there are new chapters focusing on senior living facilities and on restoration and adaptive use. A chapter on project management has been revised and includes everything from proposals and contracts to scheduling and documentation. Throughout the book, design application discussions, illustrations, and photographs help both professionals and students solve problems and envision and implement distinctive designs for commercial interiors. With information on licensing codes and regulations along with more than 150 photographs and illustrations, this combined resource and instant reference is a must-have for commercial interior design professionals, students, and those studying for the NCIDQ licensing exam. HLM50+ Towards a Social Architecture Tony Monk, 2017-07-06. Since its sudden and dramatic formation upon winning the competition to design Paisley Civic Centre in 1963, Hutchison Locke and Monk HLM Architects has consistently served and adapted to the changing requirements of Britain's welfare state and has instinctively dedicated its professional services to community architecture. Conceived from the perspective of founding partner Tony Monk, this book reveals the inside story of how the partnership has grown over 50 years to become a leading UK national practice. It sets out the early influences and progressive design philosophy of HLM Architects and analyses how they developed their design ethos from late modern through contextual post-modern architectural styles by the early 1980s and then matured into producing its own contemporary designs, explaining why these changes took place over that period. As well as reflecting the transformations in the social and political landscapes and in aesthetic approaches, it also inevitably records the changing social history of the architectural profession from labour-intensive manual presentations using drafting pens and drawing boards through to the slick mass-produced computer modelling that accompanied the digital revolution and the fundamental adjustments needed to meet the realities of managing an efficient modern commercial business. Working with the HLM Board, the authoritative contributors are Directors who have used their knowledge and experience in responding to government legislation with innovative architectural solutions in their specialist fields. HLM Chairman Christopher Liddle is a leading exponent of defence and custodial procurement alongside Caroline Buckingham in education and Leslie Welch in healthcare Their award winning projects now help formulate current policy The critical Introduction by Dr Edward Denison re examines the practice s philosophy and contribution to the evolving welfare state during the second half of the twentieth century The conclusion is a perceptive assessment of the future direction of the architectural profession and a statement of HLM s continuing commitment to improving our society The complex relationships described shed new light on previous architectural theories and in doing so this book adds to the knowledge of post war British architecture Administrative Services and Facilities for Hospitals United States. Health Care Facilities Service,1972 Design and Care in Hospital Planning Alan Dilani,1999 The thesis has three levels analysis On the first level the architectural development of the hospital is illustrated from an overall historical perspective On the second level nine different wards are analysed from the perspective of the physical environment The third level includes an description and a discussion of the planning of the Regional Hospital in Trondheim RIT 2000 The intention has been to look at it from an overall planning perspective in order to throw light on the planning and production problems of a large hospital Hospital Builders Tony Monk,2004-06-25 This book offers a comprehensive appraisal of 32 case studies covering significant healthcare projects in Britain and around the world Each is thoroughly analysed with a critical description plans illustrations and photographs to provide creative information that is of assistance to architects contractors and managers and all those involved in the procurement and subsequent occupation of the facilities The ideas and examples are amplified through an exploration of the historical achievement present circumstances and potential future direction of the modern progressive health service A central theme throughout the book is the abiding importance of high quality hospital architecture and the therapeutic benefits to be gained by friendly human healthcare environments Public Health Service Publication ,1963
